The ladies of Pittaburg do not intend to sllow the Chicago girls to enjoy undisturbed their pre-eminence for big feet. Mrs. Langtry, who wears No. 4's, sent the buff shoes which she wears as Rosalind to a shop for repairs, whereupon there was a rush of Pittsburg belles to the shop to try them on, and out of the crowd there was only one who could get her feet into them.

"And what, in the name of goodness, is this?" asked Mrs. David Davis, as the Senator lugged something into the room and dropped it at her feet, "This is my shirt darling, and I will be greatly obliged if you will sew on a button for me." "David Davis," said the lady sternly, "when you bring me your shirt I will sew on a button for you with pleasure, as becomes a fond and dutiful wife, but just now, sir, I must insist upon your removing this circus can was from my apartment."

The census used to be regarded with sort of awe as containing, in a compact form, full and perfect information upon every subject connected with the ess of our country, but it fallen into disrepute, as appears from the following from the Washington

The Louisiana Election Franc Cases. NEW URLEANS, March 27 .- The elec New Orleans, March 27.—The elec-tion fraud cases were resumed to-day, a large crowd being present. A number of witnesses were examined, many of whom had registered but did not vote, though their names were on the returns as having voted, and their registration papers were not marked "voted," all of which was filed in evidence. The names of parties who had died before the election were marked as having voted by the acquired on the poll list. Certifi-cates of death were were filed by Dis-trict Attorney Leonard. Buckley, deputy sheriff, who served as supervisor, swore he could not iden-tify his own signature on the tally sheets. This afternoon he was arrested for perjury, but was released on bail. John Bader, brother of one of the accused, was supervisor, representing the Democratic party. He testified that be did not know his brother's signature.

Reduction in the Price of Whiskey. CINCINNATI, March 27 .- The price of whiskey was lowered two cents to-day by order of the manager of the whiskey pool. This action was accompanied by pool. This action was accompanied by a rumor of a dissolution of the pool, but President Miller says there is no cause for trouble; that the pool is as strong now as ever, and that the disastrous failures which have occurred of late, together with the demoralization in Kentucky, make the existence of the pool more important than ever. It is the only safety of the business so long as the dattle are in the stables. He attributes the decline to the fall in corn, and says he has thought $1 14 too high for some time. The pool leaves the price of spirits and other goods subject to such fluctuations as manufacturers choose to make,

A Supposed Escaped Convict Arrested and Released.

Louis Schenck, colored, yesterday made affidavit to the police that one Jim Odum, a convict who had escaped from the penitentiary at Columbia, South Carolina, was lounging about the city. Schenck said he knew the man, and was certain of him. Upon this representation the police arrested Odum, and carried him before Capt. R. P. Waring, Justice of the Peace, for a hearing. Col. H. C. Jones was employed to represent the prisoner, and the result of the examination was that Odum was critered to be discharged from custody. School failed to identify the man to the satisfaction of the justice, and as a reward for his good intentions was required to pay the costs in the case,

When Judge MacRae adjourned the last term of Mecklenburg Superior Court, he took home with him the papers in the cases of Chalk and the Railroad, and the Brookfield attachment, and yesterday Capt. John Irwin, clerk of the Superior Court, received his decisions. Judge MacRae decided to set aside the verdict in the Chalk case, and the railroad will consequently get still another trial. This is twice Chalk has won, in the first instance the railroad appealing to the Supreme Court, which sent the case back for a new trial. At the second trial Chalk once more gain-ed the suit, and now he has to fight the battle over again. In the case of the attachment on the clothing house of Mr. John Brookfield, Judge MacRae rendered a decision dissolving the attachment.

The Mystery Solved.

The mystery attending the remarkable foot-print recently discovered on the suburbs of the city has been satistactorily explained by a citizen of Winston, who writes us a letter on the subject. The foot-print, our readers will remember, was of giant proportions, about three times the simple an ordist-ry manis fout. Our Winston friend writes that the great track or root print, about which there was so much curiosity and interest taken several weeks ago, and which has remained a hidden mystery to all, has been very satisfactorily explained to me by a gentleman from Forsyth county, who writes that a very talented and distinguished young member of the Winston bar has been on a recent visit to Charlotte, and walked out a little while there. The explanation is perfectly satisfactory. We see it now. A foot is much more than 12 inches, Forsyth measure."

Township That is Moving Right. Steel Creek township, this county, is coming to the front as the model township, not only of the county, but of the State. Yesterday two of her citizens placed an order with one of our leading hardware firms for two cord binding reaping machines, at a cost of $300 each, and about one dozen more of the same sort will be bought this season by the farmers of that township. Besides this, they are buying the improved sulky place. The Steel Creek farmers are toming their whole attention to mising small grain, and are touching cotton extremely lightly. The land in this township is the finest in all the county. It is as level and rolling as a prairie, and is splendidly adapted to the production of wheat and oats. This new move of her farmers is the very one they should have made long ago, and means less farm hire, bigger granaries and stables, and well filled meat houses. We hope the day is not distant when the whole county will be following Step Oreeks example V 1 S 9 2

