

Easter And Spring Fall Within A Few Days Of Each Other

Easter and the official entry of Spring this year fall within a few days of each other. Although Spring always arrives about the 21st of March, the date of Easter varies over a wider range. This year it is the 26th of March.

To the people of Cooleemee and vicinity in case you need reminding, Easter comes on the first Sunday after the date of the first full moon that occurs on or after March 21—according to Webster's New World Dictionary. Since it celebrates the resurrection of Jesus Christ, it is observed in a pleasant and rather gentle manner—Worship Services, Easter egg hunt and the Easter bonnet.

Countless millions of children will pursue the annual treasure hunt for the gifts of the Easter bunny in brightly colored, easy-to-see baskets—tinted eggs, chocolate rabbits and gumdrops. The excited cries of childish discovery ringing on the spring air are one of the more pleasant aspects of Easter.

Much of the country has endured a harsh winter. Let's hope that Spring arrives with clear skies and that the sun shines on Easter for the benefit of the children and the Easter bonnets.

Girls Will Be Girls

Of course, they are pretty today, they were pretty in yesterday's generation, and they will be pretty in the future—we are referring to girls—but for the life of us we cannot understand why the pretty things want to disfigure their faces with horrible lipstick, and fringe them with stringy unkempt hair. The average Gal of today will spend more on her hair and cosmetics in one year than one of 1900 would spend in a lifetime.

And, as we were around at that time, we are prepared to attest and depone that they were as pretty then as anything that this generation can produce. Maybe, all these things, plus miniskirts, are necessary for the modern girl to catch her man, but sometimes we wonder if such a man would be worth catching—or such a girl capable of making a home. Anyway—we will never stop lovin' 'em.
NCD

Foreign Policy

Our foreign policy has been about the same through several administrations, both Republican and Democratic. This policy has been born in the thinking and attitudes of the people of the United States; for our representatives do mirror the people. The time has come, we believe, to take a good, long look at foreign policy, and put some changes into effect. Our motives have been mixed, as we happen to be human beings, with a human nature in which high and holy aspirations, high ideals and motivations, are strangely mixed with selfishness and greed, expediences and compromises. We did have some high motivations in seeking to help people of other nations; but as our help passed through political and diplomatic channels, the people of the world became suspicious of our motives, and interpreted our actions in terms of looking out for our own interest. Thus, with all the millions given away, we have made more enemies than friends.

One point in this has bothered us for a long time—our aid to Germany. We gave millions to help rebuild Germany, and now that their economy is strong, militarism again lifts up its head, there are signs that Germany is not with us, not appreciative, and gives no guarantees of lending help to us in case we should need it. There are even signs that there is a revival of the Nazi spirit in Germany, and we have never seen any signs that Germany feels repentent for what Hitler did—only sorrow that they lost. We are all for helping hungry and needy people anywhere, and everywhere, but we are not particularly fond of nuturing peoples or nations, who turn against us, with arms supplied by our generosity. We have people here at home who need that money. We need, very much, some stock-taking in regard to foreign aid.
N. C. D

The Door To Peace

The former administrator of the Federal Aviation Agency, and now a senior vice president of a major international airline, describes a problem of the air age to which few people have given thought. Within a few years, super jet airliners with a passenger capacity of several hundred persons will be flying the air routes of the globe. The airline official paints a startling picture of what this will mean at air terminals.

For purposes of illustration he chooses Honolulu, November, 1971: 2,000 passengers have disembarked within a ten-minute period from four super jets arriving from the four corners of the world. To handle these passengers will require 50 busses, or 20 high-speed railway cars, or 80 helicopters, or 1,500 to 2,000 private automobiles. To handle the 16.5 tons of baggage that each of these jumbo jets can carry in its belly, in addition to 400 passengers, is another massive problem in itself.

This appraisal of the future in air travel is not an airline executive's fanciful vision. The 400-passenger planes will soon be rolling off the production lines. The rising curve of air travel, as fares have been brought down within the reach of millions of persons, has become an inexorable fact of the air age. If anything, this official's picture of Honolulu in 1971 may prove to be conservative.

Harder to visualize is the impact which this new mobility of peoples will have on international relationships. So far as commerce is concerned, the dream of one world will have arrived and with commerce hopefully will come a measure of international understanding and goodwill such as has never been known.

At long last, the door to peace and stability may be opened—through the medium of international air transport.

A look at the map will show this idea isn't as far-fetched as it might at first sound.

"It is not a great nation that breeds great people. It is a great people that builds a great nation."—George Romney, Governor of Michigan.

WIM'S WHIMS!
By
Wilma Campbell Osborne

You haven't lived 'till you take a bath in an unheated bathroom on a cold winter's night.

When it rains the floors may get muddy, but the door-mat is spotless. Everyone is careful not to step on it.

There are times when the shovel is much handier than the broom.

What do childless people do at Christmas.

There is no excuse for ladies appearing in public in hair curlers except EXTREME emergencies.

Although he denies it, I think Bruce suffers from Razorphobia!

Oh, blessed quiet ten

Davie Makes Microfilming Preparing

MOCKSVILLE - Preparations will begin Monday in Davie County office buildings for inventorying and microfilming all county records minutes after eight on school mornings.

A good name for our house would be Mad House Manor.

