

IMMEDIATE AID FOR STARVING IN CHINA

Thomas W. Lamont Announces Active Work by China Famine Fund Following Successful Close of Hoover's Campaign for European Children.

More active efforts to bring immediate aid to the starving people of China will follow the successful close of Herbert Hoover's campaign for the relief of the children of Europe, according to a statement issued today by Thomas W. Lamont, Chairman of the American Committee for China Famine Fund. Co-operation of all churches, Protestant, Catholic and Jewish, the statement says, is already assured, while the United States Chamber of Commerce and other national associations have promised liberal aid.

"Now that Mr. Hoover's splendid campaign is nearly over and has been crowned with success," Mr. Lamont declares, "the Committee on China Relief expects to develop its work much more actively."

The Lamont statement is based on cable advices just received at the State Department from Charles R. Crane, American Minister at Peking, giving details of relief measures needed and already in operation. Food and clothing, Minister Crane says, are the urgent needs, while medical units are also required for preventative measures against typhus. Five such units are already being organized, each consisting of one foreign and two Chinese doctors, six nurses and ten coolies, but in the probable event of a severe epidemic of typhus fifty similar units will be required.

Transport difficulties, Minister Crane says, have been completely overcome; 5,000 tons of food a day are now being moved by railroad, and this quantity could be increased immediately to 6,000 tons, if the money was forthcoming to buy the food of which ample supplies are available in Manchuria. In addition to the railroads, rivers and canals will shortly be opened to traffic as a result of an exceptionally mild winter. The question of getting relief to the starving, the Minister emphasizes, is solely one of money.

Mr. Lamont's statement follows: "We have recently received by cable through the Department of State advices from Peking bearing upon various phases of the situation which should be of decided interest to the American Community. I may summarize these points as follows:

1. Our contributions are being devoted directly and effectively to the saving of human life. Every dollar that we send out there goes to relieve immediate and terrible suffering.

2. The Committee in charge are made up of active and experienced men. The American Committee to which we are almost daily transferring funds is composed entirely of capable and patriotic men, in whom contributors may have every confidence.

3. Congestion of transport has been relieved and advices are that the railroads are now at least free of cargo, all the supplies that are offering.

4. If money can be made promptly available there are on the ground supplies that can be purchased of high nutrition value, and of a kind to which the Chinese are not accustomed. The supplies are therefore in demand, and we are not only but also for clothes, which is very scarce, and for certain medical supplies to avert outbreaks of typhus.

Now that Mr. Hoover's splendid campaign for the Relief of the Children of Europe is nearly over and has been crowned with success, the Committee on China Relief expects to develop its work much more actively, building up local organizations as rapidly and effectively as possible, so that appeal may reach every American to join in this movement, even more effectively than they have supported similar movements in the past. Protestant, Catholic and Jewish Groups are all working together.

The Chamber of Commerce of U. S. A. and many other National Associations have given their services liberally and are actively supporting the Committee's efforts. Throughout the length and breadth of the land an intense sympathy for China is being shown and unsolicited contributions received at the Relief Offices, in the Bible House, New York City, are constantly on the increase. The offer of the Western Farmers to donate corn upon a large scale is typical of the generous spirit being shown. Every effort is being made to gain Governmental and Congressional co-operation, so as to make speedily possible the early transportation of five million bushels of corn to starving China.

The Chinese Relief Committee in North Carolina is composed of a number of prominent ministers and business men, headed by former Governor Thomas W. Bickett, Chairman; E. B. Crow, Vice President of the Commercial National Bank, Treasurer. During the past few weeks the committee has received a very generous response from a number of civic and religious bodies and individuals who have heard the cry of the starving millions. But much more is needed and from now on the committee will endeavor to carry its message of service into every corner of this great and prosperous state.

It is estimated that at present prices three cents saves a life for a day, and five dollars until the next harvest. Surely there are none too poor to have a part in this life saving work.

ALL CONTRIBUTIONS should be placed in the hands of the local organization where there is one, or addressed to THE CHINA FAMINE FUND, 310 TUCKER BUILDING, RALEIGH, N. C. Contributions through this committee are promptly forwarded to New York and cabled immediately to the International Committee in China, being transmitted from money to food in less than a week's time. There are practically no overhead charges now, as the Rotary Clubs of the State have raised a fund to finance the State Committee's Campaign.

PERHAPS.

The autumn moon was beaming softly through the leafy arbor where they sat—he and she. He kissed her gently. She slapped him.

"Oh, forgive me," he cried. "It was the mosquitoes. I should never have done it had I been myself."

Again she slapped him. Perhaps the night air was intoxicating.

For Torpid Liver

"Black-Draught is, in my opinion, the best liver medicine on the market," states Mrs. R. H. White, wife of Kears, Okla. She continues: "I had a pain in my chest after eating light, uncomfortable feeling, and this was very disagreeable and brought on headache. I was constipated and knew it was indigestion and inactive liver. I began the use of Black-Draught, night and morning, and it sure is splendid and certainly gives relief."

Theford's BLACK-DRAUGHT

For over twenty years this purely vegetable preparation has been found beneficial by thousands of persons suffering from effects of a torpid, or slow-acting liver. Indigestion, biliousness, cold, coated tongue, dizziness, constipation, headache, sleeplessness, lack of energy, pain in back, puffiness under the eyes, and all of these symptoms, when taken together, indicate that there is something the matter with your liver. You can't be too exact about the medicine you take. It is that the name, "Theford's Black-Draught" is on the package. At all times.
