

Salisbury's Symphony To Give 'Young Peoples' Concert On Sunday

The Salisbury Symphony Orchestra under its conductor professor Albert Chaffoo will give its annual "Young Peoples" concert on Sunday January 18 at 4 p.m. in the College Community Centre.

The concert is offered free to all youngsters from the city and county schools. Parents who wish to accompany their children may do so with no admission charge.

Belk Harry store has arranged to give a reception for the youngsters following the concert in the Crystal Lounge, everyone is invited to attend, and the audience will meet the conductor soloists and the members of the orchestra.

The program will include a big variety for the youngsters according to conductor Chaffoo. Angela Bond an 11 year old pianist will perform part of a Haydn's Concerto with the orchestra, Angel has been studying the piano for 5½ years and was a student of Mrs. A. Roberts of Bloomington, Indiana, and now studying with Mrs. John Epperson of Catawba College. Angela's other musical activities are playing in the Youth Orchestra and singing in the choir of the John Calvin Presbyterian Church. Sandy Hoffman a 12 year old boy will perform a piece by Corelli with the orchestra, Sandy has been 2½ years on the cello, his other musical talents are, singing in the choir of the Milford Hills Baptist Church, playing first chair in the Youth Orchestra, he has also formed a group of four young people including himself who get together and make music, they call themselves "The Singing Group." Mr. Newman Baker Instructor of Percussion at Livingstone College will play the xylophone with the orchestra and will give a brief description of the instruments to the audience. There will also be two student conductors who have been studying under conductor Albert Chaffoo, they are Jill Webb and Gary Cable, both are Catawba College students. The concert will last for one hour, 4 p.m. to 5 p.m. Mrs.

Disabled Persons File Late, Lose Benefits

The Salisbury Social Security Office has received the results of a recent study which reveal that many disabled persons lose benefits each month in the Davie County area because they wait too long to file disability claims. According to Robert Thomas, Manager of the Salisbury Social Security Office, such losses will probably continue to occur unless the general public learns more about social security disability requirements and learns when a claim should be filed. The sad thing is most of those who lost benefits really needed the money during this critical time.

Thomas pointed out that while no benefits may be paid for the first six full months a person is disabled, he should not wait that long to file a claim. He should file immediately if his disabling condition is expected to last at least 12 months. Thomas stated that when a person files early, the paper work can be completed, and the first check can be paid on time. He urges anyone needing information about disability benefits to contact the Salisbury Social Security Office at 105 Corriher Avenue. The office is open from 8:30 a.m. until 4:30 p.m. Monday through Friday.
