

Welcome To
FARMVILLE
The Little City With Big Possibilities.

THE FARMVILLE ENTERPRISE

In Unity There is STRENGTH, and FARMVILLE
HAS BOTH

Published by The Rouse Printery

"WATCH FARMVILLE PUSH FORWARD"

Subscription $1.50 a Year in Advance

VOL. 13

FARMVILLE, PITT COUNTY, NORTH CAROLINA, JANUARY 12, 1923

NO. 35

About Forty People In Cast Soon to Play

"Mr. and Mrs. Polly Tickk"

Best Local Talent Being Used
In Production.

The play which will be given Tuesday night, January 16th, in the school auditorium will be full of humor—the hold your sides kind—and will be entertaining in every particular.

The time will be 1915. In the first act, the women go off to the lodge, leaving the men behind. The neglected husbands get together for a knitting party. Billy Lawson, who still retains his masculine dress, drops in to chide his friends about the shackles they are wearing and is told that after he is married he will surrender his freedom just as they have done. This brings on an argument during which Sullivan O'Brien rushes in with the startling news that the women are planning to send Daisy Ann Gray to Congress so as to pass the Anti-Trouser Bill. After the meeting the "Emancipated Women" march in armed with brooms and in military style present them to the men. The act closes with a rousing chorus. The second act opens with an house cleaning scene in which Tickk is assisted by his married friends. While they are in the midst of the day's scrubbing, in comes Billy, announcing that he is about to start a movement which will overthrow this petticoat government, in which plan the men join heartily. Just as the house-cleaning begins again, Sullivan O'Brien breaks in announcing that Senator Zella Highbrow, the author of the Anti-Trouser Bill will speak to the women that evening, whereupon the men devise a scheme to keep Senator Highbrow from the meeting and at the same time stage their revolution.

The development of this scheme comes in act three. The voting precinct where the women have planned to bring about the climax of their triumph is stormed by the men. Then follows an exciting controversy. The result of this we cannot disclose, suffice it to say it all ends happily.

The grand finale is a beautiful chorus featuring the entire cast.

In Honor of Guests.

Mrs. D. R. Morgan gave a very attractive party recently in honor of Misses Elizabeth Bos, Agnes Campbell and Mattie May Edwards of Greenville, N. C., her house guests for the week.

The house was beautiful in its artistic Christmas decorations. Two tables were arranged for bridge and one for rook. Miss Mary Barrett won the bridge prize, a lovely potted plant, and Miss Julia Willson received a vanity case as the rook prize.

Delicious fruit gelatins and cake were served by the hostess. The guests were: Misses Lila Lee Dixon, Guilla Aizew, Julia Willson, Myrtle Bynum, Mary Barrett, Elizabeth Kittrell, Carrie Pollard, Louise Smith and Nedias Simons of Ashten.

Magazine Club.

The Magazine Club met at the home of Mrs. G. A. Jones on Church street Wednesday afternoon, January 3rd, at 3 o'clock.

The topic for the afternoon was, "Centers of Dramatic Production." Miss DeVisconti's paper, "The Carolina Playmakers" was most interesting as it told of the distinctive work of the University of North Carolina under the direction of Prof. F. H. Koch, which has been the producing of original dramas of North Carolina life. The work of organization at Chapel Hill has been given nation wide recognition and the Playmakers have made several successful tours of this state. Mrs. J. H. Darden followed this paper with readings from several of the most famous plays; "Peggy" by Harold Williamson of Carthage, "Witches Ride" by Miss Elizabeth Lay of Beaufort and "Blackbeard" by Miss Lay and Paul Green.

After a short business session the hostess served a delightful sweet course. The Club had as guests Mrs. A. Temmish, of Baltimore, Md., and Mrs. J. W. Lovelace.

Episcopal Auxiliary.

Mrs. J. Gibbs entertained the Woman's Auxiliary Monday of last week at a call meeting.

The purpose of this meeting was to collect all dues and pledges for 1922 and to elect new officers. The following officers were elected: Mrs. G. A. Jones, President; Mrs. J. L. Shackelford Vice Pres.; Mr. J. W. Joyner Secretary; Miss Alice Tankard Treasurer; Mrs. J. T. Harris U. D. Treasurer; and Mrs. J. E. Warren Librarian.

Mrs. J. T. Harris was hostess to the Episcopal Auxiliary at its regular meeting Monday afternoon January 8th.

After a business session the program was taken up. The topic for the afternoon was "Power".

Order of the Eastern Star.

The Order of the Eastern Star held its regular meeting Friday night. Several applications for membership were received at this meeting.

Mr. George Davis was appointed Secretary at this time to serve in the place of Mrs. G. M. Holden, who leaves Farmville soon to reside in Charlotte, N. C. The Chapter sincerely regrets her removal as she has been one of its most faithful, loyal and devoted members.

Miss Lewis Hostess.

Miss Edna Earle Lewis entertained a large number of her friends at a Merry Old Christmas party at her home near Farmville.

The jolly guests arrived by auto and truck and were shown into the spacious living room where tables were arranged for bridge and rook. After much fun obtained in this way several contests were engaged in. Fruits were served during the course of the evening and a delightful table course was greatly enjoyed.

Mrs. Joyner Hostess.

Mrs. T. E. Joyner delightfully entertained the Young Peoples' Society of the Methodist Church at a Social Friday evening, at her home on Main street.

The charming hostess invited the guests into the spacious living room which was decorated with holly, red roses and bowls of blooming narcissus.

A short business session was held during which these officers for the new year were elected: Miss Beattie Joyner Pres., Mrs. Lionel Jones Vice Pres., Miss Vivian Case Rec'd Sec., Miss Julia Wilson Cor. Secretary, Miss Hazel Williams Treasurer, Mrs. DeWitt Allen Supt. of Study and Publicity, Mrs. Joe Bynum Supt. Social Service and Miss Winnie Carr Supt. of Supplies.

