

Widespread Espionage Plot Revealed In Paris Trial

Two American Prisoners Reveal Spying Against The United States, France and Great Britain

Paris, March 20.—Spying against the United States, France and Great Britain was charged by police today in a widespread plot they said finally had been revealed through the testimony of two American prisoners.

Investigators said Germany and Soviet Russia had been the beneficiaries of what authorities described as a vast international espionage syndicate.

Police of the United States and England have been cooperating in the investigation of the spy ring in which it is largely through their efforts that the tangled skein of the mystery of the so-called plot finally is commencing to be unraveled.

Police voiced their charge as developments came thick and fast following a seven hour questioning of Mr. and Mrs. Robt Gordon Switz, Americans, in a secret session before Judge Andre Bernon, investigating magistrate, which did not end until shortly before last midnight.

Early today five persons including two women were arrested in what police described as direct outgrowth of their questioning of the Switzes held in the alleged plot since Dec. 20.

Court officials said the pair made a full confession of whatever part they played.

A third woman police had expected to arrest today escaped it was announced before the early morning raid which brought those held in connection with the investigation of the alleged spy ring to fifteen.

Federal Income Tax Receipts Climbing

Raleigh, March 22.—Federal income tax receipts in North Carolina continue to climb above figures for last year, but the State's collections are still lagging, reports yesterday indicated.

Charles H. Robertson, Federal collector, reported that the net gain for this fiscal year over 1933 stood at $1,952,694.91 after including receipts through March 20. A total of $10,901,729.40 has been collected this year as compared with 1933 receipts of $8,949,034.49 for the same period.

The State collected $4,965,332 in income taxes through March 20 of this year as compared with $5,423,563 for the corresponding period in 1933.

Studying the "Heroines of Early America," the Major May Chapter members gathered at this time on the latter afternoon at the home of Mrs. Henrietta Williamson, and another session.

Cigarette War Foreshadowed In Tax Proposal

Morgenthau's Suggestion of Lower Levy on 10-Cent Brands Causes Stir; Would Hurt Farmers, Williams Holds

Washington, March 21.—Secretary of the Treasury Henry Morgenthau today greatly surprised those who have been following the cigarette tax situation by appearing before the Senate Finance Committee in executive session and strongly urging adoption of a 30-cent differential for manufacturers of 10-cent cigarettes, which would make their tax $2.70 a thousand cigarettes.

Predictions of a cigarette "war" were immediately made by Senator J. W. Bailey and Representative Frank Hancock, of North Carolina. S. Clay Williams, president of the R. J. Reynolds Tobacco Company, although disclaiming use of the word "war," confirmed the prediction of what would happen, by saying:

"If the government is to grant a subsidy to manufacturers of 10-cent cigarettes, all the large manufacturers will be forced to enter the 10-cent field."

Concerning Secretary Morgenthau's recommendation, Mr. Williams said: "I cannot believe that he has made a study of the situation with regard to the possibility of injury to the farmers."

It is the contention of the large manufacturers that high prices for leaf tobacco can only be paid for higher priced cigarettes and that placing a premium on cheap cigarettes will automatically force down the price of leaf tobacco.

Elaborate preparations have been made by the House committee on ways and means for hearings on the whole tobacco tax field. The hearings were to have been started for a subcommittee on Monday of last week, but were postponed until Tuesday of next week because of the pending tariff bill.

Secretary Morgenthau's recommendation today was without notice to Representative R. L. Doughton, chairman of the committee or Representative Fred Vinson, chairman of the subcommittee and both of them were considerably perturbed by the development.

Secretary Morgenthau's recommendation was that the change be placed in the revenue bill, dealing chiefly with income taxes, which has already passed the House and which was reported out by the Senate finance committee today.

Senator Bailey, who is a member of the committee, was instrumental in having the matter left out of the bill as it was reported today, but the Senate committee also plans to hold hearings next week with a view to inclusion of the change in the pending bill, if a change is decided upon by the committee.

Both plans will be fully developed before the two committees when hearings begin next week. Senator Bailey stated today that he will view the matter from the standpoint of what appears to be to the best interests of the farmers.

Senator Bailey was also an active figure in the action of the committee in retaining in the bill the tax on imported coconut oil. However, the tax of five cents a pound in the House bill was reduced to three cents by the Senate committee. This tax is more than 100 per cent and Senator Bailey thinks it will give adequate protection to manufacturers of cottonseed oil and fish oil.

U. S. and Japan Shake Hands Pledging Peace

Exchange Peace Notes; Secretary Hull Receives Statement with Special Gratification

Washington, March 21.—The United States and Japan today "shook hands across the Pacific" in a significant exchange of notes mutually pledging peace.