Mr. Frederick Moles arranged the decorations and his taste and skill were highly complimented. The Purim Ball -- $20 for the Home and

The Purim ball given Monday night at the Pleasure Club rooms by the Hebrew young people of the city, was one of the most pleasant affairs of the kind ever given in Charlotte. The old folks did not turn out in full force, but this did not seriously detract from the pleasure of the gay party. At 12 o'clock, the hop was turned into a german which was continued until three o'clock in the morning. The receipts from the sale of tickets amounted to $20, and this sum was turned over to the Home and Hospital in this city. The committee of arrangements, Mesars E. J. Rintels, Julius Schiff and A. L. Drucker, and the floor committee, Messrs S. Landecker, L. N. Schiff and S. Price Elias, desire to return their thanks to the Pleasure Club for the free use of their rooms.

Mr. B. P. Boyd, one of our old and well known citizens has leased the Piedmont Hotel, at King's Mountain, and will take charge of it this week. Mr. Boyd is an experienced hotelist and is well known to the traveling public as proprietor of the old Metropolitan Hotel in this city. He knows how to run a hotel and will please the guests of the Piedmont the coming summer. Mr. Will Boyd, his son, will assist him in the management of the hotel. A Had Dog Bites Its Man.

The mad dog excitement in Steel Creek township has reached its climax. A colored boy has actually been bitten by a rabid dog and the people are up in arms against the whole canine race. The bitten boy is a ten-year-old son of Andy McGill, and yesterday morning when he went to give the cow her morning's supply of shucks the dog was found lying in the shuck pile. As the boy reached down to gather up an armful of the shucks the animal jumped at him and bit him on the arm. Dr. J. M. Strong was summoned and he immediately cut out the flesh around the bite and then cauterized the wound. A messenger was sent to the city for Mr. John T. Butler's mad stone which was applied to the bite under directions sent by Mr. Butler. Since the application of the mad stone the boy's parents. and friends have had a great load lifted from their minds, and have no fears whatever of the boy ever going mad. The rabid animal was killed after being shot several times. It bit a number of dogs in the neighborhood, all of which are now being kept tied up. It's certain death for a stray dog to show his head in Steel Creek township.

Magical Effect of the Wizard Oil. Among the many specimens of suffering humanity who laid themselves under the balm that was guaranteed to follow an application of the wizard oil, was Rev. Burwell Johnston, who bared his back before the eyes of a curious crowd eager to see the result. Burwell was sumering with a pain along his spinal solumn that was so great at times that he couldn't bend over far enough to see the toes of his feet. The oil had no more than touched his hide before he felt better and to prove how beneficial the oil really was, he stooped beneficial the dil really was, he stooped down and picked up a pin, a feat which he had not accomplished in six months.

Half an hour after the application of the oil, a small colored boy was seen streaking along College street with Burwell in hot purmit. The boy was Burwell's son and Burwell caught him in real of the Central Hotel and larruped him good with a barrel stave. The son had degenerated generally and Burwell under the magic influence of the oil felt inclined to chastise him. even if it did require a race to catch

The Old Dominion Disabled at Sea. NEW YORK, March 27 .- The steamship Old Dominion, of the Old Dominion Line, was towed to dock last evening disabled. Capt. Walker reports that he sailed from Norfolk Saturday evening, weather line. All went well until about 7 o'clock Sunday morning, when the steamship was off Fenwick Island. A shock was then suddenly feit throughout the vessel, and it was found that the centre pin of the walking beam had been broken. The machinery was now useless, and as the spars of the Old Dominion were quite small, but very little canvas could be spread. The sea was smooth, and the steamer did not roll badly. There were 25 cabin pas-sengers on board. Shortly after the machinery had become disabled the steamer Canada, bound to Baltimore from one of the New England ports, was sighted, and signals of distress were shown. The Canada approached, and her master agreed to tow the disabled Old Dominion into this port. Boats were lowered and hawsers passed between the two vessels. The Canada then steamed up, and the weather con-tinuing fair, she towed Old Dominion steadily until 4 o'clock yesterday afternoon, when Sandy Hook was reached Tugs then took hold of the disabled vessel and brought her to the dock. Gen. Porter Disbands His Forces More Rutcheries. ST. Louis, Mo, March 27 .- A special dispatch from Muskogee, Indian Territory, says Gen. Porter has disbanded his forces and they have gone home with the exception of a few scouts, leaving the United States troops to capture Spiecho and his men. At last accounts they had not yet arrived at his camp, fifteen miles west of the Sac and Fox agency. No doubt he will surrender to them without resistance, as he would have done to the Creeks had he not been afraid that he would have been ill-treated. Sleeping Rabbit was killed while trying to escape last Wednesday. A detachment of Thorp's army discovered some of Spiecho's whereabouts and his forces, but as he would tell nothing they took him out and shot him dead. There are rumors here of more killing on the same plan, but there is noth-ing authentic. News reached here last night of another killing near Eufaula last week. About 20 Chicotes left that place and they discovered a Spiecho named Rehocly Haige and without more ado riddled him with bullets. Dr. L. A. Bikle, D. D., formerly Presdent of Mt.
