DEAR FRIENDS:—"It is better to be SAFE than to be SORRY."
Don't believe all you see, for the tallest shaft in the cemetery doesn't always reach nearest heaven.

With pleasure we announce that we are still in business, and at the same old stand. :- Realizing the unpleasant feature in lending money or promising big prices for drummers we have eliminated them. Also the idea of "Giving Watered or Fictitious Stock" is absurd, and we boast of the fact that we are not guilty of either. This enables us more than ever to push prices and, as heretofore, take better care of our customers—even in time of war.

Stop! Look! Listen! And Remember Dear Farmer!
"That Men, Like Pins, Are Worthless When They Lose Their Head"; and so have you lost all competition when you sign your free right to sell only where the stock will fade like mist before the sun.

Miss Smith Entertains.

Fountain, July 28.—On Thursday night Miss Elberta Smith gave a delightful lawn party in honor of her guest Miss Dorothy Johnson, of Winterville. When the guest arrived they were ushered out to the lawn which was beautifully lit with Japanese lanterns. The numerous tables were soon all filled and games were in progress. After which fruits and refreshments were served. The enjoyable event closed near the midnight hour with a contest, over which Miss Johnson presided. The crowd left thanking their hostess for three hours pleasure that had only seemed like one.