Koko Hirota, foreign minister of Japan, in a formal note to Roosevelt administration diplomatic chief here asserted the Nippon government "has no intention whatever to provoke and make trouble with any other power."

Secretary Hull evidently scanning reported war clouds in the far east based on strained relations between Japan and Soviet Russia replied:

"I received this statement with special gratification xxx. I am glad to take this opportunity to state categorically that the United States on its part has no desire to create any issues and no intention to initiate any conflict in its relations with other countries."

The Hirota-Hull exchange was the first such passage of good will notes since President Roosevelt took office more than a year ago.

The notes were released simultaneously to the press at the State department here and in Tokyo.

Norris Amendment Adopted By Senate

Washington, March 20.—With both of the North Carolina Senators absent, the Senate yesterday, by a margin of one vote, retained in the bill guaranteeing the principal of bonds of the Home Owners' Loan Corporation the Norris amendment forbidding political considerations being given any place in filling positions in the organization.

Senator Norris last year secured adoption of a similar provision in the Muscle Shoals bill creating the Tennessee Valley Authority, and appointments in that service have been made without regard to the wishes of Senators and Representatives.

The amendment was adopted today by a vote of 40 to 33, after Senator Neely had changed his vote in order to move reconsideration. The one vote margin came on the Neely vote to reconsider, which was lost, 34 to 35.

Either of the North Carolina Senators apparently could have saved the motion and had he been present, as Vice-President Garner undoubtedly would have voted with the Democratic leadership to reconsider.

Relief Workers Hold Conference

County Representatives Meet at Washington; Program Outlined

Washington, N. C., March 21.—A district meeting of relief directors and CWA administrators coming from 11 counties was held at the parish house Wednesday, the session convening at 1 o'clock.

Dr. Roy M. Brown, assistant State CWA administrator, recently returned from Atlanta where Southern CWA administrators met was the principal speaker, coming to Washington to outline the workings of the farm relief program to be carried on in this State.

The 11 counties included in the district represented here Wednesday are Tyrrell, Martin, Washington, Beaufort, Hyde, Pitt, Craven, Pamlico, Carteret, Jones, Onslow.

Approximately 100 relief workers and county administrators were present. Dr. Brown pointed to the necessity of establishing a desire among relief families to "want to help themselves." In summing up he said that three aims were to be sought in the new program:

"All families with one or more able bodied men to be self supporting by December 1.

"A definite farm program to be adopted by January 1 which would lead to permanent rehabilitation.

"The developing of small industries in rural areas."

Samuel Insull Trying to Find a Haven of Rest

Insull's Lawyers Maintaining Close Touch With Him by Special Code

Athens, March 20.—Samuel Insull planned to return to the United States after the excitement of his chase dies down and live in America peacefully the rest of his life, one of the aged fugitive's Greek attorneys told the Associated Press today.

The lawyer, Mr. Xeros, declared he was in communication both with Insull's ship on the Mediterranean and his London's solicitors who are handling the former Chicagoan's affairs.

Although Insull's destination remained more of a mystery than ever to the public, the attorney said Mrs. Insull and her husband's lawyers were maintaining close touch with Insull by special code.

"Insull seems happy now in calm weather," the lawyer said. "Wherever he is going now he will make his permanent home if the United States continues to persecute him.

"Mrs. Insull will go to Paris Saturday and thereafter will leave for London within a few days," Xeros added.

Insull may visit as many as twenty countries before he finds a haven, says Xeros.

Supreme Court Reverses Reynolds' Case Opinion

Matter Reached Supreme Court In Right Over Right of Anne Cannon Reynolds, II

Raleigh, March 21.—The State supreme court today reversed the judgment of Judge Wilson Warlick of superior court under which some $15,000,000 of the estate of the late Zachary Smith Reynolds of Winston-Salem would have been used to establish a charitable foundation.

The matter reached the supreme court in a fight over the right of Anne Cannon Reynolds II, daughter of Smith Reynolds by his first wife. Under the decision of Judge Warlick the infant child would have received $1,500,000 from the Smith Reynolds estate in addition to $500,000 received as a trust fund when her father and mother were divorced.

Zachary Smith Reynolds, Jr., son of Libby Holman Reynolds, would also have received $2,000,000. Anne Cannon Reynolds Smith, first wife of Smith Reynolds, received a settlement of $500,000 when she and Reynolds separated, and Libby Holman Reynolds would have received an unannounced amount in the proposed settlement of the estate.

The remainder of the estate of more than $20,000,000 would have been used to create the foundation.

Other opinions handed down included: Trust Company vs Hood, Wilson affirmed; Lamm vs Lamm, Wilson affirmed; Harrell vs Commissioners, affirmed.

