ACCURACY STABILITY

"The American Home
The Safe-guard of American Liberty"

Few people realize what a heavy hand the Landlord lays on a renter. In 35 years a house renting for $10.00 per month, you have paid $4,200 in cash, this at 6 per cent. per annum will swell the total to $13,194.66, an appalling waste of money. And yet every brick and plank will still belong to the Landlord.

Avoid this waste by subscribing to shares in this Association—begin saving today.

VESUVIUS MORE ACTIVE

The Raging, Mad Volcano Running Lava to the Death and Destruction of People and Property—One City Gone, Others in Great Danger, While Inhabitants Flee for Safety.

Dispatches for several days have told of the activity of Mount Vesuvius and the fright the flow of lava has produced on the people around its base. For the past several days the people have been panic stricken and still greater danger has been feared. The panic has spread and the people of Naples have become terror stricken. Earthquake shocks have shattered glass and cracked walls. The commune of Boscorecan is gone, no trace of the settlement of 10,000 people remaining, while other places seem doomed and the people are being taken away as fast as possible. Terre Armunziata is surrounded by the flow of lava and the thirty thousand inhabitants have fled. Other towns are seriously threatened by the flow of lava from the active volcano, which seems determined to destroy everything around it. The poisonous fumes, smoke and hot ashes are making life miserable and uncertain for many miles, breathing in Naples being hard, while vegetation along the path of the flow is being killed. Terror reigns all around the mad, foaming giant and the work of rescuing is a problem, a hard fight.

Situation Grows Worse Every Hour.
Naples, April 9.—The devastation wrought by the eruption of Vesuvius has been so widespread that it is estimated that fifty thousand have been made homeless. Dozens of villages have been wiped out and ten thousand acres of vineyards and olive yards destroyed. The eruption is growing worse every hour and as a consequence a state of panic prevails throughout the country. Refugees reaching here tell of narrow escapes from the flowing lava.

Church Collapsed and Thirty Bodies Recovered.

Naples, April 9.—From the stories of refugees reaching here at least fifty lives have been lost. A story is brought here from Ottanjo that a number of school children driven from the school house lost their way, that three were picked up and the rest were lost. In another town where people gathered to worship the house collapsed and thirty bodies have been recovered. Every refugee arriving here has some similar story.

Last Report is Better.
Rome, April 9.—The latest news from Vesuvius received here says the volcano has moderated.

Dr. Sherer Coming to Concord.

Dr. J. A. B. Sherer, president of Newberry College at Newberry, N. C., will be in Concord April 17th, and will speak at the opera house. Dr. Sherer comes at the invitation of the Ladies' Missionary society of St. James E. L. church, and will address the people on topics of missionary interest. Dr. Sherer is one of the most gifted young men of the South, spent several years in Japan, and will talk on a subject with which he is most familiar.

GOVERNOR GLENN IS CITY'S GUEST

Chief Executive of North Carolina Makes Two Addresses in Concord, at Forest Hill Methodist Church in the Morning—A Temperance Talk at Central School in the Evening—Large Crowd Hears the Governor.

Governor Robert B. Glenn spent Sunday in Concord and made two addresses, each of which was largely attended and very much appreciated. The first of these was at 11 o'clock in the morning, when the Governor spoke at the Forest Hill Methodist church, his subject being "Is the Young Man Safe?" based on David's inquiry as to the safety of his son, Absalom. The house was full and the speaker was briefly introduced by W. R. Odell.

Governor Glenn asked if the young man was safe when he was tempted in the many ways the young meet daily.

Governor Robert B. Glenn, who made two addresses in Concord yesterday.

His talk appealed to the young man to live right, to the older to help care for and save the young man. The inquiry was carried further and the speaker inquired if the State and nation were safe, citing the several matters which threaten the safety of the nation. The remedy, the prescription offered for all, was given in the Golden Rule, and yet higher injunctions to love thy neighbor as thyself. The love of God in men's hearts will bring peace and safety.

Governor Glenn in this talk was strong and earnest. He declared that his interest in the safety of the young and a desire to help in making men better, led him to go about over the State appealing in behalf of the young men and women. This magnificent talk was heard with the deepest interest. Through it all every one in the audience gave the closest attention and every one was more than pleased with the Governor's earnest talk.

Last Evening's Address.

