Public Demonstration of Cattle Dipper

To be Held on the Farm of Mr. O. L. Joyner, near Greenville, Monday, July 3rd, at 1:30 p. m.

There will be a public demonstration of cattle dipping at Mr. O. L. Joyner's farm, near Greenville, Monday, July 3rd, at 1:30 p. m., conducted by Dr. G. S. Smith of the Norfolk office of the U. S. Bureau of animal industry. This will be a very interesting event and everybody is invited to attend. A similar demonstration was recently held in Virginia, and one of the leading veterinarians, "Doc" Johnson, and other experts, and several other men were present.

The dipping will be done in a tank of kerosene and lime. The dipping will be done in a tank of kerosene and lime. The dipping will be done in a tank of kerosene and lime.

Baby Needs Warm Care in Summer Time

Summer but many the effects of hot weather on their food. For this reason there is better and safer food for babies than mother's milk. Babies should not be weaned in the summer unless the doctor orders it and then his advice should be followed in preparing their milk and food. Buy the best and cleanest milk you can get and keep it cool and covered.

Babies often cry because they are thirsty or because they are getting too much food, or because they are hot. Give the baby all the cool boiled water it wants. Boil the water for twenty minutes and keep it cool and covered. Have it fresh every day. Dress the baby for comfort in hot weather. On hot days leave off its dress and see that its arms and legs are free to the air.

Fresh air is most important to the baby's health and comfort in summer time. Keep it out in cool shady places as much as possible but free from flies and mosquitoes. Have the bedroom windows wide open at night.

"Bathe the baby in cool water at least once a day or oftener in warm weather. If it has quickly heat, put a teaspoonful of bicarbonate of soda in the bath. Use a good powder after the bath.

"If the baby is sick, stop feeding it altogether. Give it water instead, and see the doctor at once. Don't let the neighbors tell you what to do.

"Remember that regular feeding keeps fresh air, one of all kinds, plenty of cool boiled water to drink, clean, dry clothes to wear, cool beds, and the doctor when the baby is sick, will save the baby during the summer months.

Some Questions for Church Members

Are you a Christian? Do you belong to a church? Were you at Sunday School last Sunday? Were you there on time? And did you attend the preaching service at your church?

If you cannot answer the above questions in the affirmative on what grounds do you claim to be a Christian? Isn't a Christian one who is Christlike? Is it Christlike to entertain company at home on Sunday and neglect your religious duty?

If the people who attend church received $1.00 each Sunday for their attendance at church would you not be there every Sunday with your whole family? Then is your religion not worth a dollar?

As parents, should you not see that your children go to church? Did you say you could not get them to go? Does the Bible say, "Parents obey your children?" Do you say you live so far away that your children cannot get ready in time for Sunday School? Five mornings in every week they are at the public school on time. Is it any further to the churches that it is to the public school?

Is their education worth more than the salvation of their souls? Are you one of the people to whom Jesus can say, "Ye are the light of the world?" Did you say, "This is none of my business?"

Remember that the man who neglects his duty to his neighbor and his duty to his God, will be lost.

Joseph N. Bynum Ordained To Episcopal Ministry

Immanuel Episcopal church was the scene of a very beautiful ordination service here Tuesday when Mr. Joseph N. Bynum, grandson of the late Dr. J. N. Bynum, was ordained to the Episcopal ministry by Bishop Thomas C. Darst, bishop of the Eastern Diocese. The ordination service was preached by the Rev. J. H. Griffith, pastor of St. Mary's church of Kinston, and was one of impressiveness and wise counsel. The rector of Immanuel church, the Rev. John R. Matthews, presented the candidate to the bishop.

After the ordination services the bishop confirmed a class of four, and then administered the holy communion. Mr. Bynum, the newly ordained minister, conducted the services in the evening and preached a very interesting and impressive sermon.

Our National Flower. Mountain laurel is urged. It is the most beautiful and most typical. The golden-rod, the daisy and the golden-malze flower are also suggested.

Farmers do not like the daisy; the golden-rod is a weed and is said to cause hay fever. And the golden-rod is a weed and is said to cause hay fever.

For many years the mountain laurel has been used as the source of malaria. That idea being to the dead past. The only relation they have at all to malaria is that the mosquito, which is the only thing that carries the malaria germ or organism, breeds in water and flies around and bites people at night. You can see how the old idea concerning malaria became associated with water and night air. Don't again say, "All people who have malaria unless you have been bitten by a certain kind of mosquito called the Anopheles. Not even the ordinary kind of mosquito that bites at night can give you that disease."

For your further information and comfort," I added, "our State Board of Health has just recently made the statement that North Carolina has the lowest percentage of malaria infections of any Southern State, so when you leave N. C. to get rid of malaria, be careful where you go."

Didn't Know Cause Of Malaria

A Point on Which a Traveling Man Was Not Posted

"It is surprising to me," said a man recently, "how many people, and the majority of them intelligent, well read people, don't yet know the cause and source of malaria. Why, just yesterday," said he, "a traveling man who seemed well posted on every subject that came up, said to me 'I like North Carolina fine, but you know this part of the State don't agree with me. I am chock-full of malaria already and I have been here only two weeks. I shall be glad when my territory is covered and I can get up to the mountains. My friend, where have you been to have been so subjected to mosquitoes? As for me I have not seen a one this summer. Neither have I, said the man. 'Well, did you have malarial fever last summer or summer before? This is my first attack, said he, 'and I'm trying to make it as tight as possible by drinking as little of this water as possible. Water nothing,' said I, 'do you think that a person gets malaria from drinking water? 'From drinking water and this low climate,' said he. 'My friend, said I again, 'you are well up on a lot of subjects, but you are not up on malaria. Malaria, has long ago been discarded as the source of malaria. That idea being to the dead past. The only relation they have at all to malaria is that the mosquito, which is the only thing that carries the malaria germ or organism, breeds in water and flies around and bites people at night.