Ten-Cent Smokes Blow To Budget

Raleigh, March 20.—Ten-cent cigarettes played havoc with North Carolina's carefully laid budget plans. Commissioner of Revenue A. J. Maxwell, announcing yesterday that State income tax collections through March 17 were $493,812.15 lower than those for the same period last year, revealed that decreased earnings of tobacco companies during 1933 cost the State approximately $2,000,000 in income taxes.

Decreased income receipts—it was estimated that source would provide $6,500,000 this year—have about blasted hopes for a surplus in the general fund. Mr. Maxwell hopes for a surplus for State employees in the near future, has about vanished with the hoped for surplus.

Mr. Maxwell announced yesterday that income tax payments this year have totaled $4,845,056.80. Collections for the same period in 1933 were $5,278,866.75.

Buying Power of Tobacco Farmer Greatly Increased

Sign Adjustment Contracts For Better Farms

Will Set Up County Control Associations in State as Part of Work in Adjusting Acreage and Production

Raleigh, March 20.—County control associations to be set up in North Carolina as a part of the work in adjusting acreage and production of cotton, tobacco, wheat and other crops will likely be an important factor in building better farm programs in the state in future years, believes Dean I. O. Schaub, director of extension at State College and head of the adjustment programs now under way.

In some counties, Schaub points out, but 95 to 98 per cent of all the farmers have signed adjustment contracts. This means that the great bulk of the more progressive men and women are cooperating in the work of fitting crop yields and acreages to demands of the market.

When these people sign contracts, they automatically become members of the county control associations and are therefore interested in seeing that the contracts are fulfilled in detail by every person signing them.

In addition, however, these contract signers will be further interested in using the land taken from the production of the cash crops. In North Carolina, definite canning and food production budgets have been prepared by the Extension forces showing just how much food materials is needed for an acreage family and how much feed must be produced for the various kinds of livestock. Planning the acreage so that these food and feed requirements may be met will be one of the important things that control associations can do, Schaub said.

He also expects the members of the control associations to work with established educational agencies to promote all types of better farming in the state. There are matters of soil improvement, better farm seeds, erosion control, pasture production and other important rural problems to which the associations could well devote attention. Therefore, Mr. Schaub says the associations may eventually become powerful factors in the rural life of the State.

In the future, agriculture will move forward under more definite plans than in the past and much of this planning must be done in the small, local, community groups such as would be formed by neighborhood members of the control associations. These groups will have the aid and suggestions of the Agricultural Adjustment Administration at Washington as well as the extension service at State College. The new state-wide committee on agriculture recently appointed by Dr. Frank P. Graham of the Greater University will also be able to aid in this work.

"As a result of all this, I expect to see distinct improvements made in our farming situation in the future," declared Mr. Schaub.

Hutson Says Receipts From 1933-34 Crop Will Total Between $185,000,000 and $190,000,000; Acreage This Year Will be Smallest Since 1914

Washington, March 21.—J. B. Hutson, chief of the farm administration's tobacco section, reported Monday that market receipts and benefit payments for the 1933-34 marketing year have given tobacco growers a 45 per cent greater purchasing power, in comparison with the cost of commodities, than any leaf crop since 1929.

Market receipts alone will total between $185,000,000 and $190,000,000, Hutson said, while benefit payments will be more than $28,300,000. These figures compare with $104,529,000 received by tobacco growers last marketing year and $129,138,000 in 1931-1932.

At the same time, Hutson pointed to the March 15 "intentions to plant" report of the crop reporting board as assurance that farmers intended to co-operate in the acreage reduction program.

The board reported the smallest tobacco acreage since 1914 is indicated for 1934. This indicated acreage of 1,305,600 acres would be approximately 25 per cent below the record acreage grown in 1932.

"The markets for most types have shown strength," Hutson said, "and to a considerable extent have reflected the proposed reduction in so far as next year is concerned.

"This is possible because of the prompt acceptance of most of the growers of the contracts offered them for reduction of production and belief on the part of buyers that the reduction would actually take place. The intentions to plant report of March 15 substantiates earlier reports to the effect that farmers are making plans on the basis of a marked reduction in acreage."

It was the signing of preliminary agreements to reduce acreage last fall that finally led to the adoption of marketing agreements for some types that materially increased prices paid to farmers by tobacco buyers. The preliminary agreements are now being changed to actual contracts to reduce acreage in return for government benefit payments.

The intentions to plant report showed a reduced 1934 acreage for every type of tobacco except cigar filler and cigar wrapper. Cigar filler and binder growers reduced their acreage nearly 50 per cent last year and intend to plant about the same amount this year.

Cigar wrapper tobacco is a high-priced product grown in selected areas. It shows an intended 10 per cent acreage increase.

Flue-cured, the chief cigarette type, shows an intended reduction of 26 per cent under last year's acreage. Fire-cured has an indicated reduction of 15 per cent over a year ago and burley an indicated reduction of 35 per cent.
