DEATH OF LOUIS DUVAL.

Former Citizen of Concord Died Last Night About 7 O'clock at Henrietta—Deceased Well Known in Concord.

A telegram received last night about 8 o'clock announced the death of Mr. Louis Duval, formerly of Concord, which occurred at Henrietta last evening, presumably just a short while before the message was received here.

This announcement will bring genuine sorrow to all Concord where Mr. Duval formerly lived and where he has had so many friends. The message announcing his death was not expected and was a shock to friends and relatives in this city. Mr. Duval has been in bad health and had resigned his position as superintendent of the mills, expecting to move to Charlotte where he had bought property. Several years ago he had a stroke of paralysis from which he was thought to have recovered. The message received last night did not give any particulars. Mr. Duval was 58 years of age. He was twice married. His first wife died in Concord and about six years ago he was married to Miss Lizzie Gray, of Concord, who, with three small children, survive. Two older children of the first wife living are Mr. Robert Duval, now of Charlotte, and Mrs. Fred Swink, of Virginia.

Mr. Duval was for several years superintendent of the Cannon mills. In Concord he was greatly liked and highly esteemed. He was a man of the strictest integrity, high honor and high character. He was possessed of a strong mind and was a leader in affairs of church and state.

Before coming to Concord he served as a member of the legislature of Georgia and held always a high place in the esteem and favor of his fellow men.

Mr. Duval was a member of the Methodist church to which he gave freely of his time and talent, industriously serving in all positions placed and doing a high grade of service, which came from a strong mind and body and a noble heart. Truly a good man has departed and nowhere will his death be more universally mourned than in Concord where he gave some of the best years of his life.

The remains will be buried in Charlotte tomorrow morning at 9 o'clock.

SHOT BY GEO. GOULD.

New York Millionaire Accidentally Shot Into Man Instead of Birds.

Ed. Burns was accidentally shot and seriously injured by George Gould, the New York millionaire, at the latter's hunting preserve near High Point yesterday. About twenty birds shot entered his head near the eye and it is feared Burns will lose his eyesight. It was understood here that Burns and Gould were hunting, when Gould shot at some birds in a clump of bushes. Mr. Burns was on the other side and was struck by the shot. It was purely accidental and Mr. Gould is very much wrought up over the matter.

It was first decided to send Burns to the hospital in this city for treatment, but it was later decided to send him to New York. He passed through here on train No. 36 yesterday en route to New York. It is very likely that Burns will lose the sight of the eye near which the shot entered and Mr. Gould sent him to New York, hoping the sight could be saved.

Mrs. Gould took especial interest in the treatment of the man. Mr. and Mrs. Gould and others came down to High Point yesterday morning for several days' hunting on Mr. Gould's large hunting preserve near the town. Mr. and Mrs. Gould will not return to New York for several days.—Greensboro Telegram, 17th.

A gentleman was in the city yesterday advertising a new game. It is on the boomerang style. He would throw the object straight away from him and it would return in a roundabout way. He created quite a lot of amusement for the onlookers.

OF A SOCIAL NATURE.

Cards Out Announcing the Wedding of Miss Lee to Mr. Cannon—Last Night's Marriage.

Cards were received today announcing the marriage of Miss Mattie Lee, of Goldsboro, to Mr. David Francis Cannon, of this city:

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Lee requests the honor of your presence at the marriage of their daughter Mattie to Mr. David Franklin Cannon on Wednesday forenoon November thirtieth nineteen hundred and four at eleven o'clock at First Presbyterian church Goldsboro North Carolina

The wedding of this highly esteemed and most popular young couple will be an event of interest throughout the State where each have many friends. Miss Lee is well known in Concord, where she has frequently visited and made a wide circle of admiring friends. She is one of the most widely known and greatly admired young women of the State, known and loved for her many personal charms and exceeding attractive manners. Mr. Cannon is a promising young business man of Concord, a member of the Browns-Cannon Co., and enjoys the high esteem of all Concord and Cabarrus. After the wedding, which will be attended by many friends from Concord, they will return to Concord, where Miss Lee will be warmly and cordially welcomed as Mrs. Cannon.

The Study Club will be entertained Friday afternoon by Mrs. J. M. Craven, on Spring street.

