MONEY FROM POULTRY

We publish the following from a Knoxville newspaper, because we believe poultry to be the source of money-making for many young men and women who are willing to work:

"Fifteen hundred dollars a week from the sale of baby chicks and hatching of eggs is the record of C.
A. Norman, former clerk in Miller Department Store in Knoxville.

"Entering the poultry business eight years ago, Mr. Norman began with three 400-egg size incubators.
Today his business requires eight 10,000-egg capacity incubators and he is planning to install more equipment in the fall.

"In the year 1922 this farm sold $50,000.00 worth of poultry products.
Practically all the shipping is done by parcel post, and the business is all conducted on a twenty-acre tract of land just outside of Knoxville.
For the first six months of 1923 he received 4,500 orders, many from neighboring states. The farm is only about ten minutes' drive from the heart of the city. The thousands of birds are carefully cared for by a graduate poultry husbandman and five assistants."

COW, HOG AND HEN
FOR THOMASVILLE

Thomasville, Ga., Nov. 17th.—(AP)
The cow, the hog and the hen will help to offset the work of the boll weevil in Thomas county next year according to resolutions adopted by members of the Chamber of Commerce here in recent meetings. The Chamber urges the farmers to raise these valuable products during the coming year. Dairy products in Thomas county last year were very profitable to the farmers as were hogs and poultry and it is predicted that these industries will have a growth next year. The ultimate aim of the boosters is to have every farm a diversified farm with a permanent pasture for cattle.

There are too many fellows in Farmville who, when something goes wrong at the store, the office, the factory or at the golf links, go home and treat their wives as if they were to blame.

FATHER'S LOVE AND MOTHERS'

Oh, father loves the baby,
With love that's fine and high,
That is to say, provided,
That baby does not cry;
With tender and deep devotion,
He's willing, all the while,
To be the pleased receiver
Of baby's sweetest smile.

But mother loves the baby,
When he is good or bad;
When, angel-like, he's smiling,
Or when he howls like mad
And baby has a feeling,
Which time will not erase,
That, while Dad has his good points,
He can't take Mother's place.
