Library News

Chip Essic has an insect collection at Davie County Public Library, now on display. The collection contains about 100 insects, all of which can be found in Davie County. The insects, which are mostly economic insects, will be arranged and classified by ORDERS and 13 ORDERS are represented. Some interesting facts concerning the collection are that people need to have a better knowledge of insects; they could better control them or utilize them if they knew more of their life cycles, habits, foods, preferences, etc. Information has been given that one half of all deaths are caused by insects; and, for every 1 pound of insects feeding 5 pounds of crops are lost.

Mr. and Mrs. Sam Ellis of Traford, Pennsylvania visited Mr. and Mrs. Lester Ellis and children from Tuesday until Sunday of last week.

SALISBURY — Mr. George Evans, head of the automotive program at Rowan Technical Institute, will be attending the Delco-Remy Service School for two weeks, July 10-21. This school will be held at the Delco-Remy Division of General Motors in Anderson, Indiana.

Also included will be a series of factory tours through automotive production plants to view manufacturing operations involved in producing automotive electrical equipment.

Mr. and Mrs. Gene Saunders and children of Winter Park, Florida were Sunday dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Sell. Mr. Saunders and Mr. Sell are cousins.

Mickle Tops Snipes For Club Golf Title

Bud Mickle, a long ball hitter with a picture book swing, is the new golf champion of the Salisbury Country Club.

Never before had two more inexperienced players reached the finals. It was both players' first real competitive test, neither have played for a major local championship before and Snipes having gripped a golf club for the first time in his life less than four years ago.
