CELEBRATES ANNIVERSARY

Master Sterling Gates, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. Sterling Gates, entertained 10 of his young friends at a birthday party on Thursday afternoon, celebrating his fourth anniversary. After playing a number of games ice cream and cake were served by the mother of the host.

TYSON-WASHINGTON

The following invitations have been received by friends here this week: "Mrs. Celestine Washington invites you to be present at the marriage of her daughter, Mary Ernest, to Mr. William Sherrod Tyson on Saturday evening, February the eighteenth at eight-thirty o'clock, Eighth Street Christian Church, Greenville, North Carolina."

THE JUNIOR WOMAN'S CLUB HEARS POST COMMANDER BAUCOM

Misses Mae and Frances Joyner were hostesses at a delightful meeting of the Junior Woman's Club on Saturday afternoon, at which time plans were completed for the benefit bridge tournament to be held by this group at the Davis Hotel, Friday evening, February 10, the following committee heads being appointed by the president, Miss Edna Foust Harris: awards, Mrs. Mac Carraway; publicity, Miss Elizabeth Fields; decorations, Miss Elizabeth Davis; refreshments, Miss Mae Joyner.

The New Year letter of the State Federation president, Mrs. J. M. Hobgood was read, together with an article from the Bulletin, enumerating the achievements of this group during the past year, which is printed elsewhere in these columns this week.

Interesting and enlightening to a great degree was the address of Chas. F. Baucum, commander of the local post of the American Legion, who spoke on "North Carolina in The World War."

Delicious refreshments were served at the conclusion of the program.

GILLASPIE-BAKER

Bedford, Va., Jan. 31.—Miss Ruby Ileen Baker and Mr. A. Ward Gillaspie were united in marriage in Roanoke Sunday afternoon at 4:30, the ceremony being performed at the home of Rev. and Mrs. W. E. Beaman, uncle and aunt of the groom, the officiating minister being Mr. Beaman. The attendants were Miss Priscilla Baker, sister of the bride; Miss Elva Gillaspie, sister of the groom; Patrick Baker and Malcolm Hardy, brother and cousin respectively of the bride. Simplicity marked the wedding service and only members of the immediate families were present.

Mrs. Gillaspie is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Baker of Farmville, N. C., and Mr. Gillaspie is the son of Mayor and Mrs. J. W. Gillaspie of Bedford. They will make their home here, where Mr. Gillaspie is an employe of the town.

A New Precedent In Taxation

No property now seems to hold perfect security in tax matters, even the churches of America no longer enjoy the freedom of taxation as they have in the past.

During the session of Congress in June 1932, various and sundry laws were made—creating a source of revenue to help balance the budget. In particular the writer refers to a certain act known as the U. S. Revenue Act of 1932, Part VI—Section 751, Tax of checks. Which said act imposes a tax of two cents upon each check, draft or order for payment of money, drawn upon any bank, banker or trust company, said act to become effective on or before the fifteenth day following its passage; Therefore a tax is imposed upon property heretofore exempt from taxation.

There are in America today two hundred and ten thousand churches, just as other institutions they have their faults, not withstanding this fact, the churches are a militant force for the social, moral and spiritual uplift of humanity. No one will dare deny that the churches of our country are showing forth a good influence to the world.

The churches of America are not operating from a standpoint of mercenary gain, but are asked, not only asked but are forced to bear part of the tax burden of our Government. Figuring from a conservative basis, the several churches in this country today are paying into the Federal Treasury annually more than a quarter million dollars under the above named act. The check tax imposed upon the meager funds of our religious institutions is unjust.

What will congress think of next? M. LILES, Farmville, N. C.

PROGRESSIVE BRIDGE CLUB MEETS WITH MRS. BEAMAN

The Progressive Bridge Club completed another series of the winter tournament games, which have been in play by this group for several weeks, on Thursday afternoon with Mrs. E. C. Beaman as hostess at her home on Contentnea street. After the usual number of progressive cards were laid aside and a delightful salad course was served. In addition to the members Mrs. Beaman had as guests Mrs. Z. M. Whitehurst, Jr., Mrs. W. M. Willis and Mrs. Lath Morris.

