Prominent Physicians Favor Hospital Plan.

Dr. H. P. Moseley of Farmville N. C., in this issue has a letter endorsing the construction and maintenance of a Hospital by the County.

Dr. Moseley has had Hospital Experience, having been Resident Physician in St. Lukes Hospital, Norfolk, Virginia, for a year. Dr. Moseley was born in Lenoir County. He bought Dr. Joyner's practice at Farmville. From the beginning of his career his merit was recognized. Today no man, in any calling, stands higher in Farmville than does this splendid young man. We rejoice that the County is attracting young men of such splendid worth and we welcome them because we know we can help them and we know they can help us.

He has practical experience in Hospital work. He knows that they are not expensive—on the contrary they are great economical asset to the County. He knows that they are not dangerous having worked in a Public Hospital long enough to know beyond a doubt that they save life and make disease more comfortable than anything else can.

Farmville, N. C., July 30, 1914.
Honorable Board of County Commissioners:

Gentlemen:—I am heartily in favor of the movement for the erection and maintenance of a Pitt County Hospital as provided for by our recent N. C. legislative body. I think, however, that such an institution should be built as conveniently as possible to the depot of Greenville in order that it may be more accessible to get patients to and from.

Yours very truly,
H. P. MOSELEY, M. D.

ATLANTIC COAST REALTY CO'S ANNUAL MEET.

Greenville, N. C. Aug. 3—The Atlantic Coast Realty Co., whose home office is in our city held their annual convention at Ocean View, Va. July 31st and Aug. 1st.

It was the great occasion of the year for the officers and employees of the company where some forty people of this Premier Auction Co. got together at Ocean View Hotel.

The territory for this business is so large and the employees so numerous that many of the men do not meet except at the annual convention. A successful auction sale of lots was held in Norfolk Va., July 30th, and Norfolk people had their first opportunity to see the premier auction company of North Carolina sell lots at the rate of a lot a minute.

Friday morning and afternoon was devoted to speeches and addresses by officers of the company and heads of the various departments. The morning and afternoon sessions on Saturday were devoted to talks and discussions by the various members of the company. The convention was brought to a close after a sumptuous banquet at Ocean View Hotel Saturday night.

The menu cards for the banquet were something new and original, being on blue prints showing a plot of city blocks and lots with all the streets and avenues named after officers and members of the company. Numerous toasts on the different men were also worked up on the menu and the special President of the Realty Co., J. W. French, acting in last order, demanded

SUPPLEMENTAL ORDINANCES

Town of Farmville, N. C.

By Order of Town Commissioners.

Upon motion made and duly carried; Be it Ordained.

Sec. 1—That it shall be unlawful for any person or firm to build, maintain, use, or cause to be built, maintained or used, any privy in the town of Farmville without having the seat or holes of same situated or constructed over a fly-proof pit dug in the earth not less than two and one-half feet deep, which shall be walled or boxed from the ground around the seat and back of privy.

Sec. 2—That in portion of the town where it is impractical to use pits under privies, surface privies may be constructed when permission from the Sanitary Committee and Health Officer has been obtained, provided such privies shall be so built, constructed, maintained and used as to prevent the access of flies to any excrement that may be deposited therein. Said privy shall be constructed and used as to permit the proper and easy placing and removal of water-tight galvanized iron receptacles under the seat of said privy.

Sec. 3—Said privy shall be so located as to be readily accessible to the health officer, inspectors and scavengers at all reasonable hours, except when said privy is occupied or in use, and each person, firm or corporation building, constructing or using such a privy shall pay a privy tax of three dollars annually for the expense of keeping same clean and in a sanitary condition.

Sec. 4—That it shall be the duty of the Health Officer or Sanitary Inspector, or his authorized agent, to inspect all privies and have cans and pads removed, cleaned and replaced at least once each week between April 1st and November 1st, and if complaint is made against any privy, he shall inspect it at once and the Health Officer shall be responsible for the enforcement of this ordinance, and any person, firm or corporation violating any of the provisions of this ordinance shall be guilty of a Misdemeanor and subject to a fine of five dollars, and every day's failure to comply with the provisions and requirements of this ordinance shall constitute a separate offense.

That the provisions of this ordinance shall be in force on and after the 15th day of August 1914.

FURNITURE

There is furniture in your mother's home that you remember there as far back as memory goes—beds and chairs probably that are endeared to you through the very fact of your long association with them.

But unless you are careful in buying and know where to buy—your little boys and girls will not have the opportunity of seeing the furniture of their childhood days when they grow up.

The furniture we sell is made from the very best and most thoroughly seasoned lumber. It has been treated in the good old-fashioned way and made by cabinet makers who follow the old reliable methods of construction.

That's why it pays to buy furniture here.
