

Library News

Next Monday night, June 26, will be a good one for the whole family to visit the library -- not only for books but for the two fine films which will be shown in the multi-purpose room at 7:30 P. M.

"Morning Star" shows the hardships encountered in a sheep drive from Arizona to the home ranch in the White Mountains. Two sheep herders take more than 500 sheep safely on the trek and the viewer shares the dangers, excitement and the beauty of the landscape with them. An impressive closing, as scenes of the trip illustrate each phrase of the 23rd Psalm.

"Family Afoot in the Yukon" tells the story of a man and his wife and their two small children exploring a primitive wilderness by hiking through the trackless Yukon territory. Film shows how they live off the country and thrive on the rough going.

Don't miss these films—Monday, June 26th, at 7:30 P. M., in the library!

"A Salute to Cheese", by Betty Wason will intrigue all the cheeselovers who listen to Mrs. Knox Johnstone's review of the book on WDSL on Friday, June 23, at 1:30 A.M. And if you are not already a cheeselover, you may turn to one after hearing Mrs. Johnstone's interesting stories about cheese!
