5TH ANNUAL PUBLIC SCHOOL TACK MEET

Farmville School Given Loving Cup By Rotary Club at County Track Meet; Lead All Others By Big Margin.

Greenville, March 30.—The fifth annual public school track meet for Pitt county, sponsored by the Greenville Rotary club, was held yesterday afternoon at the Fair Grounds.

Farmville high school won the cup offered by the Rotary Club with a total of 53 points. Grimesland was a close second with 31 points, while Grifton was third with 29 points.

The officers of the meet were J. H. Wilcox, chairman Boys' Work Committee of the Rotary club; director, Vance Wall, Grifton; Clarence Cannon, Ayden; and Roscoe Fields, Farmville, judges. A. B. Corey was starter. The crowd was estimated at 3,500 people.

The meet began promptly at 2 o'clock, with a demonstration of calisthenics by classes from the schools. Due to the disadvantages that were encountered by the classes too far distant from the music to hear same, and to the excellent showing of all, the classes, the judges decided to divide the prizes equally among all of the classes participating.

In the track and field events Farmville won first place with 53 points, Grimesland second place with 31 points and Grifton third place with 29 points. The other schools trailed in the order named with their respective points: Bethel 21; Winterville 20; Belvoir 11; Ayden 10; Arthur 8; Greenville 7; Black Jack 4; Simpson 3; Fountain 1.

The events and the winners of same were as follows: 25 yard dash, small girls—Erline Smith, Arthur, first; Kathleen McClain, Black Jack, second; Ruby Harris, Winterville, third.

DIXON ADDED TO PROGRAM OF EXPOSITION

Noted Lecturer To Talk on "North Carolina" at Eastern Carolina Exposition To Be Held In Greenville, April 5-10.

Asheville, N. C., March 31.—Thomas Dixon, famous playwright and novelist, and author of the "Clansman" and of the scenario, "The Birth of a Nation," one of the greatest motion picture films ever produced, will be the chief speaker at the Eastern Carolina Exposition and Automobile Show, at Greenville, in Pitt county, Thursday evening, April 8.

Mr. Dixon's acceptance of the invitation of the Eastern Carolina Exposition to deliver an address was made known here today at the offices for Wildacres, where a new American institution, a summer assembly ground of the liberal arts, is being created by Mr. Dixon and other members of the Mount Mitchell Association of Arts and Sciences. It is located near Little Switzerland, in McDowell county.

"The Rising South" will be the subject of Mr. Dixon, who is considered one of the greatest living orators. This will be the first time this address has been delivered by Mr. Dixon and it is expected that thousands of persons will hear this famous native son of North Carolina.

Mr. Dixon is now writing a book entitled "The Garden of America," which he declares will be the last book he will write as he intends to devote the remaining years of his life to aiding in the upbuilding of the south.

Believing fully in the wonderful future in store for this section, Mr. Dixon is already devoting his time and money to a project that is destined to bring national fame to the mountains of Western North Carolina. Being a man who has always done the unusual, he is now doing and accomplishing a unique thing in the Carolina Highlands.

Blanche Waters and Marjorie Jackson, Winterville, first; E. T. Taylor, Belvoir, second; and S. Fulford, Farmville, second; Selma Harris, Grifton, third.

Are you letting your hair grow out? Here's a way to make it look well-groomed. The hair should be slightly waved. It is arranged high on the left side and caught into a French roll at the back. An interesting feature about this style is that girls with long hair can effect it and give the impression of a new type bob.

SUIT AGAINST CO-OPS OPEN

The Tri-State Tobacco Growers' Co-Operative Association To Show Why It Should Not Be Declared Bankrupt.

Raleigh, March 29.—A plea in abatement alleging "fraud, conspiracy and misrepresentation of facts," in securing plaintiffs to file proceedings against the Tri-State Tobacco Growers Co-operative Marketing Association was filed in United States district court here today. The plea was made as a portion of the answer of the association on the injunction proceedings seeking its dissolution.

On Saturday evening, March 27, the junior class of Farmville high school was host at the annual junior-senior banquet in the Rotary club rooms. Mr. Carl Joyner and Miss Delphia Parker, Mr. Irvin Morgan, Bert Holmes and Miss Luvy Johnston received.

