Masonic Picnic Is 'Finger Lickin Good'

At least that's what Mrs. Pearle Nifong of Winston-Salem had to say about the 90th annual Masonic Picnic in Mocksville last week. Despite the rain that threatened to dampen the spirits of the whole affair Martha Faircloth and Judy Thompson from the Oxford Orphanage look like they're heading for a good time in the "Haunted Castle." See pages two and three for more photos by James Barringer of the Masonic Picnic.

Masonic Picnic Gate Receipts Total $5,005.37

Gate receipts for the 90th Annual Masonic Picnic.....in spite of the rainy weather.....were the largest in history.

Total receipts for the four day period (rain cancelled out Monday night) amounted to $5,005.37, an increase of $1,661.35 over last year.

However, attendance for the event was down due to the rainy weather last week. The increase was due solely to the increase in admission prices from .10 cents and .25 cents to .25 cents and .50 cents.

Proceeds from the dinner, including ticket sales and donations, amounted to $736.50, a decrease from the $918.25 figure of last year. This decrease was also attributed to the rain. However, this figure may increase as other donations are received.

The sale of barbecued chicken brought in $720, and the bingo concessions brought in a total of $1195.95.

A full report on the total receipts of the 90th Annual Masonic Picnic will be reported later.

A day by day breakdown of the gate receipts, with last year's receipts being shown in parentheses, is listed below:

Monday: Rain (last year $358.46)

Tuesday: $847.54 (($557.36)

Wednesday: $914.31 ($612.59)

Thursday: $2,091.60 ($1,285.56)

Friday: $1,152.12 ($530.25)

It is estimated that around 13,000 persons paid their way into the picnic grounds during the four day period. This compares with an estimate of 21,000 for the five day period last year.