The gathering at the Central school building last night was an exceedingly large one. Every seat and every space was filled. All over the large auditorium people were thronged. It was a gathering of Concord people from every section of Concord. They came anxious to hear and soon had the house full, while many were forced to leave. A choir of more than half a hundred voices had been organized and the music was simply grand.

Governor Glenn was introduced by Mr. D. B. Coltrane, and he soon came to the point of his address which was a strong temperance talk, significant coming from the Chief Executive of the State. The Governor said that the slogan of the people would be to drive whisky out of North Carolina, that he would do all in his power for temperance in the State and to crush the liquor traffic. While there was no new policy advocated, nor nothing significant over what Governor Glenn has previously said on this subject, there was every mark of sincerity and earnestness in what can be truly considered a strong speech on the subject. Governor Glenn called upon the officials to be diligent, to crush out illegal whisky sales by an application of the law.

Throughout the hour and a half he was given the closest attention. The great crowd took every word, every idea and were fully in accord with the sentiment and gave strict attention to all the Governor said.

Governor Glenn's visit to Concord was a great pleasure to the people of Concord. The crowds that went to hear him gave ample evidence of this. His friends and friends of the cause for which he spoke feel that his visit was a high service from the Governor of North Carolina.

MT. PLEASANT HAS A FIRE.

Residence of Mr. Ury Destroyed by Flames Saturday—Prof. Thompson Talks to Institute Literary Society—Other Items of Interest from Mt. Pleasant.

(BY A. BLACKWELDER.)

Mt. Pleasant, April 9.—Saturday afternoon about 2 o'clock a dense black smoke was seen rising just below town. It proved to be the residence of Mr. George Ury, and in a remarkably short time the building was totally consumed by the flames. The fire is supposed to have originated from a defective flue or a spark on the roof from the chimney. According to those first upon the scene, the latter view seems to be the more plausible. Practically all the household effects were saved, as were the near-by buildings with their contents, thanks to the heroic efforts of neighbors and others. Mr. Ury and his sons were not at home when the fire started, and like others arrived too late to check or control the fire. The loss is considerable, with no insurance.

It was a treat Friday evening to have Prof. Thompson, Superintendent of the City schools, Concord, here in the capacity of a lecturer. Prof. Thompson came at the invitation of the Bernheim Literary society of the Seminary, who kindly extended an invitation to the public to hear the lecture. Those who know Prof. Thompson best, know that he is ever interesting, and such he was on this occasion. We attempt no outline or synopsis of the splendid address, but express the hope of many that we may have the pleasure of his return.

The directors of the Kindley Cotton mills met last week. A semi-annual dividend of 4 per cent was declared. Mr. W. A. Kindley was elected Secretary and Treasurer to succeed his father, Mr. W. R. Kindley, resigned. It has been ten years since this enterprise was organized, during which time it has been signally successful. The original capital has been increased, dividends paid and no time lost by machinery standing still. Best of all is, perhaps, the operatives are contented and "getting along well in the world."

