Ball Park Lights Paid In Full Now

At the regular meeting of the Cooleeemee Jaycees on Tuesday night, July 20, 1965, it was reported that enough money was then available to pay off the loan at the local bank which was made for the lights which have been installed at the local ball park. The source of the money was from the Jaycees share of the profits that was made from the Donkey Ball Game which was played on Monday night. A large crowd did attend and they trust everyone had a night of laughs and enjoyment.

The Jaycees also wish to thank all the people of Cooleeemee and surrounding area that have helped them in raising the money to pay for this much needed improvement at our local ball park.

The Jaycees have plans to complete the concession stand at the park as soon as possible.

The crowds at the park have steadily been increasing and the Jaycees hope this will continue, proving that what they and the people of Cooleeemee have worked hard for the past year or so is now being enjoyed by everyone.

RUFUS BROWN SANFORD

In our growing up we were told that the human body was made up of 16 basic elements. Modern science may have discovered others. However, man is much more than body, and a real person embodies such qualities as love, high aspirations, integrity, honesty, courage, faith, neighborliness, kindness which are spiritual in nature and necessary to a full human personality. For many years Mocksville, our neighboring town, was blessed with the presence of a man who early reached maturity in those fine qualities which spelled themselves out in personal conduct, and in service to his community. He was a christian who lived out his heavenly citizenship in the world in which he found himself.

As a business man he was a success; he succeeded because that all the while he was getting, he was giving. As his talent was building a business, it was also building a community. Mocksville expanded, jobs were created and resources of the entire community increased and multiplied. Sound, wise, and prudent use of talent and resources extended a man into the prosperity of the community.

Few people in the community ever stop to realize how much its entire life is the extension and expansion of those few citizens whose spirit, wisdom, diligence, and labor create resources which enrich the community. Rufus Sanford was such a man. His faith, confidence, wisdom, and courage were not expended solely for himself, but for Mocksville, and the surrounding areas. The Cooleeemee Journal gratefully claims Mr. Sanford as a part of our community, since his example and service extended far beyond the physical boundaries of his town.
