CUT IN PRICE OF COAL COMES NEXT

CHEAPER COAL MEANS LOWER COSTS IN MANUFACTURING POWER AND LIGHTING

GREAT SLUMP IN VEGETABLES

Approximately 248 Articles of Food, Clothing and Manufactured Commodities Have Been Reported

Washington—Coal will be the next reported commodity added to the list of 248 necessities on which prices have been cut. Director General G. H. Canning of the American Wholesale Coal Dealers' Association, predicted.

Coal prices experienced a slump of more than 25 a ton in eastern states a month ago. Another slump is due soon throughout the country, according to Canning.

Cheaper coal means lower costs in manufacturing electric light and power or in street car lines and factories. It may have the effect of preventing further increased rates to street car companies in many cities.

"Coal at least the minimum necessity, one is getting into the class of commodities in which surplus stocks are piling up," said Canning.

The biggest slump in months to be reported in prices of vegetables, according to the announcement by the agricultural department. The department showed that many farmers are being forced to sell produce at less than the cost of production.

This is due to record crops. The potato crop was 15 per cent larger than an ordinary year. Similar large increases were shown in the onion and cabbage crops.

Approximately 248 articles of food, clothing and manufactured commodities have been reported added to the list of necessities.

COX WOULD PUT 'AMERICA FIRST'

Democratic Candidate Has True Realization of Meaning of Phrase

SEES COUNTRY'S REAL DUTY

Justice Harding, Whose Appeal to the Senate, Cox Would Finish the Task Left as a Trust by Those Who Died

The Republican candidate for president is very fond of dwelling on the phrase "America first," made famous by President Wilson, but need in a different sense from which it is used by Senator Harding.

One would naturally think, therefore, that Senator Harding had a strong affection for Americans first, and if there are any Americans who are more entitled to be named as first than other Americans it is those who have given their lives for their country and for humanity. Many thousands of such are sleeping in France, as well as those who rest in our own land.

Senator Harding has delivered many analogies of the past, and for the reason of the Civil War he has praised the valor and sacrifice of the Americans who died to free the people of the Antilles in the Spanish-American war, and he has done so not only in years past but in this campaign.

His speeches in the present campaign have been noticeably lacking in allusions or even references to "the boys who sleep in France." One would be justified in thinking that he was not aware of the sacrifices American youth made in the "war to end wars" or if so that they were forgotten and that all they would be starting is a distinction between wars fought under Republican administrations and wars fought under Democratic administrations.

We will not elaborate such a thought even though we are forced to wonder at his silence on the latter.

Senator Cox, on the other hand, has not only delivered a speech

—Newly acquired home of the League of Nations, 2000...
—Military funeral in London of Mrs. John A. Deane, widow of a...
—Silver medal of the Mayflower presented by the city of Plymouth...
—Ambassador Page at the Mayflower anniversary celebration.
