Representative Connor. of Wilson. is the author of a bill to remove the restriction on the expense allowance of the Governor. It amends the act of two years ago, Chapter 1009, which allows the Chief Executive $600 annually as traveling expenses in attending to business for the State, and for expenses in the State and out of the State in representing the interests of the State and people, by allowing the same amount simply "to cover expenses incurred by him incidental to the discharge of the duties of his office, whether in or out of the State.

THE PARAGUAYANS.

A Lazy, Happy-go-lucky People In a Bankrupt Republic.

The infusion of Spanish blood and rustoms into the Guarani has produced a people with the faults and good qualities of both in about equal parts. Dark of complexion, with strongly marked Indian features, essentially gentle when unrestrained or not unduly excited, careless of the morrow, poor and honest, hospitable and genrous, indolent and uncultured, strongly Catholic in theory, but generally lax in religious performances as to dog-PUBLISHERS' ANNOUNCEMENT: mas-this is a rough sketch of the native people of Paraguay. Asuncion, Pilar, Villa Concepcion - have their Cards of Thanks, Resolutions of aristocratic familles, of which the Respect, and similar articles are daughters and sons are sent to Europe charged for at the rate of 5 cents per to be educated and which maintain an exclusiveness that must be almost isolation. But in general the people min-

In the early morning in the streets of Asuncion the women gather in their long white dresses and barefooted to sell their wares. The younger women, judged by our standard, are beautiful and from carrying baskets and water jars on their beads have attained an erect and graceful carriage which our young women could well imitate. Besides, when they laugh they show two rows of pearls, and their speech in soft Guarani patois is worth going far

When you see Asuncton you see Paraguay, for it is the most advanced city in the republic. Its streets are poorly paved, it has mule cars which run at long intervals and low speed, and the hotel accommodations are not exceptional, but there is a kind of lazy, happy go-lucky gayety about the city that represents the national feeling Paraguay is hard up yes, almost stone broke. The currency is paper and the value so small that for a hundred dollars one receives a basketful of ragged stuff, printed in Germany, to represent some nebulous indebtedness of the republic. Gold does not stay long in Paraguay, nor does it often enter the Honey and Tar, and it soothes incountry.-Van Norden Magazine

EXPLOSIVES.

Best Way to Destroy Gunpowder and

Nitroglycerin. The best way to destroy ordinary black gunpowder is to throw it into a asks her. stream under conditions that prevent any harm coming to human beings or animals through the dissolving of the saltpeter. If no suitable stream is available, the gunpowder may be stirred with water in tules, or the dry gunpowder may be poured out on the ground in a long thin line and ignited with a fuse at one end.

To destroy dynamite carridges the paper wrampings should be carefully removed, the bare cartridges hald in a row with their ends in centact and the first cartridge ignited with a fuse without a cup. Even with these precautions a simultaneous explision of the entire mass may occur so that it is wise to retire to a safe distance. The row of cartridges should be laid paral lel with the wind and ignited at the leeward end, so that the flame will be driven away from the mass. Frozen dynamite should be handled with special care, as its combustion is peculiarly liable to assume an explosive character. A small quantity of dynamite may be destroyed by throwing it in very small bits into an open fire, or the cartridges may be exploded one by one in the open air with fuses

Dynamite should never be thrown into water, as the nitroglycerin which it contains remains undissolved and capable of doing mischief. Other explosives which contain nitroglycerin should be treated in the same way as dynamite.

Ammonium nitrate explosives may be thrown in small fragments into an open fire or if they do not contain nitroglycerin may be destroyed by means of water. Explosive caps should be exploded singly with pieces of fuse .- Scientific American.

STATE FORESTRY.

North Carolina Taking Steps to Conserve Resources.

Norfolk Virginian Pilot. Nes dispatches from Raleigh note the passage by the North Carolina as a science that the work can be conertain of the mountain counties of he State. Just how comprehensive good government. But how to deal s the measure is not stated, but, be with the new evils that our complithat as it may the movement is one in cated life brings about—it is for such the right direction. The question of as you to answer. I centure to sugorest protection, which carries with gest that there are two things to be it that of reforestation of denuded done, of vital importance, both of treas, is one of first importance to evry State on the Atlantic Scaboard, and, for that matter, to every State lation of the complicated question in the union possessing wooded mountain regions. It is also one which all the States have sadly neglected, to degree. And to simplify is the funcheir own hurt as separate Commonwealths and to the hart of the counry at large. Awakening to these facts has been all too slow, but indications are not wanting that it is comng at last. Several of the New England and Middle Atlantic States, notably New York and Pennsylvania among the latter, are already well entered upon a definite forest policy. Regular forestry bureaus have been established and are being steadily adled to, and extensive efforts are being put forth to reforest denuded moun tain areas. In other sections of the country similar action has been or is eingtaken.

In the South, however, little of othing in this direction has been done. What effort the Southern State have put forth has been di rected chiefly to securing the establishment of a National Forest Reserve in the Southern Appalachian Mountain region. This is all right as far as it goes. More than that, it is essential. There can be no proper and adequate conservation of the forsts and other natural resources of to South without such action on the part of the Federal government. The cation of the mountain forests nessary to be preserved within the coundaries of several different States enders individual State action altoother inadequate for the accomplishcent of the desired end. But there as other directions in which each and If the Southern States could promote mest conservation within their re pective borders, and it is high time hey were taking proper and ede gate steps to that end.