Our house is so crowded even the ants are afraid to come in.

My hair doesn't need teasing—it looks aggravated all the time.

Un-fulfilled dream—to play the violin.

How can something which makes you feel so awful, be called a common cold? It should have a name four inches long and un-pronounceable.

classified as permanently valuable.

Davie is the 68th county to receive this state-sponsored service since the program was inaugurated by the legislature in 1959.

The state voted to microfilm the records for security purposes. Records microfilmed include real estate records, marriages, vital statistics, court records, wills and other documents of a permanent nature.

Churches of the county have been urged to bring their valuable records to the courthouse for microfilming at no cost. Churches interested in preserving their records were asked to get in touch with P. W. Hines, the department's representative and microfilm camera operator in the courthouse.

The microfilming which will take about six weeks, will begin in early April.

Mrs. Ruth Waller is a patient at Rowan Hospital undergoing treatment for an injured hand.

Thomas L. Wands

SALISBURY - Thomas L. Wands of Kansas City, Kan., died Friday in San Francisco, California, after undergoing surgery.

He was born in Scotland to Mr. and Mrs. William Wands. He was a special assistant to the president of the International Brotherhood of Boilermakers, Iron Ship Builders, Forgers and Helpers. He had held a number of other union positions since moving to Kansas City in 1930.

Surviving are his wife, Mrs. Ruth Swicegood Wands, formerly of Spencer; a son, T. L. Wands Jr. of Kansas City; a brother, Ross Wands of Cooleemee; and his parents of Spencer.

Mr. and Mrs. Dewey Jordan returned home Tuesday after spending two weeks with their daughter and husband, Mr. and Mrs. A. T. Kelley in California, Md.

HD Club

On Friday evening, March 17, the Cooleemee Home Demonstration Club held their regular monthly meeting at the home of Mrs. Jim Frye on Main Street. Mrs. James Alexander, president, was in charge of the business. The program for the evening was presented by Mrs. James Everidge, Supt. of Davie County Schools, who showed slides and told of the needs of schools in Davie County. Mrs. Octavia West, Home Agent, gave a short talk. Twelve members and two new ones were welcomed. Mrs. S. L. McKay was a visitor and new members were Mrs. Lawrence Miller and Mrs. Bob McKinnon.

Refreshments were served during the social hour.

Nearly 15 million adult Americans suffer from one or more types of heart disease.

Schoolboy question: What difference would it make if everyone was dumb?

This is Easter!

CROFT suits
exclusively at MOORE'S
Your Choice Of Traditional ivy and conventional styles

Superb CROFT suits tailored to our rigid specifications of easy-care dacron/wool. Traditional Ivy style; three-button coat with hook and center vent, and plain front slacks. Man-cut conventional style with popular plain front slacks. Spring's newest shades, including blue, blue-olive, black, navy and charcoal grey. Sizes 36 to 44, Regular and longs.

45.00

only the look is expensive at MOORE'S

Easter is that beautiful time of the year when the entire family "dresses up" ... so this Easter choose those outfits from Moore's huge collection of fine fashions, such as

Fashion leading dresses

Unfold a new you, radiant in Spring's newest looks with a famous brand dress from Moore's. Select your favorite from an array of the sunniest styles, fabrics and colors.

14<sup>99</sup> and 17<sup>99</sup>

junior petites — 3-13
juniors — 5-15
misses — 8-20
half-sizes 12 1/2 - 24 1/2
women's sizes — 38-44

men's hats

No man's Spring outfit is complete without a straw, and Moore's has a style to please every man! ... Center dents, high crowns, pinch fronts, telescope crowns ... Bright new Spring colors!

2.99-5.99

headed right for Easter!

boys' suits

For a good-looking Easter... Spring and Summer!

Sizes 2 to 7 ...

8.99

Little men will parade in style this Easter when their Mom selects this dacron/cotton suit in blue or olive. It's easy-care, wash 'n wear, too.

parade in style this Easter in ...

she'll be pretty as a picture in ...

Cinderella dresses

5<sup>99</sup> and 10<sup>99</sup>

Dainty dresses to please that little miss for Easter. Choose from a large selection of style favorites in a rainbow of colors.

headturning...

Easter bonnets

by Miss Becky

All the colorful excitement of a new and dazzling you in a light and springy hat that perfectly complements your Easter wardrobe. Latest shapes and shades ... straws, felts, flowers.

5<sup>00</sup> to 12<sup>00</sup>

THREE WAYS TO BUY AT MOORE'S ... FLEXIBLE CHARGE PLAN. LAY-AWAY. CASH

The Cooleemee Journal

PUBLISHED EVERY THURSDAY

J. C. Sell Owner Mrs. J. C. Sell Editor

J. C. SELL, 1908-1940

Second Class Postage
Paid At Cooleemee, N. C.
Eis Code No. 27014

SUBSCRIPTION PRICE

One Year ..... $1.50
Six Months ..... .75
Three Months ..... .50

We do not mean to be hard on any one, but small items of this nature force us to demand the cash with the copy. All such received by us in the future without cash or advance will not be published.

NOTICE TO GENERAL PUBLIC

This newspaper charges regular advertising rates for cards of thanks, resolution notices, obituaries, etc., and will not accept anything less than 25 cents cash with copy unless you have monthly accounts with us.