

They Grow Their Own

Mrs. Ransom Dudley and Mr. Baxter Hellard keep busy in their own ways during the cool fall months. Mrs. Dudley grows her own lemons in the basement of her home. The tree was brought to the Dudleys by their daughter from California three years ago, but this is the first fruit that it has produced. Mr. Hellard takes a look at some giant pear-shaped persimmons, below at left, and he pulls up a big turnip at the right. (Photos by James Barringer).
