

Parents Invited To See How Reading Program Operates

Parents of pre-school children are invited to attend one of four visitation programs at Cooleemee School next week. The programs are designed to explain some of the newer methods being used to teach reading and other subjects.

Because of different working hours of parents, the following times have been designated for the visitation programs.

Tuesday, Apr. 15, 9 to 10:30 a.m.

Wednesday, Apr. 16, 1 to 2:30 p.m.

Thursday, Apr. 17, 9 to 10:30 a.m.

Friday, Apr. 18, 1 to 2:30 p.m.

Pictures on this page illustrate some of the new methods:

Right — Mrs. Crotts, a teacher aide, discusses a story with Tammy Miller, Regina Bean, Cindy Foster, Janice Whitfield, Lisa Osborne and Angela Wensil.

Below — The upside down page isn't a mistake, but an easier way for the child to utilize the whole reading book.