Members of the D. O. K. in Concord have received very late and unique invitations to the annual meeting in Charlotte on the evening of the 23rd inst. This meeting embraces an initiation as well as a banquet and will be largely attended by members of the famous order from all sections of the Carolinas.

A very quiet and beautiful wedding was solemnized last evening when, in the presence of a few relatives and friends, Miss Cora Lentz, the popular daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Lentz, was given in marriage to Mr. Aubrey Hoover.

The attractive home of Mr. and Mrs. Lentz was ablaze with lights, softened by the artistic arrangement of beautiful cut flowers and bankings of palms and ferns. The parlor was entirely in white, the decoration in semblance of an altar, being relieved by tender trailing vines and dainty ferns, and lighted by silver candelabra holding white candles.

Promptly at 6:30 o'clock Miss Mamie Lentz, the maid of honor, followed by the bride and groom, advanced to this beautiful altar where the Rev. Geo. H. Cornelson, spoke the marriage vows of the Presbyterian church in a most impressive manner. The bride never looked so lovely as when she plighted her troth to the man of her choice. She was gowned in white silk mullin train, and carried a bouquet of brides' roses and ferns, while the soft folds of the bridal veil were caught back from a face, flushed with happiness, with an exquisite clasp of diamonds and pearls the gift of the groom.

The maid of honor was attired in white carrying crimson carnations.

Many handsome bridal gifts attest the popularity of this young couple. Mr. Hoover, though claimed by Concord, is a very progressive business man of High Point and combines with his business qualifications many noble characteristics. While his charming bride has ever held the hearts of the Concord people by her very gracious and winning personality.

After a wedding tour north Mr. and Mrs. Hoover will be at home in High Point, N. C.

A horse belonging to Mr. Ed Parnell and hitched to a hack ran away at the depot this morning. It ran into the back of the Cori-Wadsworth Co. and overturned it, breaking it up considerably. No one was hurt in the smash-up however.

RUSSIANS DESTROY SHIP.

The Restoropy Blown up at Cheefoo to Prevent the Japs Cutting Her Off.

The Russian torpedo boat destroyer Restoropy has been blown up by her commander in the harbor of Cheefoo after having eluded the blockade of Port Arthur and insisted on filing dispatches from General Stoessel to St. Petersburg. It is presumed that she was destroyed in order to prevent the Japanese from cutting her out as they did the Ryeshitelny. Advices from St. Petersburg, say the dispatches filed by the commander at Cheefoo have reached there, but their character has not been divulged. It is surmised from the fact that a desperate trip was made from Port Arthur and exposed to a large risk of destruction or capture that the dispatches she bore are of great importance. Interviews with the Restoropy's officers give optimistic accounts of the conditions at Port Arthur. No advices of importance have been received today from the armies facing each other along the Shakhe river.

A Tokyo dispatch ridicules the story of the death of General Kuroki which has been reported. The dispatch says that the story is received with amusement and is recognized as Russian rumor, also adding that the General is in command of one wing of the Japanese army in Manchuria. Final Limit of Resistance Near at Hand.

London, Nov. 17.—The Standard has a dispatch from Tokio which asserts that all indications point to the conclusion, that Port Arthur is near the extreme limit of resistance. Most of the Russian shells do not explode, many of them being half filled with sawdust. Preparations appear to be promising for final retirement by the Russians to Liao Tchiai.

Cherokee Dentist in Trouble.

Asheville, N. C., Nov. 16.—J. H. Bell of Cherokee, son of ex-State Senator Stephen Bell, was bound over to United States court today in the sum of $1,000, charged with attempting to pass counterfeit money. A woman who came here with Bell and passed as the man's wife was also bound over in the sum of $500.

It is alleged that Bell and the woman had been stopping at a well known boarding house here and that in settlement of board yesterday the woman gave the proprietor two silver dollars which were subsequently determined counterfeit. The pair was arrested. The woman claimed that Bell gave her the money and that she did not know it was counterfeit. Bell, who is a dentist in a small town in Cherokee, has a wife.

It is said that a considerable amount of counterfeit money has been circulated in Western North Carolina and the belief is prevalent that there is located some place in this section a manufactory for the "queer." Secret service men, it is said, will be sent there to investigate.

Mr. Roscoe Douglass and Miss Callie Winecoff were married at the home of the bride last night. Rev. Honeycutt performed the ceremony. The young couple left on the south-bound train this morning to visit relatives in Mecklenburg.