After the arrival of all the guests, they were invited into the lovely banquet hall by Mr. Elbert Holmes, president of the junior class. The entire hall was festooned with Spanish moss. The table was tastefully decorated with Easter baskets, chicks and bunny rabbits. Jougulis and yellow tapers in silver candelabras carried out the color scheme of white and gold.

During the evening the following program was rendered: Address of Welcome—Elbert Holmes. Response—Lena Eason. Vocal Solo—Elbert Holmes. Toast to the Faculty—Carl Joyner. Response—Miss Lulu Mae Isley. LIST OF GIRL CANDIDATES FOR QUEENSHIP

Queens Who Are To Be Voted On In Contest at The Eastern Carolina Exposition; Crowning To Take Place April 9.

Kinston, March 30.—The complete list of candidates for the honor of being called Eastern Carolina's prettiest girl in 1926 was announced from headquarters of the Eastern Carolina Chamber of Commerce here this afternoon. The young women will compete in beauty contests at the annual sectional exposition, to be held in Greenville the week of April 5th. They outnumber the contestants at either of the three previous expositions. Practically every town within a reasonable distance of Greenville will be represented.

There will be two major contests. One will be sectional. In the other only Pitt County girls have been entered. The winner in each will be crowned, with colorful ceremonies, and each will be presented with a diamond ring valued at $500. The list follows:

Ayden—Misses Irene Bullock and Sallie Turnage. Farmville—Misses Mildred Barrett and Bonnie Belle Windham. Greenville—Misses Hannah Dixon, Mamie Ruth Fleming, Lillian Hooker, Mary Moye Hooker and Alice Lee Hooker.

Bethel—Miss Addie Lee Grimes. Conetoe—Miss Clara Parks Godwin. Kenly—Miss Mildred Darden. Morehead—Miss Clara Mae Ortieb. Plymouth—Miss Mildred Swain. Pinetops—Miss Edna Webb. Robersonville—Miss Ruth Whitfield. Roanoke Rapids—Rosemary—Miss Mary Trayham Wiche. Rocky Mt.—Miss Margaret Home. Smithfield—Miss Jean Abel. Autander—Miss Ruth Dunning. Winterville—Misses Alma Gray, Lillian Kinston—Miss Margaret Copeland, Clinton—Miss Eloise McArthur, Williamson—Miss Lora Norton, Goldsboro—Miss Hilda Briggers, Washington—Miss Etha Carter, Tarboro—Miss Martha Jenkins, Snow Hill—Miss Margaret Whittington.

The candidates will be introduced for the first time Monday afternoon, April 5th. They will be presented a second time that evening. Their next appearances will be at noon Thursday, when they will be guests of the Chamber of Commerce at a luncheon. The prize winners will be announced Friday evening at 7:30, and the crowning will take place later in the evening. The winners will be chosen by the exposition through a ballot. Ballots will be cast by the young women who have the support of strong home town delegations.

A Religious Census of City To Be Taken Soon

A complete religious census of Farmville will be made within the next few days. This census is being fostered or promoted by the ministerial association. A similar census was partially made a little over two years ago, but was never completed. We believe that the people of the town will be interested to know just how the town stands religiously and denominationally. This census will aid the churches to do their work more intelligently, systematically and more definitely. The information asked for will be as follows: Surnames and Christian name of all the white people in town, whether member of the family board, or employee, the name of the street each person lives on, age 21 and under, number of what church and where, if not a member of the church that church, and if not a member if they attend Sunday school.

CAN YOU ANSWER THESE QUESTIONS, MR. FARMER?

Only twelve Texas farmers stood on their feet in a large gathering recently when called upon to answer three questions as follows: Have you seen in the form of your own raising? Have you seen in the form of your own raising? Have you seen in the form of your own raising?

Was Labor's Friend

This is the newly sculptured bust of the late Samuel Gompers, American Federation of Labor will be this marble likeness of its mer friend and leader in the National Museum.

Special Easter Music And Services At The M. E. Church Sunday

There will be special Easter music and services at the Methodist church Sunday. The choir has been doing some splendid work and we are sure they have a soul feast for all who attend Sunday.

