Cramping Spells

FOR MORE THAN A YEAR I had been in a very bad condition," says Mrs. R. E. Kimbrell, of Route 1, Dorchester, Texas. "I suffered with cramping spells which gave me bad pain in my back and sides. Sometimes I would have to catch at something, I would get so suddenly dizzy. I had to quit doing my work. I tried many remedies, but none of them seemed to do me any good. One day I went up to Arkansas to visit my sister. She said to me, 'While, if you are going to take anything, take Cardui. It will really help you.' I came home and told my sister what she had said and he said I could not take any more rest, so my husband immediately got me a bottle and I began it. My case was a pretty tough one, I know, so I kept on faithfully. After the fourth bottle, I began to feel very much better, so much so that I was surprised at myself. I have taken six bottles now and I can truly say I feel like a different woman. I feel fine and I owe it all to Cardui, which I took faithfully."

PROCRASTINATION

Do it today and do it right. Those who make this a rule of life find success is not so difficult.

Most of the failures in the business world are due to short sightedness and procrastination. Putting it off until tomorrow means in many cases that it is never done, and it is the things that are not done which causes the receipts to dwindle until the business is eventually wrecked.

Doing it today is just as easy as putting it off and it is far more pleasant and produces more satisfactory results.

The world is full of physical and commercial wrecks. The man who is a physical has been waited too long before he attempted to correct the trouble and the fellow who is down at the heels financially as a rule depended upon a tomorrow that never came.

Do it today.

THRILLS

So many of us are in a hurry and don't know where we are going. It is characteristic of the age—constantly seeking new thrills, a new sensation.

A young man bought a new automobile, had it a few months and boasted that he had run it ten thousand miles.

"Where have you been?" he was asked.

And he answered, "Oh, no place in particular—just around."

Around expresses it — traveling around in circles.

He was out in search of a thrill that he had never experienced before. And he had been no place.

And many folks not so young are endeavoring to live on thrills.

There are people who literally tremble at the thought of being left at home one evening with themselves.

The art of enjoying an evening of relaxation with a good book has largely been lost, because of the nervous unrest that abounds, and the demands of the multiplying activities that take us away from home.

As a people we very generally have ceased to form opinions of our own, based upon sound judgment, but are content to accept second-hand views, being moved by selfish appeals that are based upon prejudice or greed or pettiness.

We may have wonderful machines to do our work and for our amusement, but no machine will ever take the place of the mind.

The greatness of America will spread and have a benign influence over the world, due to our per capita intelligence, rather than from our per capita wealth.

WAR DEBT REFUNDING

The report that negotiations have started for the refunding of the French war debt to the United States calls attention to the fact that agreements have been entered into with four nations for the refunding of debts created during the war.

Poland was the fourth nation to agree to repay this country, the sum involved amounting to about $175,000,000. Negotiations were conducted by the foreign debt refunding commission.

Congress must ratify the agreement before it becomes effective, but the approval of that body will be forthcoming, it is assured.

Steps are being taken to bring about a similar arrangement with other nations financed by the United States during the war, and although it has seemed a tedious process, the businesslike way in which the debt collection has been undertaken is now beginning to bring results.

With splendid prospects of Europe's stability being restored through the Dawes plan, the next few years will undoubtedly see settlements with practically all of the debtor nations and the money of American taxpayers being returned to them in regular installments.

THE DANGER OF SUPERLATIVES

During the past two decades, we have made remarkable progress in North Carolina. We have achieved fame in many lines of activity. We are forging to the front as "the Empire State of the South."

But, while we are justly entitled to exhibit pride in our many achievements, we must not allow ourselves to trespass beyond the limits of truth. What we say we must be able to back up with facts and figures.

Opinions per se are worthless. It is not what we think we have in North Carolina that counts; it is what we know we have and what we can prove by irrefutable evidence. Statements unsupported by proof are a menace to real publicity.

If we have the largest hosiery mills in the world, the largest denim factories or the largest aluminum plant, let us say so without fear, and if our claim is disputed let us be sure to have adequate evidence to back up our thesis. But let us not make extravagant claims. The habit of using superlatives is fatal to accuracy. Unless the records support our contentions, we are likely to gain a reputation as a commonwealth of braggarts.

Words are the common carriers of thought. They enable us to communicate with our fellows. In our enthusiasm, there is always the danger that we will overstate our position and create false impressions. We must speak more than words. The twentieth century is a century of facts.

If a traveler were to attempt to summarize his impressions of Southern California, he might feel justified in labeling it the land of the superlative degree. How are visitors to North Carolina labeling us? Are we convincing? Do we always substantiate our claims by incontrovertible proof? It is to be hoped that we do. The attitude we must assume, now and always, is the attitude of precision.—Walter J. Matherly.
