TREES

In the Garden of Eden, planted by God,
 There were goodly trees in the springing sod—
 Trees of beauty and height and grace,
 To stand in splendor before His face.
 Apple and hickory, ash and pear,
 Oak and beech and the tulip rare.
 The trembling aspen, the noble pine,
 The sweeping elm by the river line.
 Trees for the birds to build and sing,
 And the lilac tree for a joy in the spring.
 Trees to turn at the frosty call
 And carpet the ground for their Lord's footfall.
 Trees for fruitage and fire and shade,
 Trees for the cunning builder's trade.
 Wood for the bow, the spear and the
 flail,
 The keel and the mast of the daring
 sail.
 He made them of every grain and
 girth
 For the use of man in the Garden of Earth.
 Then lest the soul should not life her eyes
 From the gifts to the Giver of Paradise.
 On the crown of the hill for all to see,
 God planted a scarlet maple tree.

CAMPAIGN PUT ON FOR BETTER FARMING

The full energies of the agricultural extension service of the North Carolina State College will be devoted to a campaign for better balanced farming in the state during the year 1927.

Better balanced farming is more businesslike farming. It calls for more food and feed crops and more livestock and poultry on the cotton and tobacco farms and it means a greater degree of economic independence for the Tar Heel farmer if he faithfully follows what he already knows to be sound methods of agriculture.

There is nothing new in what we are offering as our program of work for this year, says Dean L. O. Schaub, head of the extension service. "Not are the present conditions in the cotton growing sections new. Disaster with cotton has been common in the past. Our workers have succeeded in getting many farmers to abandon the all cotton or the all tobacco system of farming in many, many instances, and we have found that those farmers who have adopted what we have called a live at home policy have succeeded even beyond their expectations."

The campaign for a better balanced system of farming began on January fourth after several weeks of preparation by extension specialists. Better farming systems have been studied by the agricultural workers. New and old facts have been consulted; practical farm experiences have been drawn upon and economic facts have been hauled from their hiding places. All of this matter was placed before the farm agents at their conference in early December and the specialists, themselves, have studied their accumulated data in order to serve the farmers and the agents to best advantage. The college has prepared and issued extension circular 163 in an edition of 50,000 copies. This bulletin gives the reasons for a better balanced system of agriculture, shows why it is imperative to adopt such a system during 1927 and points out clearly how it may be adopted on the farms of North Carolina.

"Sedentary work," said the college lecturer, "tends to lessen the endurance."

"In other words," butted in the smart student, "the more one sits, the less one can stand."

"Exactly," retorted the lecturer, "and I fone lies a great deal, one's standing is lost completely."

The Difference Between the Cost of Good and Cheap Printing

It is so right that he who goes shopping from printer to printer to secure his printing at a few cents less than what it is really worth hardly ever makes any laborer wages at the unpleasant task.

SOME DAY IT'LL BE A WHALE

Tommy—Do fish grow very fast?
 Billy—I should think so! Father caught one ones and it grows six inches bigger each time he mentions it.

Teacher: If there are any dumbbells in this room, please stand up.
 A pause, then finally Johnny stood up.
 "What! Do you consider yourself a dumbbell?"
 "Well, not exactly that, teacher, but I hate to see you standing all alone."

Two old Scotsmen sat by the roadside, talking and puffing away merrily at their pipes.
 "There's no muckle pleasure in rily at their pipes."
 "Hoo dae ye mak' that out?" questioned Sandy.
 "Weel," said Donald, "ye see, if ye're smokin' ye ain beca ye're thinkin' o' the awfu' expense, an' if ye're smokin' some ither body's, yer pipe's rammt sae tight it won't draw."

'Twas the night before pay day, and all through my jeans,
 I'd hunt in vain for the ways and means,
 Not a quarter was stirring not even a jilt
 The kale was off duty, the greenbacks had quit,
 Forward, turn forward, O Time, in thy flight,
 And make it tomorrow, just for to-night.

Bilious dull feeling

"My old stand-by is Thedford's Black-Draught—I have used it off and on for about 20 years," says Mr. W. S. Reynolds, of R. F. D. 2, Arcadia, La.

"I get bilious and have a bad taste in my mouth. My head feels dull. I don't just feel like getting around and doing my work. I know it isn't laziness, but biliousness."

"So I take a few doses of Black-Draught and when it acts well, I get up feeling like new—full of pep and ready for any kind of work."

"I can certainly recommend it." In case of biliousness and other disagreeable conditions due to an inactive liver, Black-Draught helps to drive the poisonous impurities out of the system and tends to leave the organs in a state of normal, healthy activity. Black-Draught is made entirely of pure medicinal roots and herbs and contains no dangerous or harmful mineral drugs. It can be safely taken by everyone. Sold everywhere. Price 25c.

WANTED TO BE CURED!

Those who object, like the negro in this story, to the high fees of a good physician, do not always realize what they are paying for. The doctor in question was called out to attend an unknown patient. When he arrived he found that a decrepit negro wanted his attention.

"The sick man first asked, "How much yo' charge, Doctah?"

"Five dollars a visit," said the other, and when the negro had gasped his surprise, he continued, "That includes, you know my time, experience, advice and the medicine."

"A pore old nigger like me don't heed all dem extras," remarked the patient. "Jist give me ten cents worth of yo cough medicine, an-dat's enough for me."

Would Be Back, All Right.
 "Out to luncheon—Back in five minutes," read the sign on the door. "Are you sure he will get back that soon?" asked the anxious caller. "Yes'm," said the wise office boy. "He ain't got the price of a ten minutes' lunch in his clothes."