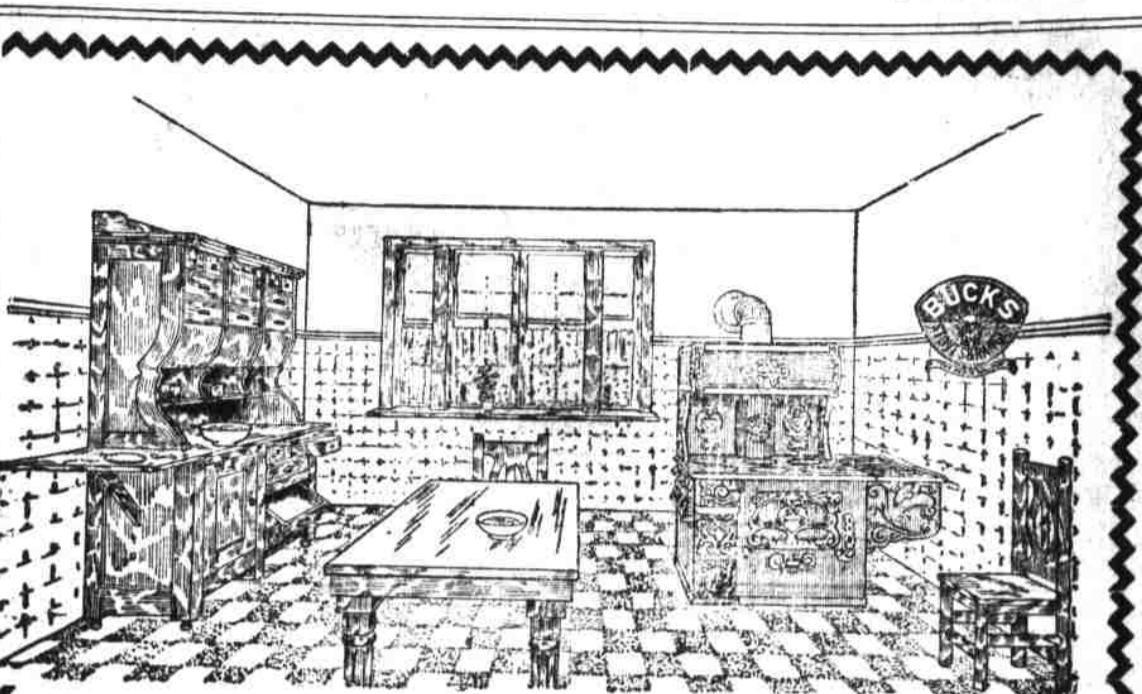

The preliminary contest for declaimers was held in the Gerhardt society hall Thursday evening. The contest was a very close one, and showed good work on the part of the contestants. The following young men were successful and will contest for honors in declamation at commencement in May: Robert Agner, Faith; Rufus Foil, Mt. Pleasant; Raymond Hinson, Arlington; Myron Fisher, Faith; Grover Kester, Spencer; Jesse Peck, Mt. Pleasant.

Telegram was received here Monday evening announcing the death of Mr. Charles Weiser, Bluefield, W. Va. Mrs. Keiser, who was Miss Sallie Fisher of this place, has the sympathy of many friends in her sad bereavement. Mr. Weiser was a railroad engineer on the N & W railway, and his death was caused by scalds received in a wreck.

Julia Sides, daughter of Mr and Mrs George Sides at the Tuscarora mill, died Friday night after a severe and protracted illness. The remains were interred yesterday at Bethel Lutheran church, Stanly county. The deceased was about twenty years of age.

When the bell rang for chapel service at the Institute last Monday morning, the student body, seized with the idea of "April Fool", paid their passing respects to the chapel and made double quick time to the famous "Lovers Retreat" where they communed with nature with all the freedom of runaway until hunger, the king of disciplinarians, bade them return—an April day custom older than the oldest inhabitants.

It was the good pleasure of the congregation at the Lutheran church yesterday to have Dr. A. G. Voight, Dean of the Theological Seminary, Mt. Pleasant, S. C., with them at both the morning and evening services. At the morning service Dr. Voight's remarks were addressed primarily to the young men of the Institute in accordance with a resolution passed at last meeting of Synod, and at the evening service he spoke to the Ladies' Missionary society, at which time an interesting public address was held.

Dr. Voight is by no means a stranger to the people of Mt. Pleasant, having paid the institutions a number of visits, and it is a source of genuine pleasure to have him come.

The graded schools, under the principalship of Prof. Ludwig, closed a successful term's work Saturday noon. The little folks celebrated the closing by going fishing, accompanied by their teachers, Misses Wagg and Sloop.

Messrs James Montgomery, Fred Black, Luther Litaker and Paul Lentz, of Salisbury, were among our visitors yesterday.

Miss Bessie Long, of Concord, spent last week with her friend, Miss Katie Barringer.

Miss Callye Wagg is at home from a visit to relatives at Morganton.

After several weeks spent with relatives Miss Mamie Beatty has returned to her home at Concord.

Prof. Ludwig goes to Forest Hill this morning where he will spend some time with that splendid musical organization, the Forest Hill Band.

Miss Belle Torrence and Mr. D. L. Ritchie spent yesterday in Concord.

Miss Mary Heilig entertained Saturday night complimentary to her friends, Misses Bessie Hearne and Helen Hufford, of Albemarle.

Taken to County Home.

Mrs. Archie Smith, whose home has been in the neighborhood of the Cabarrus mill, was taken to the County Home Sunday to be cared for. This is a very sad case of a young woman losing her mind and reaching the point when care and attention is necessary. Mrs. Smith will be kept at the County Home as long as necessary.
