Harold F. McCormick, until recently chairman of the Board of Directors of the International Harvester Company, is reported to have ascribed seven million dollars of the fortune made off farm machinery to wed the woman of his choice, Ganna Walska, the operatic widow-divorcee opera singer. McCormick gave up these dollars in a financial arrangement with his first wife, Mrs. Edith Rockefeller McCormick, a handsome settlement upon her precipitate bride and the cost of two divorces, his own, and also his bride's from Alexander Smith Cochran.

TEAMS OF INTEREST GATHERED FROM SOUTHERN AUTOMOBILE TOUR BY CITIZENS FROM PITT.

H. L. Smith Continues Series of Stories Dealing With Recent Automobile Tour.

PARTY RECEIVED AT DUBLIN BY LARGE NUMBER CITIZENS

Cordial Welcome Extended by Chamber of Commerce City of Dublin and Kiwanis Club.

(By H. L. SMITH.)

This paper will carry a series of articles, beginning today, on the boll weevil tour of South Carolina and Georgia. Mr. H. L. Smith, Secretary of the Pitt County Chamber of Commerce, has agreed to furnish the material. The trip, as the public know, was made under the auspices of the Pitt County Chamber of Commerce and the County Agent.

The following are the ones actually making the trip: W. B. Pace, O. P. W. Hadley, E. B. Higgs, J. B. King, D. W. Harden, D. L. Turnage and H. L. Smith, of Greenville; Jno. T. Thorpe, Farmville; R. W. Smith and P. [illegible] of Ayden; G. S. Proctor, J. [illegible] Jeffreys, A. O. Clark, of Grimesland; G. S. Porter, of Chocowinity; M. O. Speight of Winterville; W. J. Smith, of Bethel; W. F. Stokes, of Stokes; J. P. Davenport, of Paciolus.

The party met at Goldsboro on the morning of August 2nd, and made ready for the trip. Placards, which had been previously provided by the Chamber of Commerce, were placed on the rear of each car. This arrangement showed the name of the Chamber of Commerce and the town from which each car came. This feature of the trip also focused attention all along the route. Also descriptive matter about Pitt County towns and county was distributed. The advertising value of the trip was great.

The party was met at Fayetteville at noon by the secretary of the Chamber of Commerce, R. M. Horsburgh, who showed the delegation every courtesy possible. Following [illegible] the trip was resumed with Florence, S. C., as destination point for the night. The party was met several miles this side of Florence by a representative of the Chamber of Commerce and piloted thru Pedee swamp, which was the worst place encountered on the trip.

On the morning of August 3rd, the Florence Chamber of Commerce took charge of our party and visited several places of interest, including the Experimental station. At noon the party was entertained at a luncheon given by the Florence Chamber of Commerce, after which the party resumed its journey.

Calcium arsenate is the only thing that we have found profitable and that only when it is applied correctly and in reasonably dry years." To do other than this is but to court expense, disgust and failure."

After completing the program at Florence, the party left at 2:00 p. m., Aug. 3rd, with Bennettsville, S. C., as destination point for the night. Local people from Florence accompanied the party several miles out of town so that the proper detour would be taken, thus avoiding a piece of road under construction.

Columbia, S. C., was reached by nightfall. Some minor adjustments were made on some of the cars, after which they proceeded to Batesburg. From Camden, which was reached before getting to Columbia, to Batesburg and then to Augusta, Ga., the roads were excellent—and very good and well built.

The party arrived at Augusta, in the morning of Aug. 4th, from which place they proceeded to Dublin, Ga., where they were expected around 7:00 o'clock. Enroute the following towns were made: Waynesboro, Midville, Swainsboro.

A [illegible] after 7:00 o'clock [illegible] was extended by the Chamber of Commerce, the city of Dublin and the Kiwanis club.

Early next morning Dublin citizens accompanied the party to several places of interest, including the commercial hatchery, creamery, ice-cream plant, large farm of Captain W. B. Rose, M. C. Dominy's hog farm.

