CRIME AND PUNISHMENT
Our system of punishing criminals has been very much under fire of late.
Some would abolish capital punishment. Others claim our prisons breed crime instead of suppressing it. The attacker of the present system of punishment points out that crime is very definitely on the increase in America. Indeed, they refer to figures to prove that we are the most lawless nation on earth. As many schemes have been advanced for curing the growing lawlessness as there have been reasons brought forward to explain it.

That there is a great deal of lawlessness in this country, nobody can deny. It seems equally plain that the one chief reason for it is that punishment is too "many cases if either will not certain. Any reform of our system of punishing criminals that does not strike at this evil will be ineffective. Obviously, society has either to curb the evil of men who menace its peace and security, if such men know beyond all question they will be punished without delay, they may be deterred from crime. If they are not, they merit punishment and should get it in proportion to the degree of their crime.

DEBT OWED GOVERNMENT
Business owes a debt to government in the United States today. Once it was not uncommon for boys of exceptional promise to turn on a matter of course to a political career. But today promising youngsters are more likely to seek the same and fortune that came with success in business than to heed the call of public office.
A number of reasons may be advanced to explain the trend of brains to business. The larger financial reward is undoubtedly one of the chief reasons, and another is the lower cost of living in which public officials are held, with the "good old days" in this case as the basis of comparison.

Recently it appears that business has been repaying, in some measure, its debt to government. Some men prominent in the business world have sought public office. Some of them have been "bumped down" by the voters.
Others have been elected. But those men have sought public office after they had achieved success in business.
It would be more to the point if some who were noted for turning men of ability toward offices of public trust earlier in their careers.

WHO WILL WORK WITH HIM?
The schools are turning out an increasing number of boys, managers, disciplinarians, supervisors, foremen, professionals, also inventors, book-keepers, checkers, etc. Meanwhile there is a shortage of people who will take hold with their hands and do work calling for man.

This disparity will probably increase, judging by figures given out by the National Industrial Conference Board, which finds that the number of unskilled workers who returned to schools about 1918, is about three or more as large as the entire labor force in the United States. Perhaps many of these boys were disappointed when they found they could not pick up gold in our fields.

The man with the hoe and the pick is needed. There is an especial demand for the man who can swing a sumppump, a blower, a bulldozer, a shovel, or a power saw's blade. Many the nation's power plants are driving away supervisors, while their own disciplinarians are walking.

There are many who are driving
away supervisors, while their own
disciplinarians are walking.

WOODSVILLE BRIEFS

Colly, we have had some cutting winds since last Thursday.
Most all of our stock list are very much improved, so I have been informed. Especially R. T. Norville, Cornelius Joyner and Mrs. Vick. We hear occasionally of some sickness among our "kiddies".

Big killing has been on the program this week, which of course is a very impressive and also quite refreshing occasion.

Everything passed off very cool and quiet last Sunday with us, not much going on. Especially among the old young folks.

Wonder what progress our anxious but generous Leap Year candidates are making. Along with those many New Year resolutions which I expect are meeting with some chilly and icy obstacles, as it were. But let us not forget Ground Hog Day, Valentine's as well as Easter will soon be an approaching, and then the "Birds" will begin to sing.

Oh yes, I see we farmers are being advised to "look out" for the danger of overproduction. But shucks, this advice is not coming from our staid, tried and true friends who are manufacturing and selling fertilizers, so I've been informed, and they all say that it pays (there) to use the very best high grades and of course plenty of it. The thing it would take a wise man to analyze or interpret the problem of farming and trying to buy a vacation with a Dodge car driven by a colored party Sunday near Ballards Cross Roads, doing right much damage to cars, but not so much to occupants, as they were thrown from the cars, through the door instead of the windshield.

We have been informed of a real estate deal between Squire W. C. Joyner and Mr. D. R. Lang of Farmville, but the land was in Beaver Dam township, consisting of J. H. and W. C.
Joyner lands on the new road between the Statesburg and Farmville and Cottonville roads.

While in town the other day, I saw men who had met from the gallons sausage, sweet potatoes, milk, butter, lard, baby chicks, hens, eggs, soya beans, corn, and seeds for sale, and I suppose there were a car load of fruit sold at auction last week. Hurrah for our market, but let's not make too much tobacco in 1928, not buy too much fertilizers.

Only 198 special weeks have been arranged for 1928, but of course, it's early yet.

It's remarkable how willing some men are to talk themselves out of a job.

The day may not be so far off, after all, when they will throw an automobile or two in when one buys a gallon of gasoline.

HAVE YOUR MONEY
IN RESERVE?

Every family that does not live within its means must go through trying and irritating hours during which its members face facts. It is best to have the institution of home based soundly upon the principal that income must exceed Outgo. Why not put your home affairs on a business basis? Open an account here and adopt the policy of spending just a little less than your income. You will be surprised how quickly you will have cash in hand to make investments that are sound and which will in turn bring you more cash in hand. And remember that in times of financial stress your banker is your best friend.

The Spirit of our Breathless Age expressed in a Motor Car Step on the starter—let in the clutch—and you somehow know you're in a car that's different... Different in the silence, its smoothness and its ease. Different in the change of pace that sends you darting out through traffic.

Different in the atmosphere of ease which pervades the Fisher body... Different, yes... and something more.
Color, youthfulness and personality. Speed, drive and action. The spirit of our time age expressed in a motor car... Expressed in all-American engineering—in a car of today for Americans of today—with something that everybody wants... The power, drive and smoothness of a 22-hp. engine—the confidence of a longer, heavier chassis—made in a factory—the luxury of available spare parts... If you want to do it right and drive it... sit at the wheel, prepared for an hour... and you'll know why all the talk is saying "That's the way!"
