Cow Has Bankroll

Johnny Shing of Salisbury, N. C., left his cow with a $200 bankroll hanging on a fence. While he worked a cow on the coast, Johnny, just as he left for money, the cow promptly got the bankroll. Then, according to rules of carrying he knifed his way towards the money, but he couldn't find much in the end. Now the Treasury department is using a magnifying glass trying to get a rabbit for Johnny.

NOTICE

To the Citizens of Farmville:
On Tuesday night, May 5, 1925, the following ordinance was passed by the board of commissioners:
Public Health Ordinance
1. Any person, firm or corporation or householder employing any nurse, cook or other household servant, barber, pressing club woman, waiter or helper in cafe or eating place or any other place within the town of Farmville, where food or drinks other than hot or cold drinks are sold or offered for sale, shall require a certificate of health from a reputable physician or county health officer, showing that said employee at the time of said employment is free from any contagious diseases and does not show a positive Wasserman reaction.
2. It shall be the duty of such examining physician to certify in writing that such person seeking said employment shall be free from syphilis as shown by a negative Wasserman test and has no outward evidence of any venereal disease. These examinations to be given free of charge by the county health officer and by the other physicians at their discretion.
3. Such examinations shall be required once every year.
4. Any person, firm or corporation or householder employing said person named in section 1 of this ordinance, or any person seeking said employment in violation of this ordinance shall upon conviction be fined the sum of fifty ($50.00) dollars, and each day's violation thereof continues shall constitute a separate offense.
5. This ordinance being made for the preservation of public health, and shall take effect upon its passage and ratification.
The above ordinance was published in the May 8th issue of The Farmville Enterprise, and I am very sorry to say, very little attention has been paid to same, as reports from the doctors are that just a few cooks, nurses and others have been down for these examinations; now, good citizens, your attention is again called to this matter and your help is asked; you can very easily require your servants to comply with this ordinance with very little inconvenience to yourselves and servants. In plain words, you are subject to a fine of fifty ($50.00) dollars and cost if your: cook; nurse, house servant or any others cannot show a certificate as explained above.
The members of the police department will make a house to house canvass; asking to see these certificates in the next few days; all who cannot show same will be ordered to court and show cause. I hope that this will not have to be done and feel sure that I will receive the support of the good people of Farmville.
I understand that the county health physician has been doing this work at Doctor White's office every Tuesday morning, and I am going to expect a large number this coming Tuesday morning and a check will be made from time to time and reports made in this paper regarding this work.
Feeling sure of your hearty co-operation in the above, I am,
Yours very truly,
M. V. HORTON, Mayor.

ARE YOU GOBBY?

A FARMER carried an average package from a big store. He had been told that the package was a good one. He carried it home and found it was a bag of gobbies. He was very angry. He went back to the store and told them. They said they were sorry. He went back and got another package. He carried it home and found it was a bag of gobbies. He was very angry. He went back to the store and told them. They said they were sorry. He went back and got another package. He carried it home and found it was a bag of gobbies. He was very angry. He went back to the store and told them. They said they were sorry.

Poem

Uncle John
The blessing of ignorance may be realized, of course, if a fellow wishes thankful that the world ain't any worse. But, when a mortal sets around an accident with his thumbs, he ain't the sort of citizen to pick the most plausible.
You'll run across the pepper nearly every place you go who hasn't his distinction of the stuff he doesn't know—who favors all the ideas that is easiest to dismiss—an demonstrates, unconsciously, that ignorance is bliss.
And then, we find the fellow averse to honest toil; that he seldom puts contentment afloat with midnight oil—we find, in close observance, that he seldom ever sweats, while indulging satisfaction over duties he forgets.
Contentment and indifference may travel side by side, and a moderate dose of either, one may find he satisfied, but if a fellow wants to be of any earthly use, he'll find the true contentment with the stuff he can produce!

Deserving of Reward.
We are to be rewarded, not only for work done, but for burdens borne, and I am not sure but that the brightest rewards will be for those who have borne burdens without murmuring—Andrew Bonar.

Weak In Back and Sides

"Before the birth of my little girl," says Mrs. Lena Stanoli, of R. F. D. 2, Matthews, Mo. "I was so weak in my back and sides I could not get on about. I was too weak to stand up or do any work. I felt like my back was coming in two. I lost weight. I didn't eat anything much and was so restless I couldn't sleep nights. My mother used to take so I sent to get it. I improved after my first bottle. Cardui is certainly a great help for nervousness and backache. I took six bottles of Cardui and then I was well and strong. Just all fine from then on. Cardui helped me so much.

Thousands of weak, suffering women have taken Cardui, knowing that it had helped their mothers or their friends, and when gained strength and got rid of their pains, Cardui should do you a lot of good.

These Girls of Ours Will Ride

MENTO TO RULE EARTH'S FORCES. GRANDMA'S YOUNGER FACE. FREE HOW CAN HE KNOW? THOSE LIBERTY BONDS.

The scientific person says "the recent terrific heat comes from spots on the sun, unusually large." Another says "the heat travels north from tropical jungles, thanks to atmospheric conditions." Accidental conditions of the air lanes send us heat from the Equator. How soon shall we learn to do, for ourselves, what nature does fitfully and at the wrong time?

Do you doubt that fully civilized men will transfer surplus heat from the Equator to the North Pole? That will seem a modest accomplishment some centuries hence.

It seems difficult to us. But suppose you had predicted two hundred years ago that the lightning flashing in the sky, occasionally killing men, would be harnessed one day and made to run a washing machine, a fan or a carpet sweeper?

Men will manage and direct the earth's heat as easily as they now direct heat from the furnace.

Coningsby Dawson, writer, mourns because women are set aside, "shelved," at an age when their brothers and husbands begin to be interesting. He says "a woman is, or ought to be, at the height of her charm after forty."

Various things work against women and prevent their having ardent young admirers, as Ninon de l'Enclos had at the age of seventy. The children come too close together, in many cases, and that wears women out.

Then, husbands are dull, and at last, they are old.
