CUT HIS OWN THROAT.

Mr Mac Hartsell, a Prominent Citizen of the County, Attempted to End His Life This Morning—Likely to Recover

Mr. Mac Hartsell, one of the leading farmers and citizens of Number 10 township, cut his throat last night and was found early this morning lying in a pool of blood and in a serious condition. News of the occurrence was brought to the city this morning from Flows where a messenger hurried in order to get to a telephone to call a physician. He was barely alive, with but a slight indication of a pulse. Dr. Black was soon hurrying to the injured man and every effort at once made to save his life.

Mr. Hartsell went to bed last night about the usual hour, occupying the room with his son, Mr. R L Hartsell. About 10 o'clock he got up and went out. Mr. R L Hartsell, his son, went to sleep and this morning upon awaking found his father out of the room. It was then that he was found in an adjoining room, lying in the pool of blood and with his throat cut.

Later Report not so Bad.

A later report of the affair reaching here before noon states that Mr Hartsell will recover, that the injuries are not so serious as at first thought. After seeing the patient and administering to his relief, Dr Black said that he thought he would get well. An early report stated that death would be but a short time, but the facts are that the injuries are not near so bad.

The act has been much discussed today in Concord. Mr. Hartsell is a very popular man, one of the best of men in many ways and has many friends to whom his recovery will be a source of great joy.

Jealousy prompted the acts. He had been separated from his wife and came into possession of letters sent to her signed "George". The letters were written on paper of The Hanford (Cal.) Sentinel. One bullet struck William T Parlin in the mouth, shattered a tooth and lodged in the jaw. The other bystander was shot in the ankle. Walbridge was about 40 years of age and apparently a laborer.

Move New Trial for Patrick.

New York, Jan. 31.—Notice of a motion for a new trial in the case of Albert T Patrick, on the ground of newly discovered evidence, was served late today on the district attorney. The motion, which is returnable Feb. 9, was served by Patrick's counsel, Black, Olcott, Gruber & Bonyng. The principal ground urged in the motion is, substantially, that new evidence has been obtained to show that William M Rice did not die of chloroform poisoning, but instead, died a natural death, and that Jones, the valet since his release here has made many statements to persons in Texas to the effect that he never killed Rice. One of these statements, all of which appear as sworn affidavits, is that Jones said he would return to New York and plead guilty to a charge of perjury if he was promised only a light sentence. The notice includes many affidavits and statements by physicians who signify their willingness to testify for Patrick if a new trial is ordered.
