More than 3,000 contestants took part in the finals, who under the present system of grading were rated according to a new plan, which as stated by the bulletin of the contest, "makes it possible for one entry to outrank others by one or more ratings; on the other hand it allows judges to give equal ratings to those of practically equal excellence."

The young ladies of Farmville, taking part in the contest, are members of the High School Glee Club, whose director is Miss Virginia Case and accompanist Mrs. Haywood Smith.

ENTERTAIN AT TEA

One of the largest and loveliest social affairs of the spring season here, was the tea of Wednesday afternoon, at which Mrs. D. E. Oglesby, Mrs. S. A. Roebuck and Mrs. L. P. Thomas were hostesses, the Oglesby home on North Main street, being decorated throughout for the occasion with a profusion of spirea and tulips, with softly shaded lights also used.

The guests were greeted as they arrived by Mrs. D. E. Oglesby and Mrs. D. R. Morgan. In the reception room and directing the way into the dining room were Mrs. I. E. Satterfield and Mrs. J. Sterling Gates.

The table was lovely with a handsome fllet lace cover, spirea, tulips, roses and tall green candles making beautiful decorations. Serving cakes from the table were Mrs. Mercer Parrott, of Kinston, and Mrs. A. Q. Roebuck, assisted by Misses Geraldine Gardner, Doris Flowers, Edith and Catherine teal, who passed angel cake, fancy cookies and salted nuts.

Mrs. L. P. Thomas, Mrs. S. A. Roebuck, Mrs. P. E. Jones and Mrs. Judd Walker received in the hall and little Miss Ann Oglesby and Master Shelby Roebuck in formal evening attire bade the eighty guests a cheery goodbye. During the afternoon instrumental numbers were rendered by Mrs. J. W. Joyner.

Prior to the hour set for the tea, a short session of the Literary-Art department was held with Mrs. George W. Davis presiding, at which time an interesting paper on "The Tiger Man," prepared by Mrs. O. G. Spell, was read by Mrs. Henrietta M. Williamson and a musical program was rendered by Mrs. John D. Holmes with Mrs. J. Sterling Gates at the piano.

GARDEN CLUB

Miss Tabitha DeVisconti, entertained the Garden Club on Monday afternoon, her home on South Main street presenting an appropriate setting with its profusion of spring flowers, with purple iris and spirea predominating.

Echoes of the recent dogwood festival, attended by this organization in a body, were heard, and talks were made by the president, Mrs. T. E. Joyner, and Mrs. J. I. Morgan, who used as illustrations fifty different blooming plants and shrubs.

Arrangements were completed for the Plant Exchange, to be held in Miss DeVisconti's garden Tuesday afternoon, May 1, and plans for the annual spring flower show were considered at this time. Complimentary packages of zinnia seeds were distributed to the members by the president from a seed house.

Mrs. B. S. Sheppard and Mrs. Jack Smith assisted the hostess in serving blossom sandwiches, Russian tea and salted nuts.

Upon visiting the garden of the hostess, members were presented with sweet shrubs. Special guests included: Mrs. Nonie Barrett, Mrs. J. H. Darden, Miss Nannie Darden, Mrs. J. W. Holmes, Mrs. Neal Howard, Mrs. Mary Laughlin, and Mrs. Jack Smith.

AMERICAN LEGION AUXILIARY

The American Legion Auxiliary was delightfully entertained by Mrs. A. Q. Roebuck and Mrs. S. A. Roebuck, at the home of the latter on Thursday afternoon, with spirea, iris and tulips making a colorful setting for the meeting, which was well attended.

Mrs. Ernest Gaynor, chaplain, had charge of the opening exercises. Mrs. A. W. Bobbitt presided and appointed committees to arrange for the Area Conference to be held here soon. The Auxiliary voted to join in the State wide jelly making campaign sponsored by the A. L. A., and pledged itself to provide a hundred jars. The play, "Cicero Steps Out," to be sponsored by this group on May 18, was discussed and plan for its presentation were made at this time. A book was brought to the meeting as a donation to the City Library, from each member in observance of Library Week, and was stamped with the Legion Auxiliary seal.

The program for the afternoon, presented by Mrs. Ben-Weaver under the topic of "Child Welfare," consisted of a splendid article relative to the necessity for guarding the birthright of American children.

A delightful ice course was served after adjournment.

AN APPEAL TO CEME-

TERTY FLOWER ROBBERS

I am taking this method of appealing to the person—man, woman or child, who robbed my lot in Forest Hill Cemetery, either Saturday afternoon or Sunday morning, of tulips, that I had planted to make lovely the one spot on earth that is dearest to me, to please not do so again.

If you desire flowers, will you please try some other method of getting them? Any of us, and there quite a few who have been thus robbed, would be glad to give you flowers from our homes, but not from the graves of our loved ones.

MRS. J. W. HARDY.

MRS. HAROLD J. DUDLEY ADDRESSES T. P. A.

The Parent-Teacher Association held its final meeting of the year on Friday afternoon in Perkins Hall, with a hundred and eighteen members and visitors in attendance.

Invocation was pronounced by Rev. H. M. Wilson, Presbyterian minister. Mrs. J. M. Hobgood presided and gave a resume of accomplishments of the Association during the year, noting the constructive programs based on "Building For Citizenship," and which have been developed in various ways; by speakers, playlets and musical selections. The main objective, the redecoration of the auditorium and new equipment for the stage, has been successful, with $750 raised and expended in this way. Outstanding among the activities has been the effort made by the teachers, through the Association, to secure books for school children unable to obtain them.

Plans were made at this time for a Summer Round-Up, which includes examination of children of pre-school age.

The annual election of officers resulted in the reelection of present incumbents, with one exception: Mrs. J. M. Hobgood, president; Mrs. Mary Moye Patterson, 1st vice president, to take the place of Mrs. G. A. Jones, resigned; Mrs. Wesley R. Willis, 2nd vice president; Mrs. Robbie Smith, secretary; Mrs. I. E. Satterfield, treasurer.

The room attendance prize for the month, was won by grade 7-A, Miss Susie Copeland, teacher, and grade 3-A, Miss Margaret Lewis, teacher, was awarded the attendance prize for the afternoon, which gives the latter grade a straight record for the year with the exception of one month.

A report of the recent Parent-Teacher Congress, held in Durham, was given by the Association's delegate, Miss Annie Perkins.

Featuring the program for the afternoon was a splendid address by Mrs. Harold J. Dudley, of Kinston, on the subject of "The Religious Life of Our Boys and Girls."

FUNERAL PERCY BALDREE

Funeral services were held at Bethany Free Will Baptist church by Elder Jack Tyson, on Tuesday afternoon at 3:00 o'clock, for Percy R. Baldree, eleven year old son of Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Baldree, who live near Farmville, on the farm of T. C. Turnage, and interment took place in the churchyard.

Death resulted from an attack of meningitis and pneumonia of a week's duration.

An attractive lad and of unusually friendly disposition, he will be sorely missed in his home and by his schoolmates here.

Little Geraldine Baldree, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Baldree, is still confined to her bed, suffering from an accident of several weeks ago, in which both legs and an arm were broken.

Optimism Wins

This is the note among skilled observers who have been watching business conditions in America for several months past. It is the note that business men should carry into their daily contacts.

Improvements are reported in all of the leading trade indicators. The unfounded hysterical condition which has prevailed, is showing signs of subsiding.

Business on a sound foundation—business backed with skill, with vision and with courage—can look to a "silver lining" in the future.
