Davie County May Get More Soil Bank Funds

Although the original allocation of funds to Davie County for payments to farmers taking part in the 1957 Cotton and Tobacco Average Reserve Program has been obligated, farmers who want to participate in the program should make sure their names are listed by the Davie County Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Committee, Chairman C. V. Smoot stated today.

There is a possibility that additional money, unused by other counties and states, for the Cotton and Tobacco Acreage Reserve Program may be reallocated to Davie County. If this happens, agreements will be signed with farmers in the order in which they are listed by the ASC Committee, Mr. Smoot said.

Under the cotton and Tobacco Reserve Program, funds are allocated to every cotton and tobacco allotment county in the United States. County ASC Committees accept applications for Cotton and Tobacco Acreage Reserve agreements, within initial maximum acreage limitations on a "first-come, first-served" basis to the extent these funds last. If the funds allocated to a county are used up before the end of the sign-up period, the County ASC Office lists those farmers who make an application before the sign-up deadline, but who are too late to get in under the original fund allocation.

Then, if more money becomes available through reallocation of money unused in other counties or states, agreements will be accepted from those listed in the order in which their agreements were received to the extent that funds are available. Farmers who indicated to the County ASC Office that they would like to be used in the original fund allocation, but who were not notified if the funds were available, will be notified if additional land is available. Their names will be added to the list.

Funeral services were conducted at 2:30 p. m. Monday at the Macedonia Moravian Church by the Rev. J. G. Brunner, the Rev. N. E. Brewer, the Rev. Norman Byerly, and the Rev. A. C. Cheshire. Burial was in the church cemetery.