The hatchery, under the supervision of Mr. B. F. Cochran, has made wonderful progress. It is a 2,400 egg capacity incubator. Mr. Cochran states that space has been taken quite a bit in advance of each hatch. It is so operated that any farmer in any one day can bring his eggs to this hatchery, pay for his space, and at the proper time come back for his chicks.

The following quotations from Mr. Cochran, who is in the wholesale grocery business, will give his ideas of the poultry business:

"The crop in Laurens county (Dublin is the county seat) was made in a nice way this year, with chickens and eggs.

"100 hens, properly cared for, will net $300.000 per year."

He started with the English strain White Leghorn, and with an initial investment of $100.00 two years ago. Since then I have bought additional stock. This year my profits will reach $800.00."

FOUR SURPRISE FACTORS INJECTED

The Return of Three Eastern Presidents Not Commented on by Heads of Asso.

ANY FACTOR MAY INFLUENCE ACTION R. R. EXECUTIVES

Decision to Raise Wages Hailed by Strikers as a Point in Their Favor

New York, Aug. 22.—Four surprise factors entered into the rail strike situation yesterday, any one of which, according to representatives of roads and brotherhoods, may vitally influence the action of the association of railway executives when it meets tomorrow to consider peace proposals for mediation with the big five brotherhoods. They were:

1. The announcement that presidents of three powerful eastern roads, Samuel Rea, of the Pennsylvania; E. B. Loomis, of the Lehigh Valley, and William Besler, of the New Jersey Central, were expected to arrive from Europe on the Mauretania in time to participate in the conference of the Association of Railway Executives.

2. The grant by three large steel corporations of a 20 per cent wage increase to their several hundred thousand day laborers.

[illegible] of the executive committee of the Eastern Presidents' conference, that predictions of a strike, threats and peace in the [illegible] advance talk, that several [illegible] are on [illegible] for them to hold the unskilled crafts in line.

[illegible] refused for comment on the anticipated arrival of the three eastern presidents. The return on the same boat, and in the face of the present crisis, was admitted significant, however, especially since their respective vice presidents have been the nucleus of the group with the conference of the national association has consistently fought against any peace plan which included reinstatement of strikers with seniority rights unimpaired.

The decision of the steel corporations to raise the wages of laborers, announced just 24 hours prior to the scheduled meeting of the executives, is hailed by the strikers as a point in their favor. It not only justified their refusal to accept wage cuts fixed by the Railroad Labor Board, they said, but was ample proof of an impending industrial boom which would put the railroads, with their thousands of bad order cars, more than ever in need of their old repair forces.

"This wage increase will put considerable fire into the veins of organized labor," declared Davis Williams, secretary of the eastern strike committee. "The railroad men will find it hard to understand why the should get $3.75 a day when he could get the same work in the mills [illegible] for the railroads don't settle with their employees, it will be doubly difficult [illegible]

TARIFF BILL IS DENOUNCED BY POU ON FLOOR

Says That Republican Bill Is Nothing More Than "Brick Made of Fool Gold".

NOBODY SEEMS TO WANT IT, NOT EVEN SPONSORS

Floor Leader Mondell is Forced to Admit That He Is Not Enthusiastic Over It

Washington, Aug. 22.—Characterizing the Republican tariff bill as "a brick made of fools gold," Congressman E. W. Pou in the House this afternoon declared that in the opinion of the Republicans did not propose to put up the measure before the election, that they knew the people, but it framed the present bill and when they got to be in conference until after the election. Possibly it may not be a bill that nobody wants, but it is the bill that the Republicans have framed and they have got to stand by it. In conference until after the election. Possibly it may not be a bill that nobody wants, but it is the bill that the Republicans have framed and they have got to stand by it. In conference until after the election.

[illegible] the American valuation section had been knocked out, that it appeared that the committee should handle it again. Chairman Campbell of the House ways and means committee, just repudiated by the Republicans of his district, has spoken in behalf of the bill. Mr. Pou said that this bill is going to bring upon the American people.
