Rev. McDaniel Tells About Making Visit To The Holy Land

By REV. R. L. McDANIEL

There is no doubt in my mind but that the trip to the Holy Land will be of great value in my preaching the word of God. I cannot begin to tell of the significance it has helped me in the location of the different Biblical places. When I preach, it will come back to me and help me to tell where it is, how it looks, and the Biblical significance.

My personal application shall be to the effect of a lowly Nazarene who walked those hills and plains, preaching and teaching men the value of life. It will help me to declare a greater value upon salvation, of a personal Christ who loved us and gave himself for us.

The trip to the Holy Land has brought me closer to Jesus and has helped me to have a greater love for my people. I shall try by His grace to prove to my people that I love them by the way I treat them. There is a new zeal for those that are lost, and I will try to influence my people to become more missionary minded at home as well as at large.

I have been reading the Gospels since I have been home, and when I think of what Jesus said concerning Capernaum that it shall be brought down to hell, I know that it has already been fulfilled. By preaching this and knowing the facts, I am sure it will have more punch.

I preached a sermon Sunday from the passage in St. Luke concerning Capernaum on the subject "The Value of Listening" and one of the members stood and testified at the night service that she could not hardly wait to get back for more.

The Spirit makes it become alive and I thank God for this knowledge.

By seeing all these shrines in Jerusalem almost makes one sick. There is a form of godliness and Christ is still cut off.

I hope by this information that I shall be able to teach and preach to my people the importance of simple worship. Through this knowledge I hope to show them how sickening it is to see people worship things instead of worshiping the Lord.
