ATTACKED AT NIGHT, AND 300 ARE KILLED.

HAND OF BOLSHIEVIKI SHOWN

Officials Have Known for Some Time That Many Thousands of Koreans Meditated Hostile Action.

Washington.—Official dispatches received here said a force of 2,000 Koreans, armed principally with equipment furnished by the bolsheviks, crossed into northern Korea from Kirin, Manchuria, and attacked a Japanese post of 700 men at night, killed 300 of them and routed the remainder.

According to these dispatches, the attack was the initiation of an active rebellion in Korea. It was described as "the beginning of a tremendous affair."

Several other clashes have occurred between the insurgents, greatly reinforced by recruits from the natives of the districts, and troops forming Japanese frontier posts, the dispatch said. In nearly every case the Japanese were outnumbered heavily and were forced to withdraw after suffering heavy losses.

According to official information, bolshevik authorities are in close touch with the Korean leaders and are making every effort to provide their troops with adequate equipment.

Officials here have known for some time that many thousands of Koreans who fled into Manchuria were meditating hostile action against Japanese. While there is no real bolshevik feeling among these people according to the authorities, they are stirred by the example of the Japanese that they

EDUCATION MUST CURB RADICALISM

STRICT LAWS TOGETHER WITH STRICT ENFORCEMENT WILL NOT CURE THE EVIL.

PURPOSE IS NOT UNDERSTOOD

100,000 in New York Alone Have Joined Organization With Intent To Overthrow the Government.

Washington.—Stringent laws and strict enforcement of them will not curb radicalism but education must walk hand and hand with law, Charles D. Newton, attorney general of New York, told the house judiciary committee, which is considering anti-sedition legislation.

Though differing with the New York attorney general in the extent and seriousness of the radical movement, Francis H. F. Kane, who resigned as district attorney for eastern Pennsylvania because he differed with the department of justice in its campaign against the "reds," agreed that education was needed because many members of the communist, communist labor and other radical parties were ignorant of the purposes of the organization of these reprehensible cards.

Washington.—Renewing his charges of an enormous waste of print paper by executive departments of the federal government, Senator Smoot, told the senate that from July 1, 1916, to last July 15, 30,144,362 copies of speeches made by cabinet officials and other persons were printed at a total cost of $442,000.

Senator Smoot said this not only was a waste of paper, but an "abuse of the public's money" and a "wicked practice" that should be stopped.

The treasury department alone, he said, had "3,066,000 copies of speeches requiring 758,996 pounds of paper printed and distributed while the railroad administration had 3,055,500 copies of speeches made by William G. McAdoo at Altoona, Pa. in 1918, were printed and distributed.

BOLSHEVIK RUSSIA TO BE RECOGNIZED

PEOPLES OF WESTERN EUROPE
IN NO MOOD FOR FIGHTING
CAUSELESS QUARREL.

PEACE DESPERATELY NEEDED

Russians Must Stay Within Their Own Frontiers, Cease Propaganda and Thus Secure Peace and Trade.

London.—Although not officially admitted, the lifting of the blockade against the bolsheviks means that the control of the soviet government throughout Russia and most of Siberia is recognized by the great powers.

Behind the dictates of "humanity," demanding that Russian peasants be supplied with certain vital necessities are the hard, cold facts of soviet triumph.

It was a question of recognizing the new Russian government, or of fighting it to a finish.

And the war-weary peoples of western Europe are decidedly in no mood to be hurled against a mighty nation with whom they have no quarrel.

France is passive, but worried by the turn of events because such a large block of French capital is tied up in the securities of the old Russian monarchy.

England's attitude is not to be mistaken for one of weakness. The giant black sea fleet is being sent to protect the Baku oil fields and the approach to India. "In order to answer a large number of questions all at once, let me emphasize that I have taken a day off from the industrial conference in Washington to come to New York solely to attend pressing matters in connection with the children's relief. I want to say again: Have not sought and am not seeking the presidency. I am not a candidate. I have no organization. No one is authorized to speak for me politically.

"As an American citizen by birth and of long ancestry, I am naturally deeply interested in the present critical situation. My sincere and only political desire is that out of both of the great political parties will emerge a clear purpose looking to the welfare of our people and that candidate capable of carrying out this work should be nominated.

"If the treaty goes over to the presidential election with any reservations necessary to clarify the world's mind that there can be no infringement of the safeguards provided by our constitution and our nation old traditions then I must vote for the party that stands for the league. With it, there is hope not only of prevention of war, but also that we can safely economize in military polities. There is hope of earlier returns of confidence and the economic reconstruction of the world.
