

HOW OUR CENSUS DEPARTMENT COUNTS ITS FACTS

Each Individual Is Represented by a Card Punched Full of Holes and Classified by Machines at Rate of 175,000 a Day

You see, card 3 1/2 inches long and 3 3/4 inches wide, with 81 holes punched in it.

That is the way you appear on Uncle Sam's records in Washington, provided the Census enumerator found you and turned in his report according to schedule.

As fast as the enumerators' returns come to Washington they are turned over to several hundred young women who sit all day in front of electrically operated punching machines and transfer the enumerator's information to these cards.

A punch in a certain position on the card means that you live in a certain state or territory. Another punch indicates your county, a third your town, a fourth your census enumeration district.

When all of the required holes have been punched in a card, it is fed into another highly ingenious machine, which at one operation adds the facts which the card contains to all the other facts of the same character.

Nothing happens when one of the plungers touches the surface of the card at a point at which there is no hole, but wherever there is a hole in the card, one of the metal plungers goes right through it.

COREY NOT TO ASK FOR 2ND PRIMARY

Withdraws Right to Call Second Contest Because of Expense to County

A. B. Corey, Greenville, attorney, who several days ago announced that he would ask for a second primary to settle the race for the Senate between himself and M. E. Blount, present incumbent, announced Tuesday morning that he had changed his mind and would not ask for the run-off contest.

In a formal statement to his constituency, Corey said his decision resulted from a realization of the expense and inconvenience which the people of the county would incur in the calling of another primary.

Corey and Blount received the highest vote in the three-contest race for the Senate of the North Carolina Legislature in the primary a week ago. S. J. Everett was the third candidate, but he was automatically eliminated by the larger vote of the other two contestants.

W. J. Bundy, candidate for the House of Representatives, also had the right of demanding a second primary with J. W. Holmes of Farmville, but he declined to exert that right and announced the fact last Saturday.

With the withdrawal of Corey, there is only one other candidate of the recent election demanding a run-off fight. That is S. I. Dudley, candidate for the Board of County Commissioners, who is opposing J. Paul Davenport, present chairman of the Board. Two townships have also announced their intention of entering another contest to determine the fight for the offices in their particular districts.

ELEVATED TANK IS BEING SELECTED FOR SPRINKLER

The Imperial Tobacco Company, Ltd., is having a 50,000 gallon elevated water tank erected at Farmville for fire protection. Water will flow from the tank by gravity and protect the entire plant by means of a sprinkler system.

The three foot steel riser pipe will be riveted solid to the tank, eliminating all chances of leaks and acting as an additional support to the structure. No frost damage will be necessary.

J. L. Rye of the Chicago Bridge and Iron works has taken charge of the erection of the tank. The steel for the structure was fabricated by the same company at their western plant in Greenville, Penn.

D. A. R. CHAPTER RECEIVES FLAG

Drexel Childs Barrett, Veteran of Wilson, Makes the Presentation

Commemorative of the one hundred and fifty-third anniversary of the Flag, Drexel Childs Barrett, of Wilson, a World War veteran and member of the American Legion, gave to the Major Benjamin May Chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution, an American Flag in honor of his mother, Mrs. J. E. Barrett.

Dreyce Little, prominent young attorney and citizen of Wilson, and a "Buddy" of Mr. Barrett's, presented the flag and told of the war records of the past generations of the May, Tyson and Bynum families. He also told of Mr. Barrett's part in the World War and exhibited the flag "holed and tattered," under which he fought. Nancy Barrett, the lovely little daughter of Mr. Barrett, unfurled the flag as the Star Spangled Banner was sung.

Ruth Hanna McCormick is the Republican candidate for the senate from Illinois. Her primary victory last April carried the Thompson forces back into power in Cook County Republican affairs, but she disclaims any alliance with the Thompson machine.

Igoe further charged on the floor of the House that Commissioner William Russell and Chief of Detectives John Stepe, both of whom stepped aside yesterday, were made goats in the mayor's eyes.

The reassignment of the two police officials followed public indignation against gang shootings which crystallized with the assassination of Edward J. Lige, Tribune crime reporter a week ago.

