S. S. WORKERS' COUNCIL OF
 METHODIST CHURCH MET
 WITH MRS. A. C. MONK

The Sunday School Workers' Council of the Methodist church met with Mrs. A. C. Monk, assistant superintendent, Monday, at 7:30 p. m. Questions relating to the welfare and progress of every department of the Sunday school were briefly discussed. Misses Bettie Joyner, Hazel Williams, Julia Willson, Mrs. B. O. Turnage and Mrs. J. H. Harris were appointed to select and prepare an Easter program for the Sunday school.

The special topic of the evening was: "When Is a Sunday School Equipped." The discussion followed the plans and requirements of the General Sunday School Board of the Methodist Church, South, and the following points were presented:

The general church board has plans and requirements for three grades or types of Sunday schools: The "C" type, which is the one room Sunday school with an extra room or special arrangements for the beginners' department (children 4 and 5 years of age), meeting separate during the school period for worship as well as study and recitations; the "B" type school which is the class room type and requires separate departmental rooms for the beginners 4 and 5 years of age, the primaries (6, 7 and 8 years of age), and juniors (9, 10 and 11 years of age), meeting separately for worship and recitations during the school period with class rooms for study for all ages above twelve years; and the "A" type, which is the best type of building with the most effectively organized school. This type of school requires separate departmental rooms for worship and recitation for the following age groups: (1) Beginners, (2) primaries, (3) juniors, (4) intermediate ages, 12, 13 and 14, (5) seniors (ages 15, 16 and 17), young people ages 18 through 25, and (6) adults (ages 24 up).

The difference between a departmental room and a class room is that the departmental room is for worship as well as recitation and requires fifteen square feet per pupil while the class room is for recitations and requires seven square feet per pupil. The distinctive idea of the departmental room or school is worship adapted to the age group. Since the new Methodist church will be of the "B" type, the discussion was confined to the equipment of this type of school. The general board has the following plans and requirements for this type of school:

1. Building: The building should be of as good and substantial material as the church can possibly afford; it should be well located in a good quiet environment, and easily accessible to the community to which it is to minister.
2. Rooms: There should be departmental rooms for beginners (4 and 5), for primaries (6, 7 and 8), and for juniors (9, 10 and 11) to meet separately during the whole school session with class rooms for the other age groups. Beginning with the juniors there should be at least six recitation rooms in addition to the worship room. This may be one and the same room with movable partitions or permanent ones as space may permit.
3. Floors: The floor space required for the first three groups is fifteen square feet to the pupil, and recitation rooms seven square feet to the pupil. The floor for the first three groups should be covered with linoleum of dark green or tan, so it can be kept sanitary during this period when children are subjected to so many contagious diseases and so susceptible to them. Other rooms may have druggets and rugs.
4. Windows: The windows should be large, so many as to give good ventilation, and in the first three departments at least of clear glass so the children may see out on God's world.
5. Walls: The walls should follow straight lines as far as possible, and should be sound proof so as to help assure quiet and reverence. The color should be of ivory or tan. The best appropriate pictures in Biblical art should be hung on the walls low enough so the children can see them well. A good blackboard should be built into the wall, also dado for pinning hand work and paper pictures, etc.
6. Cloak Room: There should be a cloak room with sufficient racks for each pupil to have one of his own, or the racks may be on the wall of the departmental room itself.
7. Water, etc.: There should be drinking facilities, lavatories and toilets for each department.
8. Chairs: (1) For beginners, ten and twelve inches high, (2) for primaries, twelve, fourteen and sixteen inches high, (3) for juniors, eighteen inches high, for the rest of the school chairs or pews may be of regular height.
9. Tables: There should be a table or desk in each department for the departmental superintendent and the secretary. If tables are used with smaller groups the regulation heights are as follows: (1) for beginners, 22 inches, (2) for primaries 24 inches, (3) for juniors, 28 inches.
10. Cabinet: Each department should have a cabinet large enough for lesson material, record books, song books, curios, etc.
11. Musical Instruments: Each department should have a piano (never an organ) for beginners, a six octave size, others standard size.
12. Lessons and worship material: Both the lesson and worship material must be graded and adapted to suit the age group.
13. Library: There should be a Sunday school workers library of carefully selected books on all phases of Sunday school work and religious education, both general and special departmental.
14. Other paraphernalia: There should be kept on hand an adequate supply of Cradle Roll certificates, birthday cards, promotion certificates, birthday cards, promotion certificates, maps, charts, as need, also the booklet and leaflet literature on such subjects as evangelism, membership campaigns, confession day, etc., gotten out by the general Sunday school board.

Mr. John T. Thorne was selected to discuss the special topic for next meeting: "What Is the 'B' Standard Type of Sunday School." Mrs. B. O. Turnage invited the council to meet with her next month.

At the close of the program Mrs. Monk served delicious ice cream and cake, salted nuts and mints. The council had a most delightful as well as a profitable meeting.

Night Coughing Stopped Quickly By Simple Treatment

Thousands who are troubled with persistent coughing at night, which robs them of valuable sleep, weaken their systems and lays them open to dangerous infections, can quickly get relief by using the treatment described below. It is not only a very simple treatment, but it is also a very effective one. People who have hardly been able to rest at all on account of coughing spells have found that they can sleep the whole night through undisturbed after the first time they try it.

The treatment is based on a remarkable prescription known as Dr. King's New Discovery for Coughs. You simply take a teaspoonful at night before retiring, and hold it in your mouth for 15 or 20 seconds before swallowing it, without following with water. The prescription has a soothing effect on the inflamed and irritated lining of the throat and chest, and it also has a direct effect on the nerves, so that the very first night, and the entire cough condition goes in a very short time. It is highly recommended for the reason that it is a simple, safe, and effective treatment, and it is also a very effective one. It is not only a very simple treatment, but it is also a very effective one.
