THOSE OFFERED WORK
SHOULD NOT BE CARRIED ON RELIEF PAY ROLL

R. A. Joyner, head of the relief work here is in receipt of a letter from Mr. Futrell, County Superintendent of Public Welfare, stating that he has been advised by Mrs. O'Berry that strawberry growers of Duplin and Pender counties have been in Greenville, Farmville and Grifton seeking workers to pick strawberries when their season opens about the 20th or 25th of this month. They report to Mrs. O'Berry they were unable to find workers by reason of relief work. These workers are mostly colored and a great many of them are women who go to the strawberry fields.

In view of the rather distressing fact that Mrs. O'Berry states that relief work in this area will be closed unless these workers go to this private employment, we feel that it is up to the citizens of this community to make the conditions known and to insist that any person offered private employment take advantage of such offer. The latter can be accomplished if citizens knowing of such cases report them to the proper authorities.

The County office has issued instructions to Mr. Joyner and heads of relief work in other towns of the County that if persons refuse to take private employment they will thereby render themselves ineligible to go on relief work, also any person found on relief work and wanted on private employment will be immediately discharged from relief work.

Mr. Futrell branded these reports as false and requested Mr. Joyner to make a survey of the workers in this community to ascertain their attitude in the matter. This was done today, Friday, but results will come too late for publication. Mr. Joyner also went to Mt. Olive today to see how many workers could be used from this section.

Rent Average Land
In Reducing Cotton

Land of good average fertility and not eroded, waste or gullied land, is to be taken out of cotton cultivation this year under the terms of the contracts signed by southern growers.

The purpose of the reduction of 40 per cent in cotton acreage, to be obtained by renting land to the Secretary of Agriculture, is a similar reduction in the production of cotton in 1934.

"Therefore, growers are not entitled, under the contract, to select old, worn-out land designate it as the rented area specified in the contract," says Charles A. Sheffield, in charge of the Cotton Adjustment Campaign in North Carolina. "There should be no skipping about in the field, renting one poor spot here and another 'galled' spot there. The rented acres must be tillable land suited to the growing of cotton and shall be fairly representative of the average cotton land on the farm. In other words the adjustment administration agrees to pay growers benefit rentals for good average cotton land that produces on the average what the other cotton acres will produce."

While these acres of average land may not be planted to cotton this year, they may be put into food and feed crops for home use. Mr. Sheffield again stresses the fact that food and feed crops are one of the great needs of North Carolina agriculture at this time, and for this reason a special concession was obtained in preparing the cotton contract so that this need might in part be filled.

County and community committees will give special attention to the land rented and the use to which this land is put, when they inspect the farm later for compliance with the terms of the contract, Mr. Sheffield said.

Growing Market For Home-Made Cheese

The increasing demand for North Carolina cheese is expected to send the production of cheese factories in this State to a new all time record this year, says F. R. Farnham, dairy extension specialist at State College.

North Carolina merchants have shown a decided preference for cheese manufactured within the State, he added. In one hour, while he was in a North Wilkesboro factory, eight rush orders came in by telephone and telegraph.

In view of the growing demand and the fact that local factories produced only 500,000 pounds of cheese in 1933 as compared with the 12,000,000 pounds that had to be purchased from other States, local farmers should find the market for their milk expanding rapidly.

Already the factories are producing around 25 per cent more cheese than they were at this time last year and the prices paid for milk have advanced sharply.

Indications are good, he said, that present prices will hold up fairly well, or possibly increase, and that the demand will continue strong.

MRS. SPILMAN OUT FOR STATE SENATE

Greenville, April 10.—Mrs. J. B. Spilman of Greenville recently announced her candidacy for nomination as Senator for Pitt County, and is making a vigorous campaign among the men and women of the county.

Mrs. Spilman has been vice-chairman of the county Democratic Executive committee for 6 years and has always been a loyal party worker. For many years she has been connected with East Carolina Teachers College serving as assistant treasurer. She is active in many other phases of civic and relief work, being chairman of the woman's division of the National Recovery Administration for Pitt county, and a member of the local Federal Re-Employment Commission.

Mrs. Spilman is one of the first women ever to offer for the State Senate in North Carolina from the East, and will undoubtedly poll a heavy vote in the primary of June 2.