Besides the regular members Mrs. J. W. Lovelace, Mrs. R. A. Fields and Miss T. DeVisconti were charming guests.

After the business session a social hour was enjoyed. Little Miss Frances Joyner gave each one present a tally card and places were found at the tables where the game of hearts was enjoyed. Miss E. Laughlin won the prize, a twin compact, for progressing.

A delicious frozen salad course was served by the hostess.

An Interesting Health Program Given Thursday Night. Pitt County Medical Society Doing Great Work.

The most instructive Health meeting was held in the school auditorium Thursday night with two valuable lectures, the first "to Health" by Dr. F. E. Jones, local dentist, and the second, "Relation of the Eye, Ear, Nose and Throat to Health" by Dr. C. J. Ellen of Greenville.

This was a continuation of the series of Health programs which the Pitt County Medical Society is giving at intervals all over this county. It teaches the people how to protect themselves and how to escape different contagious diseases. These meetings are most beneficial as well as interesting and should be well attended as these different busy men leave their work in order to help keep the black mildew of disease from our homes.

Hustling Some.

Born to Lilly Ellis, daughter of Arthur Ellis, residing on the B. M. Lewis farm—January 9th, at 9 p. m. a fine infant daughter, weighing seven and a half pounds. Age of mother twelve years two months and nine days.

Methodist Missionary Society.

The Methodist Missionary Society held its regular business meeting at the Church Monday afternoon, the principal object being the election of officers for the new year. The elected officers are: Mrs. Tony Lang President, Mrs. J. W. Lovelace Vice Pres., Mrs. J. T. Thorne Recording Sec'y, Mrs. J. T. Thorne, Cor. Sec'y, Mrs. J. I. Morgan Treas., Mrs. B. O. Turnage, Asst. Treas., Mrs. T. E. Joyner Supt. Young Peoples' Work, Mrs. Loyd Horton Supt. Bright Jewels, Mrs. Alice King Supt. Supplies, Mrs. J. M. Christman Supt. Social Service, Mrs. R. O. Lang Agent Missionary Voice, and Mrs. Myrtle Bynum Supt. Local Work.

Mrs. J. W. Parker paid tribute to the retiring President, Mrs. R. A. Fields, who has served for two years, calling attention to her faithfulness, skillful leadership and untiring zeal in the work of the Auxiliary.

Freshmen and Sophomores Entertained.

Misses E. Russell and R. Boatwright entertained the eighth and ninth grades at a most enjoyable party Friday night.

The Rotary Club room was the scene of the merry affair, and was attractively arranged for the occasion. The guests were entertained by various mirth-producing games and contests proving their wit and skill.

Refreshments consisting of ambrosia and cake were served at a late hour and the merry crowd departed.

Speaking of Brains.

The five-year old child was frankly inspecting the guest. "My papa said somethin' about you, Mister."

"Indeed? I hope it was nice," "He said, that you had somethin' above your eyes 'side hair."

"Oh! your father paid me the compliments of saying I had brains."

"I was jus' faking, went on the child, looking at the man's shining dome. "It's a good thing you has brains, or they surely wouldn't be no true in what my papa said."

EXPERT HELPING FARMERS IN WAR ON BOLL WEEVIL

Free Advice Available to Cotton Growers in Any-Part of North Carolina.

North Carolina cotton farmers will be much interested to hear that Mr. J. O. Taylor, special agent in boll weevil control work connected with the Government laboratory at Tallulah, La., has been employed by the F. S. Royster Guano Company to devote his entire time to giving free advice and demonstrations in the State of North Carolina on what the United States Department of Agriculture recommends as the successful method of fighting the ravages of the boll weevil. For several years Mr. Taylor has been working on farms in the boll weevil infested sections of the South, poisoning weevils with calcium arsenate, under the treatment known as the Coad method, which was worked out by Professor Coad, the Chief Bacteriologist in the Government Laboratory at Tallulah, La.

Mr. Taylor will work in North Carolina the entire year of 1923, and there will be absolutely no charges or fees in connection with the assistance that he is to render the farmers of the state. He will in all instances work in conjunction with the county agents and the extension forces, and all requests for his services should be made through the local county agent. Between now and the growing season, Mr. Taylor is going to spend his time lecturing on the subject of boll weevil poisoning wherever request is made for his services. He will go anywhere in the state that the farmers ask for him, at no expense whatever to the farmers. Mr. Taylor is going to select test fields in twelve or fifteen counties of North Carolina, which are infested with the boll weevil.

The results of poisoning and the proper methods of treatment.

Remarkable results in successful cotton growing in boll weevil districts have been obtained by poisoning according to the Coad method which has been developed and sponsored by the United States Department of Agriculture. No question of the hour is more serious to North Carolina farmers than the proper method of attacking this enemy. The personal advice and attention of Mr. Taylor is free to any farmer in North Carolina who wishes to poison his cotton this season. Mr. Taylor is a practical farmer who has had years of Government training in fighting the boll weevil, and his work is expected to mean much to the farmers of the state during this season.

All requests for information about Mr. Taylor's work or applications for his presence at any meeting, should be sent to the Farm Service Department of the F. S. Royster Guano Company, Norfolk, Virginia.

Jokes.

Wanted Light on a Dark Subject. It was evening—a uniformed policeman approached the motorist and handed him a summons.

"What's this for?" "Sir," said the courteous officer, "your rear beacan has ceased its function."

"My wha—?"

"Your aft illumination, I say, is shrouded in oblivion."

"But really, I don't quite—"

Just then a boy shouted, "Mister, your tail light's out."

Cultivated Corn On Hands And Knees

