

There is more luck in a little Bank Book than in a ship load of dream books

A Young Man May Have Friends

But he will find none so steadfast, so ready to respond to his wants, so capable of pushing him ahead, as a little leather-covered book, with the name of a bank on its cover.

CITIZENS BANK AND TRUST COMPANY
Concord, N. C.

HOW IT GOES.

A Proof of How Advertising Pays—One Error Brings Many Catalogues.

Some days ago an advertisement in The Tribune carried a wrong letter and brought result from a source unthought of. A "D" in Citizens Bank & Trust Company that should have been a "K" did the devilment, and though only a few hundred copies were printed before the correction was made.

These copies went out as the Citizens "Band" instead of "Bank" and soon the mail began to arrive. Cashier Wagner was soon opening musical catalogues and getting all sorts of band literature. He could well imagine himself a Bandmaster instead of a financier. He very generously offered to turn over to The Tribune all the aforesaid musical matter and get rid of the responsibility of being a musician.

That "D" quickly turned his banking house into a musical house and brought many inquiries from the folks who sell horns and drums, sheet music and lessons in "Voice Culture at Home".

The Tribune having no use for these, no more than the bank, it passes it up to Captain Goldstone of the Forest Hill Band, who can get the entire lot by calling.

Holton's Days Numbered.

Winston-Salem, Jan. 26.—"Yes, the impression prevails among the Republicans in Greensboro that District Attorney Holton's days in office are numbered," said a politician who came in from that town this morning. "I got it from a reliable source that Mr. Holton received a telegram from President Roosevelt one night this week, requesting the district attorney to clean up his docket as quickly as practicable." Continuing, this politician said that "there was plenty of evidence to indicate that Chairman Rollins and Congressman Blackburn had made a Pritchard was to be district attorney and that Spencer should have a say in naming men for office outside of his own district."

Illness of Wheeler Led Her to Suicide.

Chicago, Ill., Jan. 25.—Brooding over the fatal illness of her old family friend, General Joseph Wheeler, was the immediate cause, it is said, of the suicide at the Sherman House tonight of Mrs. Margaret Bailey, who died of strychnine poisoning, just as the news of General Wheeler's death reached Chicago.

Twelve years ago Mrs. Bailey was known in Washington society, especially in army circles. At the death of her husband she had a reversal of fortune. Mrs. Bailey was greatly grieved when she learned on the critical condition of General Wheeler.

Today she received a telegram saying that General Wheeler could live only a short time, and she took poison.

THE WEATHER TO DATE

Freeze Continues, the State in the Grasp of a Severe Spell of Winter—Much Damage Done.

Concord is indeed in the midst of winter. The freeze continues and last night added much to the discomfort and loss from the present freeze. Everywhere this morning were signs of the times and conditions. Limbs from trees lay everywhere, in every yard and at many places blocked the street. The city was in darkness, no lights being turned on. The condition made it dangerous to run the plant and only one attempt was made to light the town.

The wires of the telephone and telegraph companies suffered much. The Concord Telephone Co. will lose heavily, in many places their plant is in bad shape.

This condition seems to be general through the South. The Southern Railroad has taken their work crews and all available workers and put them on the line. The various crews working on the double track grading have been put to repairing poles and wires.

Neighboring towns suffer as we do in Concord. The following from Spencer to the Charlotte Observer relates a death:

"This place is enveloped in ice, and telephone and electric wires are practically out of use, a number of them being on the ground. An unknown negro who was passing from his work in the Southern shops here tonight was instantly killed by an electric wire striking him to the ground. The man grappled with the dangling wire for a moment and died. A bystander who attempted to knock the wire off of the dying man was terribly shocked and knocked a distance of ten feet by the current which burned out the life of the negro."

The trouble with the Telegraph Company seems to be between Charlotte and Greensboro. The local telegraph office has been as still and quiet as death today. The usual clatter being given away to a silence. A car of linemen were put off at Concord this morning and there are several hundred at work between Charlotte and Greensboro.

There has perhaps never been such a destruction of trees in Concord as now. All over the city shade and fruit trees are down. The beautiful Elms on Union, Depot and other streets have suffered greatly, while poles are broken to pieces all about.

Mr. Benbow Still in Race for Collectorship.

Winston-Salem, Jan. 25.—Mr. John T. Benbow, a member of the law firm of Benbow & Hall, is still in the race for the collectorship of this internal revenue district. Mr. Benbow is banking his claim on the fact that he represents a city and section where the bulk of the business of the office is done. Mr. Benbow has been a faithful worker for his party and has been active on the hustings and wherever duty called him. He was the candidate of his party four years ago for the House and two years ago ran for the State Senate. At present he is chairman of the Republican executive committee for the fifth congressional district.

Case of Yellow Fever Found at New Orleans.

New Orleans, La., Jan. 25.—When the German raider Bremen arrived at the mouth of the river, on her way to this city, yesterday, a case of yellow fever was reported on board. The quarantine officer ordered the ship detained and the patient screened, and orders have been given to have the vessel thoroughly fumigated. She will be detained for six days, and is declared that no chances of infections will be allowed.

BIG ELK BANQUET.

Concord Elks Have Reception and Banquet, Followed by Dance Last Night.

The Concord Elks made another success of social consequence last evening when they gave a banquet and dance at the club and lodge rooms in the Pythian building. The severe weather kept many away who would otherwise have been present, but regardless of the great freeze outside there were more than a hundred present all forgetful of the outside. The rooms throughout had been tastily decorated, Elk colors and emblems being displayed all over the house. The receiving line formed in the beautiful lodge room and welcomed the guest, while the hospitable Elks mingled among their guests to add every comfort and assure happy moments through the evening.

In characteristic style a course of refreshments were served and music was rendered by the Richardson Orchestra, Mr Richardson giving several selections.

After several hours spent in making merry, and serving supper dancing time came and to the sweet music from Mr. Richardson's superb orchestra the young people spent several hours in the dance hall.

The reception of 1906 was one of the most enjoyable ever given by Concord Elks.

Japanese Movement for New Alphabet.

London, Jan. 25.—Progressivism has obtained such a firm hold on Japan since the signing of the treaty of Portsmouth, according to dispatches from Tokio, that a movement has been started there for the retirement of the Japanese alphabet for English character. This movement is making such rapid headway that already a new Tokio newspaper has appeared with the news printed in English and Japanese, in parallel columns, Japanese words retained, but the English lettering being used. From this fact, it is generally believed that the Mikado and his immediate advisors are inclined to look favorably upon the eventual abolition of the Japanese characters, now considered hampering and cumbersome.

Young Duke Recovers.

Durham, N. C., Jan. 25.—The condition of Mr Angier B Duke, who was accidentally shot at Cataret Lodge and resulted in the losing of his right hand, which was severed at the wrist, is very much improved. He has been moved from the hospital to his home and will be able to get out in a few days.