FARMVILLE JUNIORS GET OUT ATTRACTIVE YEAR BOOK

One of the most attractive year books that has found its way to Headquarters is that of the Junior Woman's Club of Farmville. The cover design, featuring long-leaf pine and goldenrod in natural colors, was painted by Mrs. S. Akker, a member of the club, after the club's recent study of the Old North State.

Since the club's organization a little over a year ago, the twenty-two members have achieved a number of worth while things that might be the envy of older and larger clubs. Among these are: Sponsored a benefit entertainment for Senior Club; sponsored a motion picture show, "Girl About Town"; sold Christmas seals; remodeled and painted old toys for underprivileged children for three months; planted fourteen cedars in commemoration of Washington's bicentennial; fed a tuberculous patient for ten days; pledged $5.00 to the Sallie Southall Cotton Loan Fund; and raised a total for all purposes of $78.30.

The Farmville Juniors are most pleasantly remembered for the part they took in the Federation convention at Winston-Salem last spring. Five of them winsomely costumed in the style of George and Martha Washington's time served as personal pages to Mrs. Hobgood during the three-day session of the convention. Their quaint and colorful costumes as they glided in and out of the meetings lent a festive note to the occasion.—N. C. Federation Bulletin.

CHRIST CALLS ANOTHER LITTLE CHILD UNTO HIMSELF

After an illness of several weeks little Marjorie Jones Braxton died on January 21st, 1933 at six o'clock a. m.

She was buried by the side of her mother, Madeline Jones Braxton, who died when Marjorie was only two months old.

Marjorie was reared by her grand parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. D. Jones. When she was taken with typhoid fever they did everything possible for her, nursing her faithfully and she seemed to be recuperating, but about two weeks ago she became much worse and suffered terribly from an enlarged heart. Altho everything that skill and love could do was done she did not recover.

Marjorie was born March 27, 1929 and was the only child of Sam Braxton and Madeline Jones Braxton. She is survived by her father and grand parents.

MRS. J. M. HOBGOOD BROADCASTS FEDERATION LEGISLATIVE VIEWS

Mrs. J. M. Hobgood, president of the State Federation of Women's Clubs spoke to a radio audience over WPTF, Raleigh on Tuesday relative to the proposed bills before the State Legislature to consolidate the offices of the State Librarian and the Director of the Library Commission, and that of the Public Welfare Commission with the Public Health Department, both of which are opposed by this organization.

Mrs. Hobgood spoke in behalf of the Hawes-Cooper bill, which will prohibit the unregulated sale of prison-made goods, and told of the part the Federation has had in promoting Education in the State and appealed to the people to allow no retrenchment.

She later addressed the Citizen's Educational Conference, on the vital question of public education.

The Federation president addressed the Greenville's Woman's Club on Thursday afternoon.

PARENT-TEACHER

A comprehensive and an inspiring address, dealing with the lives of Lee, Jackson and Maury as men of noble character and leaders of rare ability, was made by Mrs. Ed Woodard of Wilson, state president of the United Daughters of the Confederacy, at the January meeting of the Parent-Teacher Association, held on Friday afternoon in Perkins Hall, and which was attended by 150 members and guests. The speaker was introduced by Mrs. J. W. Parker, president of the local U. D. C. chapter. A lovely and appropriate solo, "Southern Girls" by Mrs. John Dwight Holmes, brought the program to a close. Piano accompaniment was by Mrs. Haywood Smith.

In a business session, presided over by Mrs. Wesley Willis, a fund for the Domestic Science room equipment was raised. The room roll call prize for the month went to Grade 6-B, Miss Janie Davis, teacher.

MRS. MONK HOSTESS TO LITERARY CLUB

Mrs. J. Y. Monk was hostess to the Farmville Literary Club at a most interesting meeting held at her home on Wednesday afternoon. Miss Annie Perkins presided over a business session in which laws relative to membership were amended and other matters of vital importance to club activities were disposed of.

