Six automobile accidents of the past two weeks, which have resulted in the death or injury of eleven people of this community, present a matter of grave consideration for automobilists at this time and call for a renewed vigilance and the exercising of more care in the art of driving.

FOR WANT OF THOUGHT

For want of thought in word and deed, We, much hatred and mischief, breed. 'Tis not enough the intention is good When coupled with a thoughtless word, Which misconstrued may rankle sore, And worry us and grow more and more. Sometimes it may be recalled To all appearances forestalled, Yet, in memory still remains A slumbering sting it always maintains. It surely should be worth a great deal To always look ahead and for others feel. See if we can, the effect unkind words cause, And think before each word or deed, to pause.— Minnie Savage Warren.

Four Cents Loan On Cotton Options

An advance of four cents a pound will be granted cotton producers who specified in the acreage reduction campaign this summer that they desired options on government-held cotton as a part of their consideration for the reduction. "To get this four cents loan, cotton growers must agree to take part in the cotton adjustment plan for 1934 by which the acreage will be reduced by 40 percent in the South," says Dean I. O. Schaub of State College, head of the cotton reduction movement in this State. "Those growers who agree to sign one of the acreage reduction contracts will get the four cents a pound advance as soon as the necessary forms now being printed can be distributed to farm demonstration agents. The growers will still hold an equity in the cotton and should the price advance by the time the options are sold, the owners will get a further ratable payment after necessary expenses are deducted." There are some 2,400,000 bales of cotton involved in the transaction throughout the South, and about 600,000 farmers will participate. In North Carolina, options are held on 107,355 bales. An advance of four cents a pound on this cotton will mean that over two million dollars will be available to growers of the State, Mr. Schaub says. He expects the necessary notes and banks to be available at an early date. These will be mailed to the growers along with the options, according to advices from Washington.

No More Seed Loans But Something Better

Under the new laws governing the work of the Farm Credit Administration, new machinery is being set up for the handling of seed and fertilizer loans beginning with the 1934 season. North Carolina farmers will handle their own credit needs with the aid of the Production Credit Corporation affiliated with the Land Bank at Columbia. The new plan provides for farmers to secure adequate and permanent credit for producing crops, breeding, raising and fattening livestock and for the production of poultry and all livestock products. The Production Credit Corporation has a capital stock of $7,500,000 and will organize, provided the initial credit for and supervise the operation of local production credit associations in all communities where the need exists. "It will be the duty of these associations to make loans directly to farmer-borrowers and the associations will, in turn, discount the farmers' notes directly with the Federal Intermediate Credit Bank of Columbia," says A. F. Lever, in charge of public relations for the bank. "If ten or more farmers manifest an interest in forming an association, the Columbia Corporation will send a representative to the community to help arrange the matter. County farm agents will also help." These associations are not to be set up to provide an easy way for farmers to go into debt but to help him get out and stay out of debt, Mr. Lever explains. He says that anyone desiring definite information about how to organize one of the associations should talk over the matter with his farm agent or write directly to the Corporation at Columbia, South Carolina. It is the belief of extension authorities at State College that this new plan will be found more satisfactory in the long run than the old seed loans of the past.

Some Timely Farm Questions Answered At State College

QUESTION: When will rental payments be made on tobacco acreage taken out of production? ANSWER: Rental payments will be made between December 15, and February 15 or within 30 days after the grower's contract is accepted by the Washington office. The price equalizing payment on tobacco sold before and after the market holiday will be paid as quickly as possible after the grower has signed a contract to reduce his acreage in 1934-35 and within 60 days after the application for payment has been accepted.

FARMVILLE GIRL IN QUARTERLY RECITAL AT FLORA MACDONALD

Red Springs, Nov. 29.—The first quarterly recital of the year took place Monday night, the 27th. A large and appreciative audience, including many from nearby towns, greeted the young artists and gave them warm applause. The program was varied, interesting and instructive, covering a wide range from the early Italian Corelli to the ultra modern schools of Europe and America. Decidedly noteworthy were the excellent interpretations, the technical skill and the all round good musicianship displayed. Those playing were: Misses Ruth Hamilton, Wakefield Baltzegar, Lena Jordan Stewart, Serene Turnage, Jennie Manning, Caroline Banks Chapman, Sarah Kay, Hazel Hardison, Helen Marie McNeill, Helen Scoggins, Laura Snead and Billy Bridges. Miss Serene Turnage is the charming daughter of Mr. and Mrs. T. C. Turnage of this city. Miss Turnage's talent along musical lines has long been appreciated by this community, and Farmville friends will note with pleasure the recognition which she is receiving elsewhere.

LAST RITES HELD FOR DEXTER L. JONES WHO DIED OF INJURIES MONDAY A. M.

Funeral services for Dexter L. Jones, highly esteemed and well known tinner and carpenter of this section, who died in a Greenville hospital early Monday morning as the result of an automobile accident of Friday evening, were held at the home just outside the incorporated limits of Farmville Tuesday afternoon at 3:00 o'clock, by Rev. C. B. Mashburn pastor of the local Christian church. Interment was made in the family burial plot nearby.

The accident, which occurred within sight of Mr. Jones' home about 6:00 o'clock Friday evening, is said to have been unavoidable as the wagon he was driving carried no light and was made invisible to J. W. Parker, Farmville citizen and driver of the car colliding with the wagon, by the bright lights of an approaching automobile.

The wagon fell apart upon the impact and the mules, hitched to the front wheels, ran a distance of 1 1/2 miles, being stopped on Main street here. Mr. Jones, thrown to the pavement, sustained a fractured skull and never regained consciousness. A Negro, Frank McKinzie, who accompanied him, suffered only slight injuries.

Mr. Jones, deemed as expert in his work of tinning and carpentering, was considered one of the most honest and useful men of the community and will be greatly missed. He is survived by his wife, two sisters, Mrs. Amon Joyner, who lives near Greenville, Mrs. John Walston, Farmville, and a brother, Charley Jones, of Ahsokie.

People Not Paying Processing Tax

Commissioner of Internal Revenue Guy T. Helvering stated today that it has been brought to the attention of the Bureau of Internal Revenue that in many instances farmers and others are slaughtering hogs and selling the products to consumers without payment of the processing tax. This is a violation of the Agricultural Adjustment Act and regulations promulgated thereunder, which provide that any person who slaughters hogs for market must file appropriate returns and pay the processing tax thereon.

The tax applies even in the case of the purchaser who slaughters his own hogs and sells or otherwise disposes of all or any part of the products. Heavy penalties are provided for violation of the law or evasion of the tax and any person who slaughters hogs and sells all or any part thereof should confer with the collector of internal revenue for his district who will assist him in preparing and filing the required returns.
