According to the News & Observer

the State Senate will stand 43 Democrats, and 5 Republicans, with 1 Dis-the Legislature stood four years ago. Should the Republicans gain in some of these doubtful counties the Legis-four years ago. As matters stand there is practically no change in the state and with the exception of one Congressman the Republicans have made no gains in North Carolina.

The Eighth District has Gone Republican by a Small Majority for Spencer. Vote Close and Unknown.

Yesterday it looked as though Blackburn had been elected and this morning it still looks that way. It will take a close count of the vote of the several counties to give the majority, which cannot be much. Blackburn on yesterday claimed his election by more than 1000, while there were claims of more than this. A telegram from Mr. Newland to THE TRIBUNE stated that from returns received by the Democratic candidate he thought he would have a majority of 500. that General Stoessel, in command of Telegrams received last night made the situation look very much like Blackburn has defeated Newland.

Blackburn Being Congratulated.

Telegrams of congratulation have been sent to Mr. Blackburn by friends through out the district. His friends are jubilant over his election. The fact that many prominent Republicans of the district were opposed to Blackburn and continued their opposition to the last is taken as an extra reason for the joy in which Blackburn and his friends are indulging in. vember 6th demolished a land mine at local Republican who was one of the anti-Blackburn men said that he felt all along that Blackburn would be elected, that he had heard from Republibans who in their heart were bitter against the man who yet saw all along that he would be elected sure.

of 1,700. Democrats do not accept this, and say it will require the official count to decide the contest. News was received here tonight that the two precincts in Mount Airy, Surry county, would probably be thrown out, and if that is done Blackburn will lose the county. Otherwise he has 200 majority.—Charlotte Observer.
