Delicious refreshments were served by the hostess after adjournment.

MERRY MATRONS ENJOY TRAVELS ACCOUNT

Relating many interesting personal experiences, along with an account of her recent visit to Europe, the travel talk by Miss Janie Davis was a charming feature of the program of the Merry Matrons at its initial fall meeting on Tuesday, when Mrs. R. A. Fields was hostess to the club members and a number of additional guests, at her home on Church Street. Fall flowers in harmonizing shades, were effectively used in the music room, where the meeting was held.

During a business session, the president, Mrs. J. W. Lovelace, made a short talk, relating to the new program and setting forth the objectives of the club along literary lines for the ensuing year.

At the conclusion of the program a delectable salad course was served by Mrs. W. Leslie Smith, Mrs. B. O. Turnage and Misses Elizabeth Fields and Mae Joyner.

WILL REBUILD WALSTONBURG CHRISTIAN CHURCH

A little more than a year ago now, the membership of the Christian church at Walstonburg had the misfortune to lose their home of worship. They have recently been worshipping in an old store, waiting for the time to arrive when they could rebuild. The time has now come. They plan to build this fall a modest house of worship. It will be brick-vanosed. An auditorium for worship and four Sunday School rooms on the rear.

The timber is on the lot, the brick and sand ordered. These should be on the lot soon. Then actual construction will begin.

We are making this announcement that all may know we are now ready for their help in this work. We appeal to all our friends to aid us what they can in this worthy "work of the Lord." The membership will stay by faithfully until it is completed, and will appreciate any and all help given.

Thanking you for all past favors,
I am,
C. B. MASHBURN, Pastor.

Answers Timely Farm Questions At State College

QUESTION: How should land be inoculated for growing alfalfa?

ANSWER: A good crop of sweet clover, Burr clover or Black medic grown within the past three to five years is sufficient inoculation for most soils. Where these crops have not been grown, soil from a field that has been planted to them may be used. From 200 to 400 pounds of this soil should be applied to each acre of land seeded to alfalfa. Dampen the seed with a mixture of equal parts of water and molasses and sift on a small quantity of the soil from the inoculated field. Stir the seed until they are well coated with the soil. Commercial inoculating materials may also be used if inoculated soil is not available.

QUESTION: When should developing pullets be taken off the developing mash and placed on laying mash?

ANSWER: Is is best to let the birds come up to about 25 percent production before the change is made in the mash. The laying mash stimulates egg production which may cause the immature birds to stop growing and it is better to have a flock with high vitality than to have a high egg production at the expense of body vigor. Be sure the birds are fully developed and producing about 25 percent before making the change.

QUESTION: How may cow peas be stored to protect them from weevils?

ANSWER: Thresh the peas as soon as harvested and then mix them thoroughly with air-slacked lime at the rate of one pound of lime to one bushel of peas. After the peas are mixed they should be stored in closely woven sacks to prevent other weevils from getting in from the outside. If the peas are stored in a bin a layer of lime about one inch thick should be spread evenly over the top. Where large quantities of peas are stored the peas and lime may be mixed with a shovel but at least ten pounds of lime should be used to the bushel of peas.

HOSTESS TO BRIDGE CLUB

Mrs. Robert Lee Smith entertained her card club on Friday afternoon, at her home on George street, which had been made most attractive with fall flowers. Bridge was played at two tables with the high score award, a lovely teapot, being won by Miss Elizabeth Fields. Guests invited for refreshments were: Mrs. C. T. Dixon, Mrs. A. W. Bobbitt, Mrs. Ben Vernon and Mrs. Z. M. Whitehurst. Miss M. Kilpatrick, of Portsmouth, Va., sister of the hostess, was also a guest at this time.

Getting a better view of this farming business

IN the role of fellow worker with many of the farmers of this territory, this bank oftentimes is able to bring a different viewpoint to the consideration of financial and marketing questions.

Such contacts, coupled with the other activities and associations of today's farmers, are of value in giving owners and managers the best view of the business they follow.

And the broad, complete service and ample facilities of this bank are a valuable complement to the farmer's own efforts.
