FARMVILLE

The City of Hospitality

Consisting of Seven Musicians Will Entertain the Farmville Folks Friday April 1st

The Farmville Orchestra consisting of seven musicians will entertain the Farmville folks for the first time on Friday evening April 1st between acts of the play "Come Out Of The Kitchen." These musicians have been practicing together for several weeks for this special event, many of the musicians have recently come to Farmville. We welcome all musical talent, and boys the organization will become permanent. Mrs. Jim Joyner is directing and accompaning the Orchestra.

All are looking forward with much eagerness to hearing this group on Friday night.

Miss Lucy Anne Flannagan. Leading Lady in "Come Out Of The Kitchen." You will be delighted with the charm and pequancy of Miss Lucy Anne in her role of Jane Ellen The Irish Cook.

Miss Flannagan is a little lady of pleasing personality and of marked dramatic ability. Never before has she played a part that brings forth her real acting qualities. With the hand of an artist. She charms the men. Manages her household and pacifies all concerned. She laughs, she sighs, she sings, she cries, in "Come Out Of The Kitchen." Friday nite, Aprile 1st.

Kinston, March 29.-Miraculous scape from death was experienced by Dr. J. W. P. Smithwick, of La-Frange, last night when his Chevrolet oupe was demolished by a freight min at the Main street crossing in La Grange. The accident occurred at nine o'clock while the train was switching cars onto the sidetrack in he heart of the little city. Dr. Smithwick escaped serious injury. The automobile driven by Dr. Smithwick was struck by a moving box car and dragged about fifteen feet where it was samshed into the end if another freight car on the same track. The automobile was caught between the ends of the two freight cars and completely demolished. Eye witnesses say that only instant work on the part of the switchman and the engineer saved Dr. Smithwick from instant death. The engine was brought to a stop just in time to keep from crushing the physician between the two box cars. After the moving train was brought to a stop Dr. Smithwick extricated himself from the wreckage. Upon thorough examination it was found that the victim of the accident was minjured with the exception of a light scratch o none of bis, fingers Flying glass from the windshield, no doubt, was the cause of the slight wound
