President Signs Bill To Control Leaf Production

AAA Immediately An- Citizens Enjoy nounces Readiness To Put Act In Operation; Fixing of Quotas Is Subject To Delay

Washington, June 28 .- The Kerr tobacco control bill was signed today by President Roosevelt and the tobacco section of the Agricultural Adjustment Administration immediately announced its readiness to put the act into operation.

The Kerr bill, which was subjected to one delay after another from the time of its introduction on March 1 until its final passage by Mayor Lewis, which comprise a by Congress on June 18, the last report of proceeds of the twenty-one day of the session, suffered still days since the opening on Wednesanother delay in securing approval day, June 6: by the President.

Quotas similar to those announced recently for the Bankhead cotton act will have to be put into effect, but before these quotas can be determined definitely it will necessary for the department to how many additional contracts will be signed under the provision of the act which permits all farmers who sign the contract campaign.

Important Feature. one of the several important points at which it differs from the Bankhead cotton bill, under which growers who had not signed contracts but were permitted quotas.

Another important difference that the Bankhead bill specifies a total crop of 10,000,000 bales as the tax exempt maximum while the Kerr bill leaves the total undetermined, the total to be the aggregate of all the contracts with the Secreary of Agriculture, plus six per cent, that addition in each county to go to supplementing quotas in meritorious cases. It further provides that not less than two-thirds of the six per cent is to be allotted to those who would ordinarily receive allotment quotas of 1,500 pounds or less.

Another important point of difference is the tax, which is 50 per cent under the Bankhead bill and not less than 25, nor more than 33 1/3 per cent under the Kerr bill. Limited to Two Years.

Acts to Enforce Cotton Program

However, Revenue Bureau Believes Cooperation Will Make Task

Washington, June 27 .- The Internal Revenue Bureau, laying plans for enforcement of the Bankhead act to reduce cotton production, is preparing to select between 150 and 200 special investigators to supplement its regular tax collection force.

This was disclosed today by a bureau official, who said it was believed a larger addition would not be necessary, despite the fact close supervision is going to be undertaken over at least 15 cotton producing states, because of the cooperation expected from ginners and
