Carr Family Has Fine Reunion.

Perhaps Sunday, July 30th, witnessed the most enjoyable reunion ever, known to the family of Mr. P. L. Carr. The scene of the occasion was the Carr home in Greene county.

By eleven thirty a. m. the whole family had arrived at the old home place. The lively crowd of grand children played every game imaginable, having the biggest time of their lives. The older children and mother and father all had a good old time chat together. Several told funny incidents of by gone days which caused much laughter and merriment. Some told sad memories; others told. Brother and sister who had met only rarely in years had cozy confidential chats.

In what seemed a few moments dinner was announced. Everyone hastened to the lawn where a most tempting feast of good things was spread under the oaks. Steaming barbecue, pickles, cakes, salads, chicken, meats of all kinds, and coco cola galore, attracted even the faintest appetite. Hard times flew a million miles away and everyone was in perfect bliss for the hour.

The afternoon flew swiftly away and the brothers and sisters reluctantly parted, desiring the next reunion should not be long.

The only invited guests were the family physician and wife, Dr. and Mrs. W. M. Willis. The members of the family attending from Farmville were, Miss Winnie, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Joyner, and Mr. and Mrs. Wm Teal.

Colds & Headache

"For years we have used Black-Draught in our family, and I have never found any medicine that could take its place," writes Mr. H. A. Stacy, of Bradyville, Tenn. Mr. Stacy, who is a Rutherford County farmer, recommends Black-Draught as a medicine that should be kept in every household for use in the prompt treatment of many little ills to prevent them from developing into serious troubles.

THE FORD'S BLACK-DRAUGHT

"It touches the liver and clears the work," Mr. Stacy declared. "It is one of the best medicines I ever saw for a cold and headache. I don't know what we would do in our family if it wasn't for Black-Draught. It has saved us many dollars. I don't see how any family can hardly go without it. I know it is a reliable and splendid medicine to keep in the house. I recommend Black-Draught highly and am never without it."