The city council is scheduled to start its investigation of the police department tomorrow and the mayor already has been instructed by Chief Justice Denis J. Normoye, of criminal court, to get at the truth of the connection between crime and politics.

Also, Mayor Thompson is expected to send to the city council tomorrow the name of a man to succeed Commissioner Russell. Meanwhile, John N. Abbott, known as "the Iron Man" of the police department, has assumed command and has done temporarily twice before.

Miss Louise Smith delightfully entertained the members of the Wednesday Afternoon Bridge Club at her home on Wilson Street. Tables for bridge were arranged in the living room, which was very attractively decorated with cut flowers.

SHARP ATTACK ON MAYOR OF CHICAGO

Igoe Says Russell and Stege Were Goats for Thompson in Gang Future

Chicago, June 17.—Politics stirred today on the eve of two investigations into Chicago crime and political corruption and culminated in a rebuke to Mayor William Hale Thompson delivered at the special session of the legislature at Springfield, called to relieve Chicago finances.

"If we want a connection between the hoodlums and gangsters and politics, we don't have far to look," declared Representative Michael Igoe, of Chicago, Democratic floor leader in the House.

"We have a mayor up in Chicago who should be held responsible. Connected with the rotten chief of the City Hall is Little Red Riding Hood, who wants to carry the Republican standard into the United States Senate."

Ruth Hanna McCormick is the Republican candidate for the senate from Illinois. Her primary victory last April carried the Thompson forces back into power in Cook County Republican affairs, but she disclaims any alliance with the Thompson machine.

ASSAULTS CANNON FOR REFUSAL TO ANSWER SENATE

Congressman Cannon Says Bishop Stands Convicted in Eyes of All Honest Men; Says Bishop's Statement is 'Falsehood'

Washington, June 17.—Assailing Bishop James Cannon, Jr., for his refusal to tell the Senate lobby committee how $48,300 contributed for the 1929 anti-Smith campaign had been expended, Representative Cannon, charged in the House today that until an accounting is made, the churchman "will stand convicted in the eyes of all honest men of having appropriated that money to his own uses."

Reading from a prepared speech in a calm even tone, Cannon asserted that Cannon appeared before the lobby committee voluntarily and that his refusal to explain the disposition of the $48,300 contributed by E. C. Jameson, New York capitalist, "can give rise only to sinister implications in the mind of any honest man."

At one point in his speech, which was applauded at the beginning and end, Cannon described one of the bishop's statements as a falsehood. He also charged "Bish" had violated the federal corrupt practices act by failing to make a report on the sum of money.

In addition, Cannon asserted that if the Methodist Episcopal church, presented to the lobby committee, "it is inconceivable that he would have known all of the facts is inconceivable that he would have been continued by it as one of its spiritual leaders."

The appearance of Cannon before the lobby committee followed testimony by Cannon that the churchman had received $65,900 from Jameson and that only $17,000 of the amount had been reported to Congress.

A final report by the lobby committee on its examination of Cannon late today, but Chairman Caraway postponed it until tomorrow in order not to interfere with legislation. He gave notice that he would "have something to say" when the report is made.

"It will consist merely of the transcript of Cannon's examination which shows that he refused to answer questions about his political activities."

PROHIBITION OFFICER IS KILLED IN CHASING AUTO

Three Others Are Hurt As Driver Loses Control of Car and Hits a Tree; the Men Being Chased Kept on Going

Goldsboro, June 17.—P. L. Finchum, a prohibition enforcement officer, was killed and H. V. Andrews, another officer, wounded seriously early today in a gun fight with alleged rum runners who escaped.

Two other officers, B. A. Dale and F. E. Street, sustained undetermined injuries when an automobile in which the four were riding when fired upon was wrecked.

The officers, attached to district enforcement headquarters at Wilson gave chase to an automobile they suspected to be loaded with liquor at 9:30 o'clock this morning. Two men in the automobile chased opened fire and a running gun-fight developed.

Near the city park here, the officers' car drew alongside that of the rum runners and in a brief exchange of shots there Finchum was wounded in the head and Andrews shot through the arm and shoulder.

