

State Firemen Name Officers

Last Year's Slate Re-elected; Reel - Truck Races A Feature

Charlotte, Aug. 15.—The North Carolina Firemen's Association closed the business sessions of its 47th annual convention here today by re-electing all officers and adopting a number of resolutions.

Action on selection of the 1935 convention city was left to the executive committee. Abid for next year's meeting was put in by Hamlet, scene of the 1932 meeting.

The officers re-elected are Hendrix Palmer, Charlotte, president; Dr. W. S. Long, Graham, vice-president; John L. Miller, Concord, secretary; A. B. Horney, High Point, treasurer; Charles C. Harris, Rocky Mount, statistician; J. C. Kesler, Salisbury, and Sherwood Brockwell, Raleigh, advisory.

Following the closing business session, a parade was held this afternoon and a dance tonight. Tomorrow the reel and truck races, always a feature of the convention will be held.

Resolutions adopted included one praising and supporting governor Ehringhaus who addressed the convention last night. It was introduced by R. A. Joyner, of Farmville.

A committee to arrange for placing a portrait of the late James D. McNeill, of Fayetteville, founder of the association and its president for 26 years, in the Hall of Fame at Raleigh was authorized.

The president was also instructed to appoint a committee to investigate the possibility of enactment of a law limiting the services of firemen to 12 hours each day.

A memorial service for the 17 members of the association who died during the last year was held. Dr. D. Luther Little, pastor of the First Baptist church here, made the memorial address.

Replies To Critics.
Governor Ehringhaus replied in vigorous tones last night to what he termed "pea-shooting petty critics," and told the convention that "North Carolina is now one of the most economically governed states in the entire nation. His address was the highlight of the first day of the association's annual convention. The governor had flown here from Wilmington. He was the first chief executive to address the firemen since the days of Bob Glenn and was elected an honorary member of the association.

Referring to critics of the administration, he said, "I am willing to share responsibility with the Legislature for the record of last year. Time will prove that the last Legislature rendered as signal and patriotic service as was ever rendered by any patriotic group of men and women."

He cited reduced land valuation for taxation; a one-third reduction in the cost of government; reduction of the State debt; restoration of the State's credit, and "cash" basis operation.

Push Canning Work in Pitt

Relief Canneries Put Aside 12,000 Cans of Food for Winter Consumption

Greenville, Aug. 16.—Approximately 12,000 cans of foodstuffs for relief work during the approaching winter have been placed on shelves in Pitt County, it was made known today from the Welfare Department, in charge of the canning operations throughout the county.

With plants operating full time, it was expected the total would be greatly increased by the end of the canning operations in September, it was stated.

Canning work is being carried on at plants in Greenville and Farmville and community groups in several hundred individual canners contributing their part toward holding the bad, bad wolf away from their doors during the winter.

Figures provided by the department today, including operations up to last Thursday, showed 5,957 cans at Greenville and Farmville plants, 4,697 among community groups and 1,260 among individual canners.

Canning is being conducted through funds provided by the government for emergency relief, and is expected to play an important part in providing for the destitute and needy during the year.

The plants in Greenville and Farmville have been in operation about two months now, and hundreds of people were said to have taken advantage of the opportunity to place their surplus foodstuffs away for future consumption.

Operations are probably the most extensive in the history of the county and compare favorably with similar relief activities being conducted in other parts of the country in an effort to more completely meet relief demands.

Weed Prices Bring Joy

Average At Lumberton Jumps To $26.06 Per Hundred Pounds

Lumberton, Aug. 16.—Farmers waded their sales slips in glee today as tobacco once more proved itself the golden weed in more than name only and vastly augmented streams of cash flowed through South Carolina and North Carolina border belt markets.

Tobacco warehouse areas in Lumberton took on a festival-like air as official averages jumped to $26.06 a hundred pounds with 202,000 pounds sold.

The jubilation was heightened by the fact that improvements in prices for the poorer grades, rather than increased offerings for better grades, appeared responsible throughout the belt for increased acreages.

Dillon sold 50,000 pounds yesterday for an official average of $12.90.

At Lake City estimates placed sales at approximately half a million pounds for an average of $24 a hundred, and at Darlington 50,000 was sold for $21.62 a hundred.

The Walstonburg M. E. Church, South, Walstonburg, N. C.

Within a few days the Walstonburg Methodist Church will open its doors to the people of the community, ready and eager first of all to serve the entire community. Only a few months ago a group consisting of about fifteen persons, anxious to lend their support and even sacrifice if necessary, met and expressed their desire to build a Methodist Church in Walstonburg. These people felt that another church was needed in the community to help extend the Kingdom of God among themselves and others. They realized that spiritual growth is as important, if not more so, as other forms of growth. Certainly it was a great undertaking and this group and others who have sympathized and contributed so liberally shall receive a great ovation for their splendid spirit of sacrifice which has existed throughout the entire building program.

There has existed no selfish purpose or motive in the construction of this church building, but the chief purpose has been that of building for the future, expecting that this church might first serve the people in and around Walstonburg in a spirit of brotherly love and good will to all concerned. Everyone will be welcomed to come and worship within this beautiful structure erected and dedicated to the cause of Christ.

This is the first Methodist Church to be erected in Walstonburg and the prospects for a successful present and indeed a great future are encouraging. It is an achievement which the local membership should be proud of, and certainly the entire community should be proud of such an achievement and be willing to cooperate in helping to make this pioneering undertaking indeed a great success.

This church building is a beautiful brick structure, consisting of the main auditorium and five church school rooms. The auditorium will seat approximately two hundred comfortably. The cost of erecting this building has been about $6,000, all of this amount has been raised with the exception of about $1500. It is hoped and expected that this amount can be raised sometime in the near future in order that the church can be dedicated in the early fall. Any contribution, large or small, will be greatly appreciated and graciously received. The church is indebted to those who have so liberally contributed of their means for the erection of this building. The lot on which the church has been built is the gracious gift of Mrs. Sarah F. Walston and son, J. Frank Walston. This was a valuable piece of property, the donation certainly is greatly appreciated by all. The Duke Endowment Fund also played a great part in the erection of this building by contributing an appreciable sum. The church will be well equipped and furnished. The heating system has been installed by the Holland Furnace Company.

The Rev. H. L. Hendricks, Pastor of the Methodist Church in Farmville, has willingly and untiringly given his time and service to the supervision of this building program, and he is also pastor of this new church. The building committee, which consist of Mr. R. D. S. Dixon, Chairman, Mr. C. T. Hicks, Secretary and Treasurer, Mr. Carl McKeel, Mr. W. V. Redick and Mrs. Ed S. Taylor have rendered effective and consecrated service and willingly and courageously labored in order that the church building could be completed as soon as possible. The Woman's Missionary Society also did some excellent work in raising money and materials for the building.

We invite you to come and visit our new church which we are extremely proud of, and also thankful for. Drive over to Walstonburg and see what you may have helped to build.—G. S. Eubank, Assistant Pastor.

Cotton growers wishing allotments under the Bankhead act have only a few more days left to make their applications. The applications should be filed with the county agent.