American Artists was the subject of study for the afternoon with the life of Cecilia Beaux reviewed from both angles of a great artist and a great woman by Mrs. J. H. Harris and a sketch of Laura E. Richards given by Miss Annie Perkins, who also discussed her ideas in bringing up children as revealed in her book, "Stepping Westward."

Delightful refreshments were served after adjournment.

LITERARY-ART DEPARTMENT

The monthly meeting of the Literary-Art department of the Woman's Club was held at the home of Mrs. W. J. Rasberry on Wednesday afternoon with Mrs. J. W. Bass and Mrs. George W. Davis as joint hostesses.

Mrs. A. Q. Roebuck presided over a business period, during which the members voted to invite the Literary Club to hold a joint meet upon the occasion of the visit of Prof. Siebert, French instructor at Chapel Hill, who will speak on the women of his country.

The program, based on "Women of the Bible", included interesting papers on "Esther" read by Mrs. Sterling Gates and "Ruth" by Mrs. I. E. Satterfield. Mrs. M. V. Jones delighted the group with a number of musical selections.

The Valentine idea was successfully carried out in the refreshments and favors. The hostesses had as special guests Mrs. John T. Bynum, Mrs. J. L. Rumley, Mrs. Louise Harris, Mrs. M. V. Jones and Mrs. McIntosh Lane of Washington, D. C., house guest of Mrs. J. M. Christman.

Thousands of Women Have Taken Cardui on Their Mothers' Advice

It is an impressive fact that many women have said they learned of the value of Cardui from their mothers.

What stronger evidence of her confidence in a medicine could a mother have than that she advise her daughter to take it?

Cardui is given the credit for relieving so many cases of womanly suffering that it is widely and favorably known. Druggists everywhere sell it.

If you are weak, run-down, suffering monthly, take Cardui. Take it for a reasonable length of time and try it thoroughly. As your health improves, you will share the enthusiasm of thousands of women who have written to say "Cardui helped me!"

Traveling Around America

A BIT OF VENICE IN AMERICA

NOT far from Mexico City is an enchanting bit of Venice—the "floating gardens" of Xochimilco, once the favorite playgrounds of the Aztec Emperors. It is fascinatingly foreign sights such as these—found almost at every door—which make Central American towns such popular parts of call on the cruises between New York and California. These gorgeous gardens date back to pre-Aztec times in their early days they really floated on the flowers were planted in earth spread over rafts woven from twigs and vines, so that the flower beds could be moved about as the color scheme, or the mood of the gardener demanded.

The gardens no longer float, yet narrow canals paved with water lilies still wind their way among the fragrant roses, calla lilies, pinks and poppies. And now's filled with young love and melody still drift over the sparkling water—such as they did four centuries ago when Spaniards wooed the Aztec maids.

Today these gardens are the favorite haunt of excursionists and travelers. And the large winding lanes are the scenes of great activity. Various cruise through the gardens in flower-decked boats paddled by Indians; flower vendors float around on flat-bottomed barges piled high with biosomes, selling great armfuls of their gorgeous wares for only a few cents; strange native foods and drinks are served from boats, also—the whole scene is as colorful and picturesque as a grand opera setting, and it is at its best in early Spring.

Wake Up Your Liver Bile —Without Calomel

And You'll Jump Out of Bed in the Morning Rarin' to Go

If this bile is not flowing freely, your food doesn't digest. It just clogs in the bowels. Gas bloats up your stomach. You have a sick, bad taste and your breath is foul, skin often breaks out in blotches. Your head aches and you feel down and out. Your whole system is poisoned.

It takes those good old CARTER'S LITTLE LIVER PILLS to get those two pounds of bile flowing freely and make you feel "up and up." They contain wonderful, harmless, gentle vegetable extracts, amazing when it comes to making the bile flow freely.

But don't ask for liver pills. Ask for Carter's Little Liver Pills. Look for the name Carter's Little Liver Pills on the red label. Repeat a substitute, 25c at all stores. © 1931, C. M. Co.
