He's Got Home-Grown Tomatoes In January

Mr. C. H. McMahan of the Pine Community really ribbed the girls in the Cooleemee Drug Store about making sandwiches out of shipped tomatoes. Believe it or not, but Mr. McMahan is still eating fresh tomatoes that came off the first vines he planted last spring.

His secret is that he pulled the green tomatoes before the frost killed them and stored them on the garage floor. There was enough ventilation for the tomatoes to ripen slowly, but not cold enough for them to freeze.
