Calabash. Now there's an interesting name; familiar yet foreign, and if you're never visited that tiny dot on the map of coastal North Carolina it may just take you a little time to recall that Jimmy Durante has been saying, "Good night, Mrs. Calabash," for several decades.

Calabash, North Carolina, is a small fishing village nestled on the protected banks of Little River a stone's throw from the wide open Atlantic. It is also the gourmet paradise of the hilltoppers from piedmont Carolina, and if business continues to thrive there as it did this summer pretty soon the restaurants will outnumber the fishing boats.

There are approximately a dozen restaurants situated along a half-mile strip, and they serve seafood and corn dodgers like nobody else. Get there early; the lines are long because the service caters to families.

So we explained to the four-year-old on her first trip to a seafood restaurant that she could order any kind of seafood she wanted. In a foghorn voice that "carries" she proclaimed, "Good! Then I'll have some sea horse." It took a few minutes of explanation but she understood, and then seeing a wall plaque of a sea gull she brightened and boomed out, "Then I'll have some eagle meat."

U. S. Bond Sales

Still Climbing

For the fifth successive month, U. S. Savings Bond sales have continued their upward trend in North Carolina. Sales during July totaled $4,410,799 and were up nine percent over July of last year. Bond sales were the largest recorded for July since 1946.

E Bond sales for July were up 11.2 percent, while H Bond sales were down 40.1 percent.

Cumulative Savings Bonds sales for January-July totaled $32,098,548, which is nearly 6 percent above sales for the same period of 1965 and are the best January - July sales since 1955. This is 60.7 percent of North Carolina's 1966 dollar quota of $52,900,000.

Savings Bonds sold during July in Davie County amounted to $17,514 according to Knox Johnstone, Davie County Volunteer Chairman. January - July sales in the county totaled $141,456. This is 89.4 percent of the County's goal of $238,330 for 1966.

The man in the barber chair signaled with his finger, "Got another razor?"

"Why?" asked Vincent the barber.

"I'd like to defend myself," said the customer.

1956 Ford Is Presented To Museum

Darlington, S. C. (Sept. 1) The 1956 Ford convertible with which Curtis Turner won 23 grand national races in one year was presented, today, to the Joe Weatherly Stock Car Museum at Darlington Raceway.

The historic orange and white topless race car was restored to racing condition by Holman and Moody Engineering of Charlotte, N. C., for perpetual display in the popular stock car hall of fame.

NASCAR dropped the convertible division of Grand National season, but Turner's wins in the convertible plus two more in the conventional race cars constitute an all-time NACAR record of 25 wins in one season.

On hand for the presentation was Turner and Ralph Moody, whose firm restored the car.

The convertible will be run on the race track just prior to the start of the Labor Day Southern 500 this year along with seven other historic vehicles housed in the Darlington museum.

LIBRARY NEWS

The Davie County History Room, with its Flossie Martin historical collection, has more than measured up to the expectations placed in it when it was included in the new library building.

Mr. Martin and Mr. James W. Wall have been of great help, not only to people of this county but to many from far-away places! Scanning the list of visitors in the history room turns up such addresses as Dunedin, Florida; Welch West Virginia; Biloxi, Mississippi; Indian Head, Maryland and Cincinnati, Ohio. Then there are entries from Maroa, Illinois, Kirkwood, Mo. and even Topeka, Kansas and Sepulveda, California. People from these places were not just visitors, but were in search of information about families, communities, churches and other material on Davie County.

A few of the family names mentioned in requests have been Holman, Neely, Furgerson, Pearson, Click, Brock and Meroney. It is impossible to name them all, but Sheek, Bryan, McGuire, Mock and Boone were also among them. Questions have been answered on Methodism in Davie County, many of the old churches, on communities and graveyard records, with pictures proving themselves of special interest to researchers. All in all, we can claim a most successful beginning for the Davie County Historical Collection, and this is just the beginning.

Horse Show By Jaycees To Be On Labor Day

Plans are complete for the big Annual Labor Day Horse Show in Kernersville. This will be 12th Annual Horse Show and had previously been sponsored by the Lions Club. This year, as last year, the event is under the sponsorship of the Kernersville Jaycees. The Horse Show will be at the Kernersville School Show Grounds on Monday, of next week, September 5th.

There will be a total of 57 Classes for 3 big shows. Trophies and Ribbons will be awarded the winners in all classes. The first show will start at 9:30 A. M. on Labor Day. The second show will start at 12:30 P. M. and the night show will start at 7:30 P. M.

The Jaycees have arrangements for refreshments and food booths to be open during the entire event.

A deluxe model Portable Television set will be given away as a gate prize during the night show. Admission makes you eligible to win the Television set.

The Horse Show will include all the exciting features of the Labor Day Horse Show last year. These include Egg and Spoon Races, Open Barrel Races, Pick-up Race, Open Pole Bending Race and other events. Also many Quarter Horses will perform along with Pleasure Horses, Ponies, Appaloosas, and many Show Horses of all classes.

The Show is designed to entertain both children and adults with Lead-in Classes in the Pony Division for children 6 years old and under.

The Judges for the Horse Show will be Claude Alexander of Belews Creek and Herb Monroe of Clemmons. Mr. Alexander will judge the English horses and Mr. Monroe will judge the Western horses.

Jack White of Kernersville will act as Master of Ceremonies of the Show with David Lain, a Kernersville Jaycee acting as Ring Master.

The Jaycees will be on hand to work in the Show and in the booths. They are expecting a much larger crowd than last year and have so prepared for them. The Jaycees feel that many people from the Kernersville area will take advantage of the Show to keep off the highways during the holidays. They also expect many visitors from nearby cities and towns who will come to the Show for an entertaining Labor Day.

BLUE ANGELS TO FLY AT REYNOLDS

The Winston - Salem Jaycees sponsor their 1966 Air Fair. This will feature the Blue Angels, U. S. Navy's flight demonstration team. One performance only—1:00 P.M. to 5:00 P. M. Free. No admission charge. Will be held at Smith Reynolds Airport, Winston-Salem on Sunday, October 2.

There will be 26 enlisted men and 10 officers. The Blue Angels are primarily a public relations unit promoting the navy and naval aviation. Four of the pilots fly in the Blue Angels famed diamond formation while two pilots will fly so as a maximum performance demonstration. The seventh pilot is the public information officer in charge of the crewmen who keep the Blue Angels flying. The Blue Angels performed a record of 87 flight demonstrations before more than four million people in 1965. 1966 will be the twentieth anniversary year for the team.

Take it for a test drive. See if you pass.

The real test in a Volkswagen is to see if you know what driving really is. (If you think you're driving in other cars, then what you do in a VW is something else.)

Most cars give you all the lively moving sensation of sitting on your living room couch.

But the Volkswagen isn't sprung like other cars. Its 4-wheel torsion bar suspension (the kind they have in racers) gives you the feel of the road.

You always know what's going on because you know what your car's going on.

And you know what's coming, because you'll see more road than you ever saw before. (Our sloping hood doesn't cut off your view.) When you twist the steering wheel a little, you can feel the front wheels turn a little. So you know the car's doing just what you told it to. (Doesn't that sound satisfying?)

We can tell you that the Volkswagen parks shorter than other cars, and that it maneuvers more easily.

But we can't tell you how it feels to drive one. So take the test. Maybe you can tell us!
