Explains the Warehouse Code; The Association Prospects Good Passes Stringent Rule Against Employing Trucks; Agrees to Support Mr. Lanier in The Carrying Out Of The Rules of The Code

Wilson, July 25.-The warerouse men of Eastern North Carolina met in the auditorium of the Charles L. Coon High School this morning and heard Mr. J. C. Lanier, National Administrator of the Warehouse Code of Amercia explain the code, and the warehousemen agreed to support it and abide by it and work with him for its observance.

There were more than 250 warehousemen present, and a most interesting meeting was held. Mr. Fenner mentioned a number of abuses obtaining on other markets of the world. For instance in Kentucky he noted that a small farmer had little chance to sell his tobacco unless there was plenty of room on the warehouse floors, when the big farmer was given precedence over They also put two farmers' were crowded, and the average of the sale of the tobacco, regradless of the

Gambler Hid Dillinger Agents Say

Reported To Have Provided Shelter and Medical Care When Wounded

Chicago, July 25 .- A "master mind" charted the murderous course of John Dillinger and took a large part of the loot seized in the outlaw's reign, it was disclosed today. The brains behind Dillinger was identified only as "Fish" Johnson, a Chicago gambler. At one time, Federal men said, Johnson collected $53,000 in bonds from Dillinger. The "master mind" provided Dillinger with information, arranged hideouts for him and served as a "fence" to dispose of the gang's booty. Once, it was reported, when Dillinger was laid up for 12 days with gunshot wounds the gambler provided him with a hideout and medical attention.

In the room of Mrs. Anna Sage, John Dillinger's "woman in Red," police said today, they found a mysterious locked wooden chest, which they believed might have been Dillinger's, and may contain some of the $750,000 in bank robbery loot the gang amassed. Keys found on the desporado's body will be tried on the learned today more about how John Dillinger walked into the trap that ended with death his career of crime. The "girl in red," one of two women who were with the Indiana outlaw just before he was killed by Federal bullets, was Mrs. Anna Sage, fortytwo, brown-haired and brown-eyed. Police arrested her last night at her home, just around the corner from the Biograph Theatre, out of which Dillinger walked unsuspectingly Sun-

Weed Sales Without Tax

Tobacco Growers Of This State Allotted Amounts Under Kerr

Under allotments by the Keer-Smith tobacco control act, North Carolina growers can market 356.173.853 pounds of the weed this year without tax, E. Y. Floyd, extension specialist at N. C. State College, has recently

The Kerr-Smith act imposes a tax of 25 per cent of the market value of sales in excess of the allotted amount. However, under the act, growers who signed contracts will be permitted to sell tax free the amount of tobacco they grow under government contract.

The amount allotted by contract, Floyd said, was considered 94 per cent of the Kerr-Smith allotment-The additional six per cent was provided for distribution among nonsigners and signers whose production is less than 1,500 pounds per year. Under the act, the following pound-
