METHODIST PROTESTANT COLLEGE.

Steps Taken to Assure Such an Institution at Greensboro—Negro Killed While Hunting.

Greensboro, Nov. 30.—Rev. R. M. Andrews and a large number of other ministers and delegates returned yesterday from the Methodist Protestant Conference which was held at Burlington and adjourned Monday evening. Rev. A. G. Dixon, of Henderson, who was chosen as field secretary for the college enterprise, is also in the city for a few days. The conference took active measures looking forward to the establishment of the college, and Rev. Mr. Dixon will devote his entire time towards raising funds for the erection of the building. Mr. Dixon is an able and tireless worker and the conference is to be congratulated in securing such an able man to have charge of the work. As soon as sufficient funds are in hand to justify the conference in doing so, work on the college will be started.

The site chosen for the college is in South Greensboro, just beyond the terminus of the street car line on Ashboro street. It is an ideal location, well suited in every respect for the college site. Already a number of building lots have been sold near the college site and it promises to be one of the most thriving parts of the city.

William Gore, an eighteen-year-old boy, was shot and instantly killed by another boy, Matthew Pass, while hunting east of the city yesterday afternoon. Pass came at once to the police station, arriving about 4 o'clock, and surrendered himself to Chief of Police Scott. Dr. J. P. Turner, the county coroner, was notified and made an investigation. He decided that while the shooting was unintentional, the boys had been pointing the guns with hammers cocked, at one another, which constituted an assault. Pass was placed in the lock-up to await a hearing before a justice of the peace this afternoon. He will be given a hearing on the charge of assault in order to learn the facts of the case.

BIG AND INTERESTING SUIT.

Chicago Courts to Handle Case in Which a Half Billion Dollars are Involved.

Chicago, Nov. 30.—The largest suit ever filed in this city or in any city in the world, involving a half billion dollars, was begun today before Judge Kohlsat of the United States court when the heirs of Alson C. Stewart and Gen. Hart Stewart attempted to make good their claims against the Pennsylvania road. The heirs seek to recover for the use of several miles of Stewart avenue by the railroad company and the principal entrance of the road to the city. The action will be fought bitterly.

The property in dispute came to the original owners as a government grant of land which they acquired when this city was a mere trading post and is ten miles from the present city. The Stewart heirs gave the property to the city, with the restriction that should it ever be used for any but the original purpose it should revert to the heirs. The Pennsylvania got a right of way and the heirs are suing to recover. President Roosevelt's family is among the claimants.

Trinity Glee Club.

Durham, N. C., Nov. 29.—The Trinity Glee club went up to Graham last night and gave an entertainment there, going over to Burlington for an entertainment this evening. The club will reach home tomorrow. Later in the fall, near the holiday season, the club will go on a trip through the eastern part of the state, giving ten or twelve entertainments. The club is under the direction of Mr. W. H. Overton of the Conservatory of Music. The officers of the club are Mr. F. A. Ogburn, business manager; Mr. M. E. Newsom, assistant business manager; Mr. A. B. Duke, treasurer. Mr. Overton says he has one of the best clubs in years and he expects to give entertainments and will attract large crowds and give satisfaction.

MR. LINNEY'S VISIT.

OF LOCAL IMPORTANCE AND SIGNIFICANCE.

Dissatisfied Candidates Responsible for the Lawyer's Stay Here Yesterday—County Contest Idea Laid Before the Court.

There was much speculation here yesterday over the appearance of Mr. R. Z. Linney, of Taylorsville. People who were aware of his presence in the city tried to put together all the surface evidence and draw a conclusion.

THE TRIBUNE tried hard to get a story out of the busy Republicans in their active and constant conferences with the lawyer, and as such he came, not as a politician. The fact that Mr. Linney has a back seat in the Federal field would not admit of a suspicion that there was any office or appointment in any way responsible for the presence here of Messrs. Linney and Newell.

THE TRIBUNE had a suspicion, and working on that suspicion it followed one trail with a conviction that it would lead to the seat of trouble.

It was several weeks ago reported that several of the candidates who suffered defeat in the recent election were thinking of making an investigation of what they took to be irregularities in the county and were considering the question of making a fight. This talk, however, died down and by many was forgotten, but when Mr. Linney came yesterday and was met by these same men, as well as later by other prominent party men, THE TRIBUNE caught on and developed the suspicion. There you are. Several of the defeated candidates had Mr. Linney and Mr. Newell to come to Concord yesterday and look into this matter and talk over the situation, with a probable view of entering a contest over the county election.

This is what the conferences yesterday were about; the result we have not. Whether the visiting gentlemen, after looking over the matter, decided to advise a contest is not known in this office but it is known that this matter was discussed at length yesterday and it was for that purpose Messrs. Linney and Newell came to Concord.

J. B. Duke a Benedict.

Comden, N. J., Nov. 29.—James B. Duke, head of the American Tobacco Co., and a bachelor of 38 years, was married here this afternoon to Mrs. L. N. McCreedy, a wealthy widow of New York city. The ceremony took place at the home of Mrs. Lewis Seal. It was a very quiet affair and only a few of the most intimate friends of the pair were present. Mrs. McCreedy is ten years Mr. Duke's junior.

The ceremony was performed in the parlor of the Seal mansion, which had been converted into a bower of flowers with white roses, white chrysanthemums and palms. Every effort was made to keep the affair as quiet as possible. The officiating clergyman was the Rev. Marshall Owens, pastor of the Centenary Methodist Episcopal church. Information was refused as to who were present besides Mr. Duke's brother, B. N. Duke, except to say that there were no more than ten persons, all related. Mr. Seal is president of the Consolidated stock exchange, of Philadelphia, and a close personal friend of Mr. Duke. It is said that the pair will start for a honeymoon trip through Europe immediately. The news of Mr. Duke's marriage astonished his social and business friends in this city. He kept his intentions very quiet and allowed no intimation of his marriage plans to leak out. His friends had long considered him a confirmed bachelor.
