SAGE'S WILL READ TODAY.

Reading Will Show That He Left the Fortune to His Widow.

New York, July 26—When the will of the late Russel Sage is read this afternoon it will be found that with the exception of an insignificant bequest to an only sister, Mrs Fannie Chapin, of Onedia, who died two years ago, everything is left to his widow.

Relatives will probably contest the will on the grounds that Sage was not in full possession of all his mental faculties following the breakdown of 1901. It will be contended by these relatives that Mrs Sage exerted undue influence over him in the distribution of his wealth. The will will show that Sage was worth $60,000,000.

Westinghouse a Grater.

Pittsburg, July 25.—At a sensational meeting of the stockholders of the Westinghouse Electric & Manufacturing Company today, George Westinghouse, president of the company, was bitterly assailed and he was charged openly by stockholders with launching private ventures with the company's funds. The directors were charged with aiding him in this, but after a bitter squabble the slated board of directors was elected and the official coterie won out.

James C. Carothers, one of the minority stockholders, led the opponents of Mr Westinghouse. The incident grew out of the report of the company. Mr Carothers called attention to the assets, in which were stocks and bonds of the Lackawana & Wyoming Valley Rapid Transit Company, $6,000,000. Mr Carothers wanted to know how much was stock and how much was bonds.

There was a hot discussion and it developed that the capital stock of the Lackawana & Wyoming Valley Rapid Transit Company is $3,000,000 and that the road cost about $6,000,000. No one was sure that these figures were correct and there was more or less confusion.

Finally Mr Carothers said: "We have $6,000,000 worth of bonds and $3,000,000 worth of stock. Who has the remainder of the stock? This company puts all the money up that is spent on the road and gets only $3,000,000 worth of stock. Why should not this company have all the stock if it pays for the road?"

Stop Girl Bathers' Parade.

Asbury Park, July 24.—If the Ocean Grove girls attempt again to steal over the Fletcher Lake bridge Sunday mornings in their bathing suits, as a whole body have been doing all summer, parading down the sedate streets of Bradley Beach to the bathing grounds, they will be confronted by ten special policemen, under instructions to place the girls in the "cooler" pending explanation of their conduct.

The fiat has gone out from Bradley Beach Council at the instructions of cottagers, who pretend to be deeply annoyed by the feminine procession, and who say if Ocean Grove is too good to let people inside its gates on Sunday, it ought to be good enough to keep its girls from going out in their bathing suits. The Bradley Beachers are also complaining of Sunday dancing in the cottages.

Try to Kill New Lineman.

Chester, Pa., July 24.—Charles James, a lineman for the Bell Telephone Company, was attacked by several of the striking linemen at Sixth and Parker streets this afternoon, and but for the interference of several bystanders he would probably have been killed.

James was coming down a pole, when the strikers threw bricks at him, trying to fracture his skull. He was taken into a house on Parker street. The strikers surrounded the dwelling, and, becoming violent, broke several windows.

Would Try to Oust McClellan.

New York, July 25.—In opposing an application in the Supreme Court today of the city corporation counsel's office for an order vacating a previous court order which directed the sealing of 2,000 ballots cast at the general election in November, 1905, and the preservation of their contents inviolate, Charles J Shearn, counsel for William R Hearst, said he anticipated that the next legislature could pass a bill for a recount of the ballots now under seal. If it did so, he said, he intended to bring quo warranto proceedings to oust Mayor McClellan from office. Mr Shearn said the ballot boxes would be kept unopened until this matter was determined. He offered to supply the city of New York with ballot boxes for use at the approaching primaries and the general election. The representatives of the corporation counsel declined the offer. Decision on the application was reserved.

Brokers Sued for $600,000.

New Orleans, July 25.—A suit for $600,000 was filed today in the United States Circuit court against Gibert & Clay, a brokerage and commission house who do a cotton business here with connections in several Southern cities. Armstrong & Company, brokers and commission merchants, of Memphis, Tenn., brought the suit, claiming damages, first, on the allegation that Gibert & Clay had broken a contract to furnish the Memphis firm with leased wire service and had disconnected the wires; and second, that the New Orleans firm had demanded immediate payment of a $30,000 promissory note in a manner calculated to injure the plaintiff's business and in violation of an alleged verbal agreement.

Mill Operatives at Hope Mill are Out on Account of Italian Helpers.

Raleigh, July 26.—Several thousand factory employees, particularly at Hope Mills, Cumberland county, have quit work and the factories are at a stand still.

Mayor Johnson Appears in Court.

Cleveland, Ohio, July 26.—With his usual smile Mayor Tom Johnson appeared before Judge Foard this morning to answer the charge of contempt for refusing to obey the injunction issued yesterday restraining him from removing the track of the street railway company. Before entering the court room Johnson said that on June 11 the city council by resolution ordered the railway to remove the track on Fulton street and directed the board of public service to move track unless the company complied with the order within thirty days. The order was ignored and the city board carried out its order.

Judge Foard reserved his decision on the contempt case until Friday.

Richmond, Va., July 24.—Within plain view of his agonized wife whom he had previously locked out of the room and who, through the closed door which separated them, begged him not to go near the window, Robert Hudson, a jack-of-all-trades, paying no attention to her entreaties, took a seat in the window, and, falling asleep, toppled to the pavement three stories below.