Finchum was driving the automobile and when he was shot, it left the road and crashed into a tree, injuring Dale and Street.

All four men were brought to a hospital here. Finchum died shortly afterwards. Hospital attendants refused to disclose the extent of the injuries to Dale and Street.

An examination of the wrecked car revealed eight bullet holes in the radiator and investigating officers expressed belief the rum runners had first attempted to halt the pursuing officers by shooting into it with the hope a dry radiator would force them to abandon the chase.

The car being chased was headed towards Snow Hill when they left Goldsboro and officers there were called and asked to keep watch for them. Officers in other neighboring cities were also notified.

The two men in the suspected car made their escape following the shooting.

Andrew told his story of the occurrence while propped up in bed in the hospital.

"We had a tip that a rum car was coming up Number 10 last night and we four got together in Goldsboro, it must have been around three o'clock when a car like the one we had been told to watch for came along. I stuck my head out of our car so that they could see the lights on my cap and Finchum blew for them to stop. We wanted them to know that we were officers. Instead of stopping, they checked out and we followed."

"The two miles into Goldsboro, I guess, were made at the rate of 70 miles an hour, of course we had to slow down when we turned in toward the park.

"We were pretty close when the man in the right hand seat of the car in front turned and began shooting through the rear window of his car. There was a rain of glass and I ducked so as to make as little a target as possible.

"As far as I know, none of us 'agents' had pulled our guns then. I hadn't taken mine out of my holster."

Finchum, who was a native of Danbury, is survived by his widow and two children. He had been connected with the Wilson office of the prohibition service for a number of years.

Deputy prohibition administrator, named F. M. Caudle of Wilson, was expected to come here to take charge of the investigation.

MERCHANTS PLAN PERSISTENT WAR ON TAX ON SALES

Other Matters Before State Convention Are Shown Into Background; W. L. Smith, Farmville Merchant, Attends Meeting

Wrightsville Beach, June 17.—Other problems were shoved into the background as the North Carolina Merchants' Association launched its 28th annual convention here today and began marshalling its forces against the proposed sales tax expected to come before the 1931 General Assembly.

Local associations are on the whole pleased with the results of their activities in the recent primary in supporting candidates known to be opposed to the sales tax. Creation of an ample legislative fund with which to fight the proposed measure was strongly advocated today as the first and immediate step to be taken by the State group.

Both Governor Gardner and the State tax commission are reported here to be opposed to a sales tax. Merchants are moving more or less confidently in view of this and their confidence in their field marshal Willard L. Powell, executive secretary.

A forward-looking child labor program was advocated by President Dallas Holman, of Raleigh, and Grier Hudson, also of Raleigh, as chairman of the legislative committee, both of whom recommended that the body endorse the program of the League of Women Voters, which would require children under 16 years to finish the sixth grade before leaving school for work and would remove the fourth grade class from the present law under which children who have finished the fourth grade are permitted to work more than 48 hours per week. These recommendations will come before the convention tomorrow for final action.

While many reports were heard during the morning and addresses by Commissioner of Revenue A. J. Maxwell and H. K. Carpenter, manager of radio station WPTF this afternoon and much business transacted, members called it a day at 5 o'clock and held what appeared to be the largest session of the convention in the surt. Tonight there is a dance, and the two boats chartered by the Wilmington association for the entertainment of visitors are kept busy.

President Holman in his report observed: "It is unfortunately true that many stores endeavor to secure the services of women at a price upon which no woman can live. These are usually corporations whose sentiments are entirely foreign to local communities and who have absolutely no interest beyond their own in local affairs, whereas merchants with a sense of local civic pride are compelled to lower their wage scale to meet the prices of these competitors or sacrifice their business to them because of not being able to meet their prices."

He expressed the hope that the League of Women Voters would undertake to work out a minimum wage scale for women.

Mr. Harrison also introduced a resolution condemning the "misguided activities" of county tax leagues who are advocating a sales tax as a means of accomplishing the "laudable objective" of property tax reduction. Mr. Harrison's resolution will, if passed when it comes before the convention today for action, put the convention on record as being "unalterably opposed to a sales tax of any kind," either a general sales tax on all commodities, a luxury tax, or any other form.
