CHILD'S LOVE FOR ITS MOTHER

A child said to its mother, "I have faith in you."
For you are always very kind and true;
Sometimes I look at you and you look sad,
When I do anything sinful, wrong or bad.
The other day when I told you a falsehood,
You seemed to say, "I wish my child was good;
Mother, this will help me when nothing else could,
For it will keep me from doing things I would."
A week ago when grandma died and I was sad,
I heard you say, "I wish I could make the child glad;
So that is the way with the right kind of mother,
She can cheer you up as much as any other."
Author—Eva Taylor.
12-year-old school girl.
