MAGAZINE CONTEST

The Student Council of Farmville High School is putting on a contest to see which is the better salesman—a boy or girl. Girls and boys are working against each other. This contest consists of selling subscriptions to the following magazines: "The American," "Woman's Home Companion," "Colliers."

The purpose of the contest is to help our school library by adding a new encyclopedia. David Harris is "The Great Leader." The state managers are: for the girls, Nellie E. Nichols, for the boys, Pete Eason. The one selling the most magazines and the one that gets the most votes is elected governor.

Each member that sells a certain number of subscriptions shall be awarded a nice prize, according to the number sold. The students are cooperating and trying through this contest to make enough money to secure for our library the so-hard-worked-for encyclopedia. We hope to close this contest soon and then have our set of books, "The Americana," one of the greatest encyclopedias of the world.

—Nellie E. Nichols.

WILLIAMSON-WEAVER

The following announcement will be read with much interest throughout the entire State of the marriage of Miss Della Morton Williamson of Wilson, N. C. to Mr. Frederic Weaver of Pinetops, N. C. The marriage ceremony was performed November 26, at Washington, D. C. Mrs. Weaver before marriage was Miss Della Marton, youngest daughter of Edward H. Marton, of Onslow county, N. C. Mr. Weaver is the youngest son of the late B. F. Weaver of near Pinetops, N. C. Mr. and Mrs. Weaver spent the Thanksgiving holidays with Mrs. Weaver's sister, Mrs. Harry L. Bell, Church street, Wilson, N. C. They will make their home on West Nash street, Wilson, N. C.

OBSERVED BY GREENE COUNTY FARMER

A portion of the meteor, weighing 12 1/2 pounds, that fell in this section Tuesday, was exhibited here Wednesday, by Robert Wainwright, who lives within 50 yards of the field, where the meteorite struck and buried itself 26 1/2 inches, on the Tom Dixon farm in Greene county, about five miles from Farmville.

Mr. Wainwright stated that he heard the explosion, and seeing the dust rising in the field investigated and dug up the meteorite, which is dark grey in color and resembles a lump of burnt iron more than anything else.

MISS SERENE TURNAGE HONORED BY STUDENTS

The many friends of Miss Serene Turnage were delighted to see her picture in Sunday's News and Observer, and to learn that she is not only considered as a talented young musician at Flora MacDonald, where she entered as a freshman this fall, but was voted recently by the students as the most beautiful young woman there in the superlatives for the annual.

Miss Turnage, who is the only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. T. C. Turnage, appeared on the program of the student recital held at the college on Monday evening of this week, playing a Hungarian Suite.

CONTRACT CLUB

Mrs. Claude Barrett was gracious hostess to the Contract Club on Tuesday afternoon, entertaining the members making up four tables, and a number of other friends.

In the compilation of scores, Mrs. R. H. Knott was adjudged the winner, and was presented with a set of sandwich cutters in the card motifs. A delicious salad course was served at the end of the games.

LITERARY CLUB HAS PROGRAM OF SONG AND DANCE

A talk, relative to "Folk Music appreciation," by Mrs. J. W. Joyner, a paper on "Coeli Sharp and His Contribution to Music" by Mrs. G. S. Vought, and English, Spanish and Russian folk dances, by pupils of Miss Mary K. Jerome, with piano accompaniment by Miss Becky Wheeler, added a delightful variety to the Wednesday afternoon program of the Literary Club, which had, during the fall months, been based on Citizenship, Home Plans and Literature.

The meeting, held at the home of Mrs. J. H. Harris, was presided over by the president, Miss Annie Perkins, who as chairman also of the Tuberculosis Christmas Seal sale for this township, discussed the county wide plan, and recounted the benefits being derived from the annual seal sale. Mrs. J. I. Morgan, in this connection, gave a sketch of the founder of the first tuberculosis sanatorium, Edward Livingstone Trudeau. Several members volunteered their services in the sale, and each of the twenty members bought one hundred at this time.

At the conclusion of the program, the hostess, assisted by Miss Sarah Smith, served a delicious salad course, the plate decorations effectively carrying the suggestion of the approaching Christmas season.

In addition to the club members Mrs. Harris had as guests, Mrs. W. J. Rasberry, Mrs. C. L. Beaman, Mrs. Mary M. Patterson, Mrs. Henrietta Williamson, Mrs. M. V. Horton and Mrs. Loyd and Mrs. B. S. Smith.