All mothers who want their babies christened may have this beautiful service performed Sunday morning or arrange with the pastor for any other hour at the church or in the home. The Sunday school will present a special Easter program at 9:45 a. m. The hour of meeting has been changed to 9:45 in order to keep from continually running into the church hour and to give the required standard time for worship, because worship is just as important as instruction if not more so; for worship is a very necessary preparation for instruction, and instruction without worship has very little value.

"If we notice little pleasures as we notice little pains, If we quite forget our losses and remember all our gains; If we look for people's virtues, and their faults refuse to see, What a comfortable, happy, cheerful place this world would be!"

Head of N. Carolina Masons Died Sunday

John E. Cameron, grand master of Masons of North Carolina, died at his home in Kinston early Sunday morning. He might well be classed as one of the most prominent men of the state during his days not so much because of statesmanship, however, as for citizenship. First of all, he was a farmer and generally stuck to the duties of his farm and at which he was successful. He was a republican, not a partisan, however. He had held the offices of deputy United States marshal and deputy collector of revenue.

He was appointed a member of the state highway commission by Governor Cameron Morrison, when the state highway commission was first established. He held this important post until overcome by ill health which caused him to offer his resignation. In church affairs he was a member of the Methodist church in his home community and supported it as a Christian way.

He was 59 years old, born in Greensboro, but moved to Lenoir. He was said to have held more fraternal honors than any other man in the United States, having filled the chairs of every Masonic subdivision in the North Carolina jurisdiction and had represented this state in eleven foreign countries. He was elected grand master at the last session of the Grand Lodge, held in Raleigh in January and in the first grand assembly to die while holding that position in several generations.

$25.00 PRIZE GIVEN WINNER LITERARY MEET

Winterville School Wins Complete Victory In Literary Contest With 21 Points; Bethel Wins Second Place.

Greenville, March 31.—The county town, won third place. The best orator of East Carolina Teachers college on yesterday beginning promptly at 10 o'clock. Several hundred people from all over the county were there to enjoy the program which was put on almost entirely by the children of the county.

In the literary contest, Winterville won a decided victory in that they carried away twenty-one winning points, which entitled them to the $25 prize offered by the county board of education. Bethel won second place, which gave them the $15.00 prize while Farmville held the third place and won a $10.00 prize.

The other schools winning points in the literary contest were Black Jack, 10; Grimesland, Shermidina, Fountain and Belvoir. Other schools presented very attractive work but they were excelled by the schools mentioned above.

In poem recitation, Lillian Jelly, of the Winterville school, won first place, Carroll Oglesby, of the Farmville school, won second place, and Mae Bell Orman, of the Shermidina school, won third place. In fundations of arithmetic, Prince Mills, of the Black Jack school, carried away first honors; Bertie Gay Vincent of the Winterville school ran a close race and took away the second place of honor, while Tone Meeks, of Fountain, won third place. The best original story was told by Olive Jackson, of the Winterville school. The second best original story was told by William Burroughs, of the Bethel school, and the third best by the Grimesland school.

Mildred Horton, of the Farmville school, reproduced the best story, Jasper Whitehurst of the Bethel school, the second best and Bels Stanley, of the Grimesland school, the third best.

There were five attractive high school choruses presented by the high schools of the county. The judges rated Bethel high school chorus as the best from the standpoint of tone, harmony and familiarity with the selection. Winterville produced the second best and Belvoir third. Winterville school presented the Hare and the Hedgehog, a story dramatization and won first place in this literary contest. Joyner's school won second place, and Shermidina third place.

At the close of the literary contest, the Winterville school presented a pageant entitled "America's Peace Call to Pitt County." Miss Thelma Shambart took the part of America, and did this part with unusual ability. There were some 250 children who helped her to present the facts as shown by this pageant.

At the close of the pageant Mr. W. H. Woolard, chairman of the board of education, made some brief remarks to the seventh grade children of Pitt county. He congratulated them upon being one of the lucky five that had come from the first grade through the seventh. He called their attention to the fact that in 1919 fifteen hundred children entered the first grade and should now be in the seventh grade, but there were only some 328 children now registered in the seventh grade.
